Nikita Leads Angry Heckling

'Let's Be Calm' Mac Advises UN

Show Reason On Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Prime Minister Macmillan urged the United Nations today to make a calm, reasoned approach to disarmament.

His speech was interrupted by angry heckling from Premier Khrushchev and the Communist bloc.

At one point the Soviet premier leaped to his feet, scowling, and shouted in Russian at the British leader as Macmillan was presenting a major statement of Western objectives.

"I would like to have a translation of those words."

It was learned later that Khrushchev said: "We are always in favor of controls for a disarmament program." Macmillan had described his plan as "not in any sense a proposal to institute control without disarmament"—a frequent Soviet objection to Western schemes for reducing arms.

When Macmillan raised a point about the breakup of the Paris summit conference last May, Khrushchev wiggled a finger at him and shouted in Russian:

Biggest Ovation to Date

Macmillan received the biggest ovation so far in this historic 15th assembly session. Khrushchev and the Soviet bloc sat glumly and silently throughout the stormy applause. Then the Soviet premier strode out of the assembly hall.

Khrushchev and Macmillan were to meet later today in a private conference.

It was the first time the head of any delegation—let alone the head of a government—ever had risen to his feet in the General Assembly during a fellow leader's address to heckle or protest. Assembly delegates seemed shocked.

Stalking out of the hall after the Macmillan address, Khrushchev brusquely brushed reporters aside, snapping: "I will give my comment when the time comes."

MacMillan was presenting a three-stage program designed to prepare the way for gradual political action toward resumed arms negotiation and agreement.

The British leader also raised the suggestion that the world's people hoped the break at Paris would be just temporary and there might be another try at a summit meeting of the heads of state.

The prime minister said Britain "will gladly allow" any form of inspection and control that is acceptable to the Soviet Union.

Macmillan praised UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's "energy and resourcefulness and, above all, his integrity" and said the Soviet bloc's proposals to replace the secretary-general by a three-man committee would be unacceptable to most members.

He won an ovation from the delegates, including Prime Minister Diefenbaker, with his defence of Hammarskjold, who is under Soviet attack.

Communists Thump Desks

The Communist bloc greeted this in the same way it had responded previously to a Hammarskjold speech—thumping their desks in a gesture of protest. Khrushchev joined lustily in the table pounding.

Macmillan asked the assembly to set up a board of technical experts—scientific, military and administrative — to prepare a report within a reasonably brief period to provide the basis for a calm approach to the arms problem.

"This practical procedure is not in any sense a proposal to institute control without disarmament," Macmillan said, hitting at Khrushchev's principal objections to Western approaches to the arms problem.

"No country would be committed to implementing any of the measures which the technical experts might suggest in the various fields until there was subsequent agreement about the disarmament measures related to the system of control. Of course, if confidence is to be maintained it is obvious that control must be concurrent with disarmament and that it must be effective."

Cover Three Major Points

Macmillan's proposal on armaments contained three major points for getting negotiations started. The first stage would be the appointment of the board of experts.

This board would handle specific aspects of the arms problem.

First is the problem of preventing "extension of armaments, of preventing the situation from becoming worse." He referred specifically to the use of space for military purposes and the need to halt manufacture of nuclear materials for military purposes.

Second, he said, is the problem of guarding against surprise attack.

"This is what all governments are afraid of," he said. "It would be an immense relief if people all over the world, including the admirals and the generals, could sleep more soundly in their beds."

Third, he said, is the task of gradually "reducing to a minimum all forms of armaments." He said this problem is complicated but technical experts should be able to tell what measures of inspection and control would be effective for all countries.

K Shows No Sign Of Leaving

Meets Macmillan In 'Little Summit'

NEW YORK (CP) — Nikita Khrushchev meets today with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan amid signs he intends to stay on another week as leader of the Soviet delegation at the United Nations.

His talk with Macmillan marks the first summit level East-West discussions since mid-May when the Paris summit parley blew up in an angry dispute over the U-2 plane incident.

Macmillan is reported ready to concentrate on the West's disarmament deadlock with Russia. But there appears to be scant hope he can budge Khrushchev into renewing negotiations on this without new Western concessions.

STILL TALKING

In between trips to the UN to lead the Soviet delegation, Khrushchev has conferred privately with 10 neutral-minded foreign leaders, zipped through half-a-dozen night-time receptions and kept up a steady drum-fire of comment to reporters.

All the time, Khrushchev has tried to keep everyone guessing about how long he will stay in New York.

THROWING BIG PARTY

There was a report today that he intends to throw a big reception next Tuesday at the Soviet UN headquarters on Park Avenue.

Some 300 guests are reported to be on the invitation list, including all the 20-odd heads of government who will be in town then.

Soviet informants, who initially whispered that Khrushchev would stay 10 days to two weeks, now are offering a "guess" he may stick around for three weeks.

Nikita Woos Ghana Leader

Nkrumah said afterwards they discussed the Congo, disarmament and colonialism. These have been Khrushchev's favorite themes in his round of talks with foreign leaders he hopes to win over in support of his policy.

Nkrumah made clear in talking to reporters, as Khrushchev stood beside him, that no sweeping decisions were reached.

"It is so difficult to come to conclusions yet," he said.

Dief Back at UN

Elson Gets New Post

NEW YORK (CP) — Robert T. Elson, general manager of Life Magazine, has been appointed chief of the London news bureau of Time Incorporated, which published Time magazine and Life. He assumes his new post in December.

ACUTE NERVOUS DEPRESSION

Brigitte Recovering From Suicide Attempt

BRIGITTE BARDOT
... with son

The St. Francis Neurological Clinic in Nice said she slashed her wrists with a razor blade and took an overdose of sleeping tablets. It described her condition as "rather alarming" when she was brought in.

"Now she is much better and I think should make a fairly rapid recovery," said the clinic director, Dr. Jacques Namin. "But she is suffering from a very acute nervous depression and we have had to isolate her completely."

The sexy blonde French movie queen has been reported having serious marital difficulties with her husband, actor Jacques Charrier.

He has been on a separate hunting vacation in southwest France and left there this morning, presumably to hurry to Brigitte's bedside.

Brigitte and Charrier were married last year. They have one son, Nicholas, now eight months old.

Two days ago Brigitte was reported to have told friends she had definitely decided to divorce Charrier.

Charrier said: "I believe she still loves me."

MARTIN BORMANN

Ex-Nazi Criminal Suspect Grilled

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — A one-armed man suspected of being Martin Bormann, Hitler's long-missing deputy, was being questioned by Argentine police here today. The suspect gave the name of Walter Fiegel.

Interior Minister Alfredo Vitolo told a TV audience Wednesday night that the suspect obviously was a German and had most of the missing Nazi's physical characteristics.

There were two big differences. The captured man appeared to be about 48 years old, whereas Bormann would be 60. The Martin Bormann of Hitler's day had both arms, while the man held here has had an arm amputated.

Bormann has been one of the most sought of the Nazi hierarchy. During the Nuernberg trials in 1946, Hitler's chauffeur, Rich Kempka, testified that he fled with Bormann from the bunker where Hitler died.

Kempka said a bazooka hit a tank they were walking beside and before he fell unconscious he saw Bormann collapse in the flames.

Bormann was chief of Hitler's chancellery and was directly linked with the operation of the concentration camps.

Bormann was tried in abstentia as a major war criminal in 1946 and sentenced to be hanged.

A spokesman of the West German Embassy here said he doubted the suspect was Bormann.

RAIL UNIONS SET U.K. STRIKE FOR OCT. 17

LONDON (Reuters)—Union leaders today called for a nation-wide railroad strike Oct. 17 following rejection of a pay demand.

About 450,000 men on the state-run lines are involved.

The strike call to all affiliated unions was by leaders of the National Union of Railwaymen and the Railway Shopmen's Council of the Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions.

The British Transport Commission refused Wednesday to go beyond its offer of a three per cent increase for 110,000 workers in railroad workshops, backdated to January. The unions asked for another two per cent for the workshops' 50,000 skilled workers.

U.S. Advises Citizens To Quit Cuba

NEW YORK (UPI) — The United States has started advising its nationals to leave Cuba, it was reported today.

Teams from the U.S. embassy in Havana have visited American residents privately to counsel them to ship their dependents out immediately, and to leave themselves unless vital business requires them to stay.

The advisory would apply to an estimated 2,000 American civilians living in Greater Havana.

However, it was not known whether it applied to the six thousand American families living on the great U.S. naval base at Guantanamo, in eastern Oriente Province.

The embassy advice was understood to be based on the rapidly deteriorating diplomatic and internal political situation in Cuba.

The Cuban government has expelled four embassy attaches in as many weeks and arrested and harassed at least three others, ignoring their diplomatic status.

Repeated U.S. protests have either been ignored or received and filed by minor Cuban diplomatic functionaries without reply.

Mobutu Wins Recognition

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — President Joseph Kasavubu today formally recognized Col. Joseph Mobutu's council of government commissioners as the provisional government.

Kasavubu officially installed the group of 27 college-graduate technicians set up by Mobutu, the army chief of staff, after his bloodless coup d'etat two weeks ago against the infant African republic's warring politicians.

Hearing Postponed

QUEBEC (CP)—Hearing of a $5,200,000 suit against the United Steelworkers of America (CLC) today was postponed 24 hours after a lawyer representing Gaspe Copper Mines Limited took ill.

Power Agreement Means 'Delay or Death' to Peace

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ray Perrault, British Columbia Liberal leader, forecast today that United States-Canada agreement on development of the Columbia River will mean either "delay or death" for the proposed private development of the Peace River.

He said the domestic power market isn't big enough to take huge amounts of electricity from both projects. Low-cost power from the publicly-developed Columbia would take precedence and the Peace River Power Development Company would have to export to survive.

"But there doesn't seem to be any indication from Ottawa that the federal government has changed its traditional opposition to power exports," he said.

NEED BOTH SCHEMES

An official connected with the Peace development didn't agree.

"We have consistently advocated that both the Columbia River and Peace River power would be required to meet the demand for electrical energy in B.C. and the Pacific Northwest during the next 20 to 25 years," said W. C. Mainwaring, president of Peace River Power.

Meanwhile community leaders in the Arrow Lake Valley in southeastern B.C. said they will continue to fight construction of a proposed dam at Castlegar on High Arrow Lake, a section of the Columbia.

This dam and another at Mica Creek are reported to have top priority when hydro-electric development of the river on the Canadian side begins.

"The High Arrow dam will result in flooding the Arrow Lake Valley and destroy all our arable land," said Mayor Walter Hardman of Revelstoke. "We can't grow anything on mountains."

Cold War Explodes At 50-Nation Parley

TOKYO (AP) — The Inter-Parliamentary Union opened its 49th annual conference here today and immediately erupted into cold war.

Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako inaugurated the nine-day session of legislators from 50 nations, including a six-man delegation from Canada.

President Eisenhower sent routine greetings but the Soviet message was an attack on the United States.

Eisenhower said "better understanding is essential if the nations of the world are to live in peace and freedom." He said the United States fully backs the IPU because it believes in "a free and democratic nation where human values are held in highest regard."

A message from Premier Khrushchev charged that the U.S. government, by sending atomic and hydrogen bombers through the world's air space, creates an appalling danger for everyone.

Soviet delegate Justas Paleckis, who read the message, added that the American bases overseas are "nothing but bleeding wounds on earth which may cause war."

Missile Falls Short

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) —An air force attempt to fire a Titan missile 10,000 miles fell far short of its goal today when the second stage engines shut down too soon. The air force said the missile's dummy warhead flew more than 6,000 statute miles down the Atlantic missile range but landed far off target.

Gov't Troops Recapture Laos Town

VIENTIANE (Reuters) — Laotian government troops, backed by pro-Communist guerrillas, have recaptured the Northern Laotian town of Sam Neua from right-wing rebels opposed to the new neutralist government of this strategic Indochinese kingdom.

The capture of the town came as army leaders met in the royal capital of Luang Prabang for talks aimed at ending the three-cornered civil war in Laos.

EQUALITY OF RIGHTS, BUT ...

Pants Still Belong to Dad

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The equal rights of women don't include the right to wear the pants in the family, the Vatican City magazine, Osservatore Della Domenica, said today.

"Equality of rights" does not mean "equality of functions," the magazine answered a reader who said feminine equality violated the Bible teaching that "the head of every man is Christ, and the head of the woman is the man."

"This teaching does not all rule out the just affirmation of moral, juridical and spiritual equality between the woman and the man," the magazine said.

"(But) it certainly opposes matriarchy, which appears to be trying to slip itself insensibly into the customs of some circles.

"Generally, when husband and wife are in agreement," it said, "it is possible to ignore the question of who has the right to be the head of the family.

"But when this is not so ... The Christian spirit tells us that the responsibility and authority of a family head rest with the man."

BEST BET—KEATS ISLAND

Ex-Superintendent Of Royal Jubilee Dies

Funeral will be held in Vancouver Saturday for Dr. Edward Mountjoy Pearse, 87, former medical superintendent of Royal Jubilee Hospital here and former medical officer in charge of Rest Haven military convalescent hospital at Sidney after the First World War.

He died Tuesday in Shaughnessy Military Hospital.

Born in England, he received his medical degree from Bristol University and served as a surgeon in South Africa during the Boer War, moving to Victoria in 1912.

Dr. Pearse again went overseas as a war-time surgeon after a brief period of general practice. On his return, he was appointed medical officer in charge of Rest Haven until it closed in 1919.

RE-ESTABLISHMENT

He became unit medical director in charge of hospitals on Vancouver Island under the soldiers civil re-establishment, now the Veterans' Affairs Department. Three years later he was appointed medical superintendent at Royal Jubilee, a post he held for 12 years until his retirement.

Touring the Orient and Mediterranean with his wife, Edith, he was in Britain at the outbreak of the Second World War. Dr. Pearse took charge of a wing at St. Martin's Hospital in Bath and stayed in England until 1952.

He had lived with a daughter, Mrs. Herbert W. Riggs, since then. The widow, Edith, and a son, Allan, of Toronto, also survive.

Labor Staff Earns Praise Of Minister

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks—still in office after his election defeat — appeared Wednesday night in Victoria to chair a banquet for national labor officials.

Mr. Wicks did not attend opening sessions of the conference of the Canadian Association of Administrators of Labor Legislation.

Welcoming speech was given instead by Provincial Secretary Wesley Black.

Premier Bennett has not yet appointed Mr. Wicks' successor.

However, until he resigns, the defeated Dewdney MLA is still minister.

Mr. Wicks in addressing the banquet, paid tribute to "the fine staff which has been so much help to me" during his term of office.

Dentistry Budget Plan Possibility

A "drill now, pay later" dental budgeting plan expected in Vancouver probably will be extended to Victoria.

Dr. R. L. Horne, president of Victoria Dental Society, said considerable study of the budget plan has been given under chairmanship of Dr. T. W. James "and it's possible here if a non-profit organization is set up to administer it."

Most of the 350 dentists in the Vancouver area are expected to join a pilot scheme that has been operating there for 18 months with 50 dentists participating.

Under the plan, a prospective patient's credit rating is checked out by a bank. If satisfactory, the bank pays the dentist's bill and the patient repays the bank on an installment basis with the normal bank interest.

Dr. Sheppard Margolese, chairman of the Vancouver budget-plan committee, said the scheme is designed to offer patients high-class dental care on a finacial basis they can handle. He said many put off needed dental work because they are unable to make a lump-sum payment of bills which can reach $200.

BLOWING OUT 100 CANDLES on his birthday cake was quite a job for Peter Peterson of Fairview, Utah, and he "allowed" he didn't think he would live another 100 years. Giving moral support was his wife, who will be 100 next month. They have been married 81 years. (AP Wirephoto)

Trade Surplus For Second Month In Row

OTTAWA (CP) — Surging commodity exports produced an $11,100,000 trade surplus for Canada in August—the second monthly surplus in a row—the bureau of statistics reported today.

Exports advanced on all fronts during the month to help cut the accumulated trade deficit for the first eight months of the year to $157,000,000 — sharply below the $418,800,000 deficit in the corresponding period last year.

August exports increased by 17.3 per cent to $480,400,000 from $409,700,000 a year earlier, and pushed the eight-month total of exports to $3,547,700,00, up 9.5 per cent from last year's level.

Imports registered a sharp advance in August to $469,300,000, up 9.8 per cent from last year's August figure of $427,300,000. The eight-month total of $3,704,700,000 in imports, however, is only 1.2 per cent higher than a year earlier.

SELL MORE TO U.S.

One of the encouraging signs in August was an upturn in exports to the United States, which had lagged. The month's exports were $270,900,000, up 11.2 per cent from $243,500,000 a year earlier. Imports from the U.S. rose to $291,600,000 from $272,000,000, and the August trade deficit with the U.S. was cut to $20,700,000 from $28,500,000 a year earlier.

The surplus in trade with the United Kingdom was double last year's level in August at $25,100,000 compared with $12,600,000.

SURPRISE TURNABOUT BY UN STEERING COMMITTEE

Debate on Congo Crisis Scheduled

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Africa was assured top billing in the UN General Assembly as the assembly steering committee moved to place 10 African issues on the session's bulging agenda.

The 21-nation committee voted in quick succession Wednesday night to schedule assembly debate on the Congo issue and rival proposals by the United States and Russia designed to win the friendship of the new African member states.

Earlier, the committee approved debate on such perennial items as the race situation in South Africa, Algerian independence and a number of trusteeship questions.

With 15 new African nations already taken into the UN fold and Nigeria due to become the 99th member, probably next week, 25 African members will have a voice in the debates.

A TURNABOUT

After a surprise turnabout by the West, the committee decided in 10 minutes Wednesday night to call for debate on the Congo question over which it had wrangled for more than an hour the previous night.

U.S. Ambassador James Wadsworth said he was not opposing the Congo's inclusion on the agenda since Russia had agreed to a suggestion by Ceylon to modify the title of the item to "the situation in the Republic of the Congo."

A new East-West clash was foreseen in the assembly when the rival U.S. and Soviet items on Africa reach the floor.

FIVE-POINT PROGRAM

The U.S. proposal puts before the assembly the five-point program for aid to the new countries of Africa outlined by President Eisenhower in his assembly speech last Thursday.

It would counter a Soviet item calling for granting of independence to colonial countries and peoples. Soviet Premier Khrushchev called for this in his speech before the assembly last Friday.

How To Be Creative And Win Success

Do you think you have to be born creative to get an idea? October Reader's Digest offers proof that many people can be taught (or teach themselves) to solve problems, obtain patents, win success. Market Available For Peace

A leading Peace River hydro promoter said here Wednesday there would be no difficulty in "disposing" of surplus power from the project.

Viscount Chandos, chairman of Associated Electrical Industries Ltd., which holds about one-seventh of the shares of Peace River Power Development Co., told the Times he was sure such surpluses could be sold to the U.S.

"But first of all let us see if there is a surplus. I couldn't forecast the requirements in B.C. in the future."

He said "everyone would agree" the Peace is going to be developed by the associates of Swedish financier Axel Wenner-Gren who first planned the project.

"The only question is when. We think it is highly desirable to push on at once."

NO RIVALRY

Viscount Chandos said as far as he is concerned there is "no rivalry" between Peace and Columbia River hydro.

He is in B.C. to see the site of proposed dams on the Peace at Hudson Hope.

He had a dinner meeting with Premier Bennett and other Peace officials in Victoria Wednesday night.

Viscount Chandos said he hoped the project would be timed "in relation to the needs of B.C."

"If there was a surplus, we wouldn't have any difficulty in disposing of it.

"There is a way of turning that surplus energy into American dollars as long as you don't want the power yourself."

POWER EXPORT

At present Canada will not permit hydro power export to the U.S.

"There is not any very serious risk of letting the water run to waste if it's available," said Viscount Chandos.

If the power were developed it is unlikely, he feels, that Ottawa would stop it being used or sold.

Investment capital for the $630 million project, he said, will be available when the details are set out.

This will be when Peace River Power Development Co. has a certificate from the Public Utilities Commission and a water licence from the B.C. government.

"This project is one which fires our imagination in the U.K.," he said. "After all it is one of the great rivers of the world."

U.K. Expects Three-Fold Tourist Rise

LONDON (CP)—A British travel executive predicts that business in the tourist industry in Britain will increase threefold in the next 20 years.

Charles Holt, managing director of the worldwide agency Thomas Cook and Son, said the figure takes on added significance when it is realized that 200,000,000 persons visited a country other than their own in 1959. The estimated total expenditure on travel and tourism generally was about £2,000,000,000.

Holt said Britain — starting from scratch in 1946—had built up a £220,000,000 business. There had been a record 656,000 visitors in the first six months of 1960 and the year's total would be about 1,500,000, far in excess of any other year.

Visitors from South and Central American countries were up 37 per cent over the same period of last year and there were 64 per cent more tourists from Russia.

Holt gave the figures in an address to a Canadian luncheon club.

GRAUER ANSWERS STRACHAN ON CHEAP POWER

'Board Has Control'

VANCOUVER (CP)—President A. E. Dal Grauer of the B.C. Electric Company said Wednesday he doesn't believe the Canadian Energy Board would allow the export of cheap power while retaining more expensive electricity for use in B.C.

Mr. Grauer, commenting on charges by CCF Opposition Leader Robert Strachan that a campaign "designed to overcome the objections of the people of B.C. to the export of power" is being launched, said Mr. Strachan must be aware that the board has complete control over all export of energy.

Anyway, Mr. Grauer added, it must be obvious that a distribution utility like the BCE would like cheap power retained in B.C. and not exported.

"The only so-called cheap power is B.C.'s share of downstream benefits of the Columbia River. This power is entirely in the hands of the provincial government or its agent, the B.C. Power Commission.

"Is Mr. Strachan suggesting that one or both of these agencies would want to sell the down-stream benefits to the U.S. rather than use them in B.C.?"

More Mines to Close

TORONTO (CP) — Robert Winters, president of Rio Tinto Mining Company of Canada, announced Wednesday two of the company's five remaining uranium mines at Elliot Lake will close by the end of this year.

LEGAL SHOWDOWN COMING

Castro Eyes U.S. Base

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro made clear at a welcome home celebration Wednesday night that a legal showdown is coming over the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo. The homecoming was interrupted by two bomb explosions that did no damage.

Within three hours after returning from the UN Assembly session in New York, the prime minister was renewing his threats against the naval installation and flailing away at the United States.

The first bomb exploded in Zayas Park behind the presidential palace about an hour after Castro started his 2½-hour balcony speech. The second went off 40 minutes later at the same place.

SET UP BLOCK PATROLS

Castro dismissed the explosions as the "little bombs of imperialism," but announced the government would establish a system of revolutionary patrols who will "know who lives in each block and what he does and what relations he had with tyranny and to what he devotes himself and with whom he meets."

His revolution, he warned, still faces a long, hard struggle.

"One of the problems in which we have to overcome the imperialist enemy," he declared, is Guantanamo.

At the same time, Castro cautioned his forces against any unauthorized military action against the base. He charged that the United States intends to use the base as a pretext for military intervention in Cuba and said any trouble at the base would be provoked by the United States.

A Big Step Forward

CANADIAN AND UNITED States negotiating teams have announced agreement on points which could form the basis of an international Columbia River power development treaty. Spokesmen for each group foresee no major stumbling blocks to ratification of such an agreement in time to permit an early start on construction—possibly next year. British Columbia Government spokesmen have concurred in the report.

This is the break-through in negotiations indicated earlier this month by Mr. Howard Green and it represents a leap forward in plans to harness Columbia waters for the mutual advantage of this nation, this province and the United States.

Details have yet to be announced. Mr. Fulton, Minister of Justice and head of the Canadian team, says, however, that "the recommendations we made in large part take account of the IJC (International Joint Commission) principles."

This could mean equal division of downstream benefits from water stored in British Columbia and converted into electric power south of the border. The recommendations could also determine priorities of construction; whether an Arrow Lakes dam is to precede one at Mica Creek.

While the people of this province note progress in the Fulton announcement, their attention has also been called to a meeting of Peace River Power principals here and the prospect of an early announcement from the promoters of the proposed northern development.

Conceivably these events could lead to the inevitable showdown between the two. A showdown could determine whether or not British Columbia is to receive cheap power — returns from Columbia downstream benefits which would be some of the most inexpensive power in the world—or high-priced electricity piped from a costly development on the Peace.

Mr. Green and many others do not believe that there are markets at present or in the near future in Canada for both Peace and Columbia power. The possibility of a surplus finding buyers in the Pacific Northwest states seems to be ruled out by the established policy of Canadian governments against export.

The convictions expressed in recent days by Dr. A. E. Grauer, Dr. John Davis and Dr. Shrum, that export is essential, are interesting. Federal authorities have not to date, however, shown any indication of changing their mind on that issue.

With Mr. Fulton's announcement, the Columbia project has moved ahead.

It must be understood of course, that agreement between members of the negotiating teams does not in itself spell out automatic ratification by the Canadian and United States authorities.

The prospect, however, appears more favorable than it has since discussions between the two countries began. If that trend continues, and both Mr. Fulton and his American counterpart see no reason why parliamentary or congressional blocks should arise, British Columbia could be on the way to cheap power adequate to meet expanding industrial needs for some time to come.

It should be quite obvious that a major "struggle" for power is going on behind the scenes. The Columbia negotiators—in contradiction to the prophesies of Mr. Mainwaring, the Peace president—have reached substantial areas of agreement. The Peace promoters see in this a grave challenge to their project.

It would be a tragedy of incalculable proportions if the public found itself "caught in the middle" of this struggle. What is needed is a logical, orderly, sequential development of resources at the cheapest rate possible. Progress, as Mr. Bennett is fond of saying—not politics.

No Room for the Peasant?

MRS. ELLEN FAIRCLOUGH says that "Canada cannot contemplate trying to absorb large numbers of immigrants who have no skills other than that of the peasant."

On a straight business basis this may be true. Obviously in this nation, despite its vast unpopulated areas, we have not enough room for all the underprivileged peoples of the world.

On the other hand, if we restrict the inflow of newcomers only to those who can do us some good—the people with skills who are more easily assimilable — we scarcely fulfil those humanitarian responsibilities which fortunate geography and rich resources carry with them.

It is something less than the democratic ideal—and a long way from the concept most of our people hold in respect to Canada's attitude—to suggest that there is no room within our borders for the peasant. Have we now taken the position that Canada is to be the home of an elite only? Are we now hanging out a sign saying to foreigners that only those who can make us richer need apply for entry?

Are there no virtues in the peasant which could add to the fibre of our nation?

History implies that nations and civilizations which disregarded the peasant have had occasion to regret that attitude.

It takes all kinds to make a world or a country—and a sturdy peasantry is not the least valuable of the elements which go to create a strong and healthy society.

Harnessing the Indus

CANADIANS MAY TAKE SATisfaction in this country's participation in one of the greatest power and irrigation projects ever devised by man. We will contribute $22 millions to a one-billion dollar program to harness the Indus River and its five tributaries — a joint effort of the World Bank, the United States, Britain, West Germany, Australia, New Zealand and Canada.

Agreements to launch the vast undertaking were signed this week, and India and Pakistan are now united in a program which will affect the well-being of 50 million inhabitants of the Indus Valley.

But apart from the obvious advantages to accrue in hydro-power and irrigation, there are important fringe benefits, any one of which could well be a salient issue rather than a by-product.

The agreement settles, after twelve acrimonious years, the quarrel between India and Pakistan over water rights on the Kashmir border. The matter came close to the point of war on several occasions as disposition of the five tributaries, of which India controlled the headwaters, roused tempers. Now the matter is settled, to the advantage of both countries.

Another benefit to be derived will be the training of thousands of native workers to handle trucks, machinery and other modern tools. The skills so gained may then be used in other projects in the future.

The ten-year plan as envisaged is an even larger one than the famed Aswan Dam project in Egypt. It will stand as a vast monument to the power of co-operation among nations, the need for co-operation between neighbors, and the continuing emergence of India and Pakistan into twentieth century methods.

A Debt to Britain

EVENTS OF RECENT MONTHS have underscored the difference between proclamations of principle and actual behaviour on the part of leaders in newly emerging independent nations. Words and actions frequently do not coincide.

At the same time, the statements of Dr. Nnamdi Azikiwe, Governor-General designate of Nigeria, in London the other day provide encouraging reading.

Nigeria is scheduled to achieve complete independence in the next few days. British Governor-General Robertson is expected to continue in his post until November 15, when his duties will be handed over to a Nigerian successor.

Dr. Azikiwe, discussing with British Government officials arrangements for the change over took advantage of his London visit to meet members of the world's press. At a sumptuous banquet he offered them his views on the preparations within Nigeria for the assumption of its new status.

"We must give credit to those who have enabled us to become democratic," he said. "We owe a debt to Britain for the imperishable tradition of law and respect for human dignity."

At a time when anti-colonial propaganda drums are being beaten like thunder, Dr. Azikiwe's quiet remarks have unusual carrying power.

UNITED NATIONS, NEW YORK

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The Issue Now Is: How Will Transition Be Brought About?

MR. KHRUSHCHEV'S speech reveals how Soviet policy has evolved since the crack-up at the summit last May. The subject of his speech was the historic uprising of the submerged peoples in Asia, Africa, and Latin America, against the political and economic hegemony of Western Europe and North America. There is no issue between him and us over the historic fact that this hegemony is being liquidated and that it is being replaced by new constellations of sovereign states. The issue between us is not whether what he calls colonialism is to be ended. The issue is how the transition from dependence to independence is to be brought about.

Lippmann

It is on this point that his position has changed since the diplomatic disaster which wrecked the summit and has brought about a rupture of communications and negotiations between the Soviet Union and the Western powers.

Western Interests

Until the crack-up, as late as April when he visited President de Gaulle in Paris, Mr. K., though a champion of the colonial revolution, was prepared to recognize that the Western powers have interests, as for example in the security of the European settlers, and that a certain tolerance and patience were necessary in making the difficult transition to independence.

A crucial example of this was his public endorsement of President de Gaulle's Algerian policy, and this carried with it the understanding that during the series of summit meetings which were then contemplated, the liberation in Africa would be helped and guided by the United Nations and the great powers.

Now we see that since the crack-up in May Mr. K.'s position is that he will not facilitate the transition to independence by allowing the Western powers to collaborate. His new position is unconditional support of the ouster of the Western powers and a refusal to let them play any part in the transition to independence.

Now Disqualified

The West, because of its imperialist history and because of the certain residue of semi-imperialistic privileges today, is in his present mood disqualified from assisting and guiding the new states.

The assault on the Secretary General is a corollary of, is incidental to, his policy of excluding the West from the transition.

Mr. Hammarskjold's conduct of the Congo operation has been a faithful and a skillful attempt to facilitate the transition from Belgian colonialism to Congolese independence.

Mr. Hammarskjold's sin in Mr. Khrushchev's eyes has been that the UN mission has been dedicated to helping the Congo, which is not ready for independence, to overcome the obstacles on the way to self-government. Mr. K.'s post summit policy does not permit Westerners to play any important part in such a transition.

Position Doubtful

It is not clear as of now how much of Mr. K.'s new position is a continuation of his wrath after the U-2 and President Eisenhower's avowal of America's right to over-fly the Soviet Union. It is not clear how much of his new position is considered policy. I would guess that not even Mr. K. himself could answer these questions today.

For what is now evident is that these questions will be answered only if, when, and as the crack-up is repaired and communication is restored.

The speech Mr. K. delivered on Friday is not the speech he would have delivered last April. For then he recognized that Britain, France, and the United States had a necessary and useful part to play in the rise of the new nations. On Friday he seemed to say that we were untouchables and have no part to play.

The issue he raised on Friday will have to be arbitrated by the new nations. They must decide whether they want the help of the West, the help of the Commonwealth, and the help of the French Community, and the help of the United States.

Accept Help

We have no power and no desire to compel them to accept our help. But if they are wise in their own interests, they will take help where they can get it, and with the smallest amount of string attached to it.

They will make sure that they do not become wholly dependent on any one government, and they will guard, as they would the apple of their eye, the authority and the dignity and the universality of the United Nations.

They will find if they look into it while they are in New York that in these matters there has been a great change of opinion in the past few years. There was a time when we regarded their neutrality in the cold war as immoral and equal to taking sides with Moscow. That is no longer the official American opinion.

We have gotten our bearings in the world as it is. We have remembered our history. And we know that the American Founding Fathers were right when they laid down the precept that the policy of a newly liberated country is to be neutral in the conflicts of the great powers.

Close to a Record for Establishing Royal Commissions

ROYAL COMMISSIONS appointed in the past 10 years have cost the federal treasury $4,000,000. Three royal commissions have been set up by Prime Minister John Diefenbaker in the past two months and before they have completed their inquiries they will have added substantially to the total federal outlay on such commissions. Appointments of the three new commissions makes 27 that have embarked on investigations from the fiscal year 1949-50, to date.

Mackie

Twenty-two of those royal commissions have sat in the decade from 1949-50 to the fiscal year ending March 31, 1959.

The three latest to be named include the Royal Commission on the Government's operations, the commission on magazine publishing and the commission on the automobile industry.

The royal commission on transportation is now sitting. The Rand royal commission on the coal industry has completed its work and presented its report.

Many Varieties

Other commissions set up by the Progressive Conservative administration include:

The royal commission on energy policies, which cost $433,000; the commission on price spreads in food products, $430,000; the commission on railway boxcars distribution, $45,000 and the commission on economic security for the aged in the United States which cost $27,000.

The total cost of those four commissions alone comes close to $1,000,000.

Thus in the three years and three months that it has been in office the Diefenbaker Government has found it necessary to resort to Royal Commissions on nine different occasions, to come up with answers to problems that the cabinet has been unable to solve or has not had the time to handle.

This is close to establishing a record for referring tough problems to royal commissions.

However, in the year 1954 the previous Liberal administration had a run on royal commissions. In that year alone six commissions were set up and operating.

They included the royal commissions on criminal law re defence based on insanity, criminal law re criminal sexual psychopaths, administration of quartz mining in the Yukon, application and effects of agreed freight rates, operation of the patent act, the industrial design act and the copyright act and flood damage in the Humber River Valley.

Rising Cost

The cost of commissions is tending to go up steadily. Of the 22 royal commissions set up in the past decade 13 were named during the second five years of the 10 fiscal years. The commissions in this second half of the period accounted for 75 per cent of the expenditures.

The most costly commission to make its findings over the 10-year period was the Gordon Royal Commission on Canada's economic prospects. The cost of this inquiry was around $1,500,000.

Also expected to run high in its costs is one of the latest royal commissions to be named, the Commission on Government Operations under J. Grant Glassco of Toronto. It will sit for two years or more in making an exhaustive study of government operations including crown companies and agencies. It is to investigate the whole organization of government, as was done by the Hoover commission in the United States.

It is estimated that since confederation federal governments in this country have established something like 1,200 royal commissions.

Under the Bed

There is a public belief that when a government encounters a problem that proves too hot to handle, or too complicated to cope with, they turn it over to a royal commission. There may be some justification in feeling that governments on occasion have resorted to this means of "sweeping the problem under the bed," but certainly in recent years royal commissions have become a familiar part of government.

They do have the advantage in many cases of focussing public attention. They make the public better educated as to the extent and nature of the problems and consequently the public is better informed as to the why and wherefores of the subsequent governmental decisions.

Sometimes of course there is no government decision. The report of the royal commission is simply tucked into a filing case and forgotten.

That will not likely be the fate of the reports of the three recent commissions. The pressure on the Government to do something is much too great to allow for the apathetic attitude of "file and forget."

There is much interest in the growing size of the civil service. The public is vitally concerned about the need for economy and efficiency in the administration of the government.

Ask Protection

The arguments of Canadian magazines that they need protection against United States competition and the claim of car manufacturers that they need protection against the inroads of foreign manufacturers affect the average Canadian.

In recent years there have been four commissions that attracted widespread attention.

They are the Massey commission on arts, letters and sciences, the Fowler commission on broadcasting, the Gordon commission on Canada's economic future and the Borden commission on energy.

The findings of these commissions are still being discussed. Many of the recommendations have been acted upon. The Glassco commission could well rank with these.

All four were expensive. The Massey commission cost $287,000; the Fowler commission, $328,000; the Borden commission cost $433,000, and of course the Gordon commission was the costliest, running to $1,495,000.

The Stewart commission on price spreads of food products was also expensive. It cost $430,000.

Today a member of a royal commission gets about $75 a day plus $25 a day expenses while the commission is sitting. The $100 a day tab can run into large figures if the commission extends into several months or even years.

As Our Readers See It

Soap Box in the Park

The Victoria local of The Socialist Party of Canada, anticipating the city council's opposition to a speakers' corner in the Park, purposely asked for the stubble field east of the large animal corral for the purpose. It is well out of the way of the main park attractions and yet easily accessible to anyone who is interested.

When a bit of tub-thumping is necessary the guardians of capitalism are quick to espouse the name of democracy and free speech. When asked for a demonstration of their words all they have to offer is excuses.

They Don't Like Russia

At the Liberal meeting in the Dominion theatre during the B.C. election campaign, George Gregory implied that a member of the Socialist Party of Canada was sympathetic to the way of life in the iron curtain countries. He made this innuendo after saying that he had given us the courtesy of reading our election manifesto, which incidentally refers to Russia's capitalist nature in three different places.

We'd like to remind him that buying and selling, including the instalment style, a Chamber of Commerce, profits, banks, unions, strikes, unemployment, jails and insane asylums are institutions and byproducts of capitalism and that all these phenomena exist in Russia. We'd like to point out that capitalism is his system of society and he thereby has a greater affinity to Russia and China than any member of the SPC could ever have, since we are opposed to the animal under any name or guise.

It is also relevant that open dictatorship, the evil that liberal supporters of capitalism everywhere abhor, is a direct condition of their system, in certain stages of development or historical or economic circumstances.

That Annoying 2 Cents

Why is it that so many business firms in Victoria think that Sidney is in the City Postal area, the Dominion Government being the worst offenders, and only place 4 cents on letters that require 5 cents. The extra 2 cents that has to be paid for short postage does not amount to much, but it is aggravating.

Casting Stones

A NEGRO attorney was talking on the American "Close-Up" program devoted to racial discrimination in northern states Tuesday evening.

Intelligent, articulate and frank, he was discussing the difference between prejudice and discrimination. Everyone, he thought, probably had prejudices. They did not reach the point of discrimination until some action arose from them.

Stott

He confessed a nationalist prejudice of his own—against Poles. Individual members of that nationality whom he had met were good enough people. He had no quarrel with them as persons. But in certain regions of the United States Polish communities had made things difficult for Negroes. Hence his prejudice.

I liked the frankness of his admission.

Most people can see prejudice in others as clearly as a smudge of soot on fresh fallen snow. They have difficulty in seeing it in themselves.

Among my friends is a man who has repeatedly voiced his repugnance of both discrimination and prejudice on racial and other grounds. In his own small way he has tried to combat them. Until a personal incident a year or two ago, he considered himself a pretty open-minded man. Now he has less confidence in himself on that score.

The incident was simple and, to him, shocking. He is the father of a teen-age daughter. She asked him on one occasion if it would be alright for her to join a group of her friends who were providing dancing partners for young navy boys coming in on an American ship. He saw the gesture as a decent example of civic hospitality, was assured that the function would be properly chaperoned and said sure.

On the evening of the dance, he was cutting his front lawn. He looked up from his labors and saw a couple of boys in American round-rig walking along the sidewalk toward his gate. They were Negroes.

"I went cold," he said to me. "The thought just hadn't entered my head that any of the group would be other than white boys. As it happened, the two on the sidewalk kept right on walking past my house. My relief was almost physical. Then I was ashamed and mad at myself.

"I've been talking as long as I can remember about tolerance. I've despised discrimination. Then, when I thought I was being confronted with a chance to show my understanding and lack of antipathy in matters of color, I went into shock.

"Had I known the boys, I think it would have been different. But there was little chance of me knowing any boys, whatever their race, who came in on a visiting American ship. There isn't any way I can rationalize this reaction to myself and I hope I'm not foolish enough to try."

I tried to reassure him, saying the incident probably had nothing whatever to do with prejudice, that he had just been caught by surprise and wasn't able to adjust immediately to the situation.

"Nice of you to say so," he replied, "but why was I surprised and why should surprise produce this peculiar reaction on me? Do you think it would have if the boys had been white?"

I'm told that out in the Hawaiian Islands the intermingling of peoples has progressed to a point where they have developed what they call the Pacific man. His bloodstreams have been magnificiently mixed—and the individual that has emerged is completely unconscious of color and racial differences. People are people, judged on their character and personality. As the song from South Pacific, with a slight paraphrase, puts it: "They haven't been taught to love and hate, they haven't been caught before it's too late."

The title of the "Close-Up" program brought in the Biblical injunction about throwing the first stone. It seems that very few of us are in a position to start flinging —certainly not against others on the basis of creed or color. Maybe not even against those unfortunate people who carry prejudice to the extreme of violent discrimination. Most of us just aren't far enough advanced to sit in judgment. When we are, we won't bother judging.

The Pacific man suggests a solution. Perhaps it will be accepted and practised if not by our kids, then by our kids' kids or the ones born to them.

Association Deplores Mental Report Delay

Delegates to a meeting of the B.C. Division, Canadian Mental Health Association, in Vernon last week expressed their concern at the delay of the American Psychiatric Association's report on mental health services in B.C.

A six-week survey was conducted in the province in 1959 under the direction of Dr. Mathew Ross and explored many areas of mental health, but to date there is no indication as to when the report will be released.

It was the opinion of the meeting that an early release is essential if progress is to be made in mental health services throughout British Columbia.

Co-Education Starts

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—A shortage of classrooms is forcing co-education in Moslem Morocco, where sex segregation has been the normal practice. Education Minister Abdelkrim Benjelloun told a press conference Wednesday he had to override the protests of parents against mixed classes to get 1,000,000 students into schools.

Political Clubs Return To University Popularity

By LES MILLIN
Student Correspondent

Political clubs, which once seemed to have died out almost entirely, are experiencing a sudden return to popularity on the campus of Victoria University.

Two days of rapid organization have established the two major clubs, the Liberal Club and the CCF Club, and an ambitious plan for the year has been outlined.

The CCF Club, organized on Tuesday with former CCF candidate for Oak Bay Frank Mitchell as president, immediately challenged all other political groups to a debate on the provincial need for a "democratic, Socialist government."

The Liberal Club, organized Wednesday, plans to invite speakers to address the students of the university and to hold a mock parliament during the year to demonstrate to students how the federal government looks in action.

NEED STRESSED

Mr. Mitchell stressed the need to "educate university students politically and acquaint them with problems of government on the national and international levels."

Led by Times writing award winner Julian Reid, a new literary magazine makes its debut this term. It will be sold instead of being distributed free to the students, an innovation, and will appear monthly.

Chess, a favorite college pastime, is again available to the students through the Chess Club, which supplies chess sets to the students' common rooms. The annual tournament, organized by president Michiel Horn, gets underway next week to decide the college championship.

ACADEMIC SIDE

On the academic side, the Mathematics Club and the Philosophy Club will start operations again this year. To the German Club, a long-time veteran in the intellectual field, may be added a Spanish Club to practise the spoken language as well as delve into the ethnic backgrounds of the spoken tongues.

Music will be a prominent feature of university activities this session. Choirs have been formed to present Handel's "Messiah" and also a folk opera in the second term. A dance band is at present recruiting members to perform popular music.

And the Players Club, largest on campus, has been wooing new members with signs asking, "Do you want to see your name in Lights?" Virginia Leeming, president of the club for the coming session, looks forward with an optimistic eye.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Bullfighting in Britain

LONDON—Britain is to have bullfighting, starting in Manchester in the spring.

Reyburn

That's the plan of Major Ralph Raffles, company director of those parts. And he bases his hope that it will be a success on the fact that so many Britishers are going to Spain these days for their holidays (this summer: more than half a million) and returning saying.

"Bullfighting isn't as terrible as we thought."

Many of them go beyond merely overcoming the traditional British aversion to it on the score of cruelty and become real bullfight fans.

Major Raffles is of course conscious that a row is going to be kicked up by Britain's animal lovers at any attempt to get bullfighting started here.

He doesn't plan to introduce the Spanish version, in which the bulls are always killed. He will bring over a team of Portuguese bullfighters and bulls.

As done in Portugal, they don't go in for the kill that is the climax of each Spanish bullfight; instead they finish off with a rodeo-type wrestling match between men and bull.

But despite this, the RSPCA is already getting organized to block Major Raffles.

Said the Manchester RSPCA secretary: "There must be a certain degree of terrifying the bulls and that amounts to cruelty.

"We will proceed at the highest possible level to stop it taking place. Under the 1911 Protection of Animals Act, this would amount to unnecessary suffering to the animals."

HOME GARDEN

By JACK BEASTALL

Simple Directions To Build Cold Frame

There are a number of women whose gardening activities are being limited by the lack of a cold frame, and they tell me, in most instances, that hubby has promised to make one "when he gets time."

Since a cold frame is just a box without a top or bottom, that has a cover to fit, there is no reason why you girls should not make your own. I am sure that most of the women gardeners of my acquaintance are fully capable.

Jack

If a frame larger than a box is needed it can be made from a few pieces of shiplap, and when placed in a sheltered corner it will be just as serviceable as one made from planks.

The construction of a frame with a sloping top can be simplified if the back and ends are made two boards high and a single board used across the front. The high ends help to keep wind off the cover and are a great ad antage.

To obtain the slope, a narrow strip is nailed inside each end from the top edge at the back to the top edge in front, and these strips provide the ledges on which the cover will rest.

In this age of plastics, even the cover ceases to be a problem. It can be a light wooden framework covered on both sides with the materials supplied in the plastic storm window kits. These consist of a sheet of plastic film one yard wide and two yards long, and the cardboard strips and nails for attaching.

You can grow good plants in the simplest kind of cold frame but you cannot grow them in a promise. Once you make a frame for yourself, hubby will soon reconstruct it if only to point up your errors in carpentering.

Outboard Fuel Cost Down

Outboard motor manufacturers apparently have called off the horsepower race temporarily in order to do something about fuel consumption.

One builder has indicated that certain of its 1961 models will, under certain conditions of speed, have a specific fuel consumption (pounds per horsepower-hour), equal to some four-cycle engines.

When outboard motors were essentially low-horsepower units, fuel economy meant little. But with motors of 80 horsepower, the difference between the customary consumption of .8 pounds of fuel per horsepower-hour and the hoped-for objection of .635 pounds is more than 1½ gallons of gasoline-oil mixture.

Because of its light weight, lower production cost, simplicity, and ease of maintenance, all outboard engine builders are making every effort to keep the two-cycle motor in the running.

Poor fuel economy, and the need to burn lubricating oil with the fuel, have been obstacles hard to overcome without sacrificing other desirable features. Much effort is being given to the development of lubricating systems similar to those used in four-cycle engines. However, such lubricating systems increase the motor complexity and cost of manufacture.

Lubricating Oil Under Study

On another front, a study is being made of lubricating oils to reduce the quantity needed per gallon of fuel. One outboard maker is announcing an oil that will go twice as far as oils now in general use.

The resistance or drag of the lower unit as the boat moves through the water also has been a matter of much concern. One manufacturer now offers a choice of three types of lower units, depending on the service to which the motor is to be put.

The important factor in any marine propulsion unit is, of course, the amount of horsepower that is actually converted into thrust by the propeller. This factor is called the propulsion coefficient.

Because of the high speed at which the average outboard propeller rotates, and factors limiting propeller diameter, most outboard motors develop their best propulsion coefficient at relatively high boat speeds.

TORPEDO CAN CATCH NUCLEAR SUBS

WASHINGTON (AP) — A possible break-through in developing a torpedo capable of tracking and destroying nuclear-powered submarines was disclosed Wednesday by the U.S. Navy.

The navy declined to give details, but indicated the new torpedo will solve one of the big headaches in how to combat nuclear subs — going fast enough and deep enough to catch them.

Rites Saturday For Retired Police Officer

Stanley Herbert Kistruck, 70, retired policeman and Victoria and Prospect Lake resident for 32 years, died Tuesday night at his home, 808 Russell Street.

Born in Colchester, England, he served for many years with the RCMP in Saskatchewan and Alberta, and with the B.C. Police, prior to joining the security guard at VMD. At the time of his death he was a watchman at Sooke Lake Lumber Ltd., a post he had held for almost three years.

Surviving are the widow, Louise, at home; three stepchildren, and a brother and sister.

Funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at McCalls with members of the RCMP acting as pallbearers, and interment will be at Royal Oak.

EDMONTON (CP) — Hugh Robert Tomlinson, arrested in Edmonton shortly after he arrived from Vancouver Sept. 20, pleaded guilty Wednesday to unlawful possession of narcotics and was remanded to Oct. 5 for sentence.

Danish Artificial Heart Helps Doctor Save Lives

BY JOHN CHADWICK

COPENHAGEN (Reuters)—A Danish-made artificial heart no bigger than a large suitcase, whose key parts are plastic and inexpensive, is helping to save lives in hospitals in Scandinavia.

It now has functioned perfectly at 100 operations on the heart and lungs in Denmark and Sweden and visiting doctors from other countries who have been watching the machine at work at the national hospital in Copenhagen have described it as "brilliantly simple."

Surgeons in all parts of the world are using machines which take over the functions of the heart and lungs during tricky operations on these vital organs. Most of them employ a highly involved apparatus. The machine being used here is strikingly simple.

The part that functions as lungs and blood vessels is made of plastic and is so cheap that it can be thrown away after use, with a considerable saving of cleaning expenses.

It is used for operations in which the surgeon has to repair injuries inside the heart itself. The heart has to be opened and so is unable to pump blood.

When an operation is to be performed, the large veins of the heart are connected by means of two plastic catheters and a plastic tube with the heart and lung machine.

The blood falls by its own weight and flows into the artificial lung, which is little more than a plastic bag suspended from a weighing machine, which shows whether the normal volume of blood is continuing to circulate.

The plastic lung is so designed that no damage is caused to the delicate blood cells while filters ensure that the air which bubbles up through the blood to oxidize it is removed.

GLASS, TOO

Through the glass walls of the machine, the dark blood from the arteries can be seen entering the artificial lung, to be oxidized and grow paler in color. Then a simple electric pump drives the blood vigorously back into the patient through a plastic catheter inserted into the artery in one thigh.

As soon as the machine takes over, the patient's lungs are collapsed, and the heart, although still working, is virtually emptied of blood, enabling the surgeon to open it and inspect the damage.

No limit has been found to the length of time the Danish machine can take over from a patient's heart and lungs. So far, it has worked for periods of from 20 minutes to an hour and a half.

LONG ILLNESS proved fatal to Mrs. Elivera Doud, 82, mother of Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who died in her sleep early today at her home in Denver, Colo. President altered schedule in order to go as far as Chicago with Mrs. Eisenhower. (AP wirephoto.)

'MAN'S MIND, BODY, LIFE HIS OWN'

Tell Patient Truth, CMA Told

"Usually," says Dr. R. MacGregor Parsons, of Red Deer, Alta., president of the Canadian Medical Association.

Dr. Parsons told members of the CMA's Alberta division today he had watched an old friend "gradually lose faith in me and everyone else" because his family refused to allow his true illness to be disclosed.

"A man's mind, body and life are his own possession," said Dr. Parsons. "Personally, I feel that one should usually be told the truth."

This ethical problem applies particularly to the cancer patient. Sometimes, in these cases, it is difficult to know "just what is the truth.

"As one gets older," suggested the CMA president, "it is easier to say 'I don't know,' if this applies."

RENOWNED PHYSICIST DOUBTS LIFE IN SPACE

Dr. Gordon Shrum, head of the University of B.C. physics department, said here Wednesday: "It's quite possible there is other life in the universe. But I am sure it is very far away and couldn't affect us.

"So they couldn't get here within a lifetime.

COMBAT UNEMPLOYMENT

Hydro Export Urged for B.C.

Export of B.C. power was urged here Wednesday night as part of a broad program to combat unemployment and maintain a high standard of living.

Dr. Gordon Shrum, dean of graduate studies at the University of B.C. and chairman of the B.C. Energy Board, told a convention of labor officials that food and natural resources are the two great survival factors of the future.

Increased food production and world-sharing is necessary to nourish a population boom.

"I suggest we put greater emphasis on primary production and relatively less emphasis on secondary industry not relative to our natural resources," he told a dinner for the Canadian Association of Administrators of Labor Legislation.

Dr. Shrum did not refer directly to either Peace or Columbia River power.

More Power Than Needed Here

From such resources, he said, B.C. will have more power available "than it can possibly use in the foreseeable future."

"This would indicate we should export.

"Surely we should be interested in selling hydro electric power, which is a renewable resource."

Dr. Shrum said power development also will attract investment in service industries, which are less suspectible to economic fluctuation than manufacturing.

Scientific and technological research should be devoted to developing food and raw material sources.

UNEMPLOYMENT

Unemployment is to a certain extent "a chronic condition" he said.

Some of its causes are immigration, automation and lack of education.

More time spent on better education to meet more skillful occupations would cut the labor force and at the same time upgrade it.

An awareness of this is indicated in increased university enrollments, said Dr. Shrum.

"People realize that real insurance against unemployment in later life is to qualify for some job that requires technical skill."

The west could learn from Russia in setting incentives for work and education. That country has a "reward system" said Dr. Shrum, which provides incentive for students to stay on later in school and puts more emphasis on scientific research.

The high number of "drop outs" from Canadian schools contributes to unemployment, because those without skills are harder to fit into jobs.

However, Dr. Shrum predicted that unemployment problems will catch up with Russia "in the next few years."

While power may be B.C.'s lifeline, Dr. Shrum said food production for needy nations was also a vital task.

"This isn't a matter of charity," he said, "it's just a great experiment in human relations.

"We should be concerned about being worthy of our civilization."

Its survival depends, he said, on such principles.

Killed In Tunnel

COURMAYEUR, Italy (AP) —The tunnel being drilled through Mt. Blanc, Europe's tallest peak, has claimed its first victim. Piero Mauri, a 50-year-old Italian laborer, was killed Wednesday when a big slab of granite fell on him in the tunnel. Work on the seven-mile tunnel has been under way for two years.

The Isle of Man, holiday resort in the Irish Sea, was occupied by the Vikings about the end of the sixth century.

FAREWELL TO FENWAY

Head bowed and voice choked with emotion, Red Sox slugger Ted Williams says good-bye to fans at Boston's Fenway Park during his last major league game. The 42-year-old star ended career with dramatic 420-foot home run, the 521st of his great career. (AP Wirephoto.)

WILLIAMS SAYS FAREWELL . . .

'Splinter' Was Always Dramatic

. . . WITH MIGHTY HOME RUN

The fabulous, 42-year-old slugging star of the Boston Red Sox did it again Wednesday—twice. His next-to-last "Williamesque" touch was a mighty home run in the what was to be his last appearance as an active player in Fenway Park, where he's thrilled millions in the past 22 years.

But the 420-foot smash—the 521st of his career and his 29th of the season—turned out to be Ted's bon voyage to baseball. Williams stunned all minutes later by announcing he'd played his last game. He was retiring as of then, he said, and would not play in Boston's last three games of the season at New York this weekend.

The retirement had been announced last Sunday as effective after the Yankee series. Williams will serve as a batting coach for the Red Sox in spring training next year and will stay on in a capacity "suited to his great talents," according to the Sunday announcement.

But if the Red Sox were losing an outfielder they were gaining one, too.

Williams' retirement came about three hours after former Boston slugger Jackie Jensen decided to return from retirement and rejoin the team for which he hit 157 home runs over six seasons.

Jensen, nine years younger than Ted at 33, announced he was "coming back to play again" after a one-season retirement brought on by what he himself termed "immaturity."

"I figured last year that I would like to spend a year off from baseball," he told a news conference at Fenway Park. "You fellows all know the reasons. I disliked the travel and being away from my family so much. But I think I was being immature. The problems (of travel and family absence) still exist but now I realize that baseball offers many other opportunities."

Achievements of the "Splendid Splinter" were many and magnificent. He set the American League rookie record with 31 home runs in 1939, won the first of six batting titles with a .406 average in 1941 and hit more home runs than any slugger except Babe Ruth and Jimmy Foxx.

There was drama throughout his career—his comeback from injuries and illness, his return from the Second World War and the Korean conflict, his batting crown with .388 at the age of 39, his proud comeback this season at 42 after his worst year (.254).

A crowd of 10,454 had given Ted a standing ovation as the big left-fielder strode to the plate for his final appearance, swinging two bats. Williams lashed at a one-one pitch and the ball was gone.

The game was delayed several minutes following the home run as the spectators stood and chanted, "We want Ted." But Williams, who in his longstanding fashion did not tip his cap after the home run, failed to make a last appearance.

Mickey's Big Bat Must Worry Bucs

By United Press International

It was a heart-warming wind-up by Ted Williams but those closing drives by Mickey Mantle and the New York Yankees could prove a bit bone-chilling for Pittsburgh Pirates.

Williams went out like grand opera, as Casey Stengel would say.

The 42-year-old Boston slugger rocketed the 521st homer of his career in the eight inning and then announced he was finished for good moments after the Red Sox beat Baltimore Orioles, 5-4.

Ted may have taken his last turn at bat, but that certainly doesn't apply to either Mantle or the Yankees.

Mantle belted his 39th and 40th home runs Wednesday night to take over the American league leadership from teammate Roger Maris. The two blows, off pitcher Chuck Stobbs, powered the red-hot Yankees to their 12th straight victory, a 6-3 decision over the Washington Senators.

With only three more regular season games remaining, the Yankees now are in a perfect position to record the fastest baseball finish since the Chicago Cubs staged a spectacular 21-game September winning streak in 1935.

FORD GETS WIN

Whitey Ford, who will start one of the World Series games against the Pirates, pitched five innings and that was enough to earn him his 12th victory. He gave up two runs, including Bob Allison's 15th homer. Cletis Boyer also homered, giving the Yankees 190 for the season, a total that ties their own league record set in 1956.

Veteran Ned Garver stopped the Cleveland Indians on three hits to pace the Kansas City Athletics to a 4-0 victory in the only other A.L. game scheduled. Rookie Leo Posada hit his first major league homer for the A's off loser Jim Perry.

In the National League, Milwaukee defeated Philadelphia, 9-3, Chicago beat San Francisco, 6-3, and Los Angeles downed St. Louis, 4-2. Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were idle.

Lew Burdette of the Braves, shooting for his third straight 20-game season, won his 19th with a six-hitter over the Phillies. Burdette held the Phillies hitless until the fifth when they scored all their runs off him. Eddie Mathews hit his 39th homer at the expense of loser Jim Owens and Hank Aaron had two triples.

TWO-RUN BLAST

Sammy Taylor's two-run homer capped a three-run sixth inning rally that carried the Cubs to their victory over the Giants. Bob Anderson struck out eight men and gave up nine hits in bringing his record to 9-11. Jack Sanford, who was nicked for Taylor's homer plus another by George Altman, suffered his 14th loss compared with 12 victories.

The victory by the Dodgers enabled them to clinch fourth place. Johnny Podres was credited with his 14th triumph although Ed Roebuck had to bail him out in the eighth. Bob Miller was the loser. Ken Boyer hit his 23rd homer. Dodger shortstop Maury Wills stole his 49th base of the season, the top total in the N.L. since 1924.

British Push Sports

LONDON (Reuters) — A British government report Wednesday night called for the establishment of a sports development council empowered to spend £5,000,000 to $14,000,000 a year on the improvement of sport in Britain.

Moss Will Test Canadian Track

NEWCASTLE, Ont. (UPI)—Stirling Moss, Britain's ace racing driver, will be one of the first drivers to test Canada's new racing course at Mosport next month.

Moss, who will compete in the Formula Libre meeting at Watkins Glen, N.Y., Oct. 8-9, will drive over the new $250,000 2.4-mile course at Mosport Oct. 11.

EYES RIGHT!

Serving notice that he may be ready to do some mighty slugging when World Series start next week, Mickey Mantle blasted two home runs Wednesday as New York Yankees whipped Washington 6-3. Mickey took league lead from teammate Roger Maris as he boosted home run total to 40. Here Mantle and spectators follow flight of ball he has hit in wild blue yonder.

SPLINTER FINISHED UP . . . WITH .344 AVERAGE

Here Is Ted's Record

BOSTON (AP)—Here's how Ted Williams, who ended his American League career Wednesday after 19 seasons with Boston Red Sox, ranks on major league all-time record lists:

Home runs—third (521).

Runs batted in—10th (1,839).

Extra bases on long hits—fifth (2,340).

Total bases—eighth (4,844).

Runs scored—eighth (1,798).

Games played—26th (2,292).

Punters Won't Forget Win by Errant Prince

By HAL MALONE

A horse that hadn't won a race in two years, a jockey who hadn't won a race at the meeting and a certain punter were all the noise Wednesday at Sandown.

The horse: Errant Prince. The Rider, Wesley Jones. The punter: unknown . . . but heartbroken.

In the first two races this particular punter had win tickets on practically the entire fields. By spreading himself he won and lost—he held winning tickets but the payoff was so small (Silverknowe, $4.70, and Vicki's Beau, $4.80) he lost more than he won.

In the third race he walked up to the win wicket.

He bought tickets on the first five horses . . . then paused.

"No. 6, too?" asked the seller.

"Naw," said the punter. "That donkey can't win. Give me No. 7 and I'll be sure to have the winner."

"That donkey" was Errant Prince. He made a donkey out of his field, our punter friend and practically every other bettor. The courageous few who supported Errant Prince will never have reason to forget him. He paid $73.80, $25.60, $7.70. Stunned historians couldn't recall when any horse ever paid more at Sandown.

Bobby's Horses Bring Home Bacon

Never known for his stinging speed, Errant Prince stayed on the rail all the way. He capitalized when the tiring leader Morva Glen drifted out, taking Maizie's Pride with her. Without that kind of help Maizie might have made it all by herself.

The win preserved an almost unbelievable record for trainer Bobby Kean. He has sent five horses postward. None of them have failed to bring home the bacon—and in Errant Prince's case—the eggs, toast and coffee, too.

The other principal item of note was the performance of Looks Better. Rarely has a thoroughbred lived up to its name as this one has this year.

Now in the twilight of his career he has been like having a licence to print money for trainer Jimmy Halket. By squeezing out his eighth victory in 16 starts he skyrocketed his 1960 earnings to $5,335.

If all platers were as enterprising there would be fewer owners hanging on by the seat of their pants.

MUTUEL MURMURS . . . Owner Don Craley doesn't normally believe in miracles but he's about ready to. . . . After his grey express, Severance, threw a shoe Saturday, Carley took a look at the hoof, closed his eyes in anguish and moaned that the horse was "finis" for the season. . . . He called in a vet, had the hoof patched and soaked for 48 hours.

Severance couldn't walk on Sunday. . . . On Monday he put the hoof down tenderly, managed a few steps. . . . He walked Tuesday with just a trace of discomfort. . . . He seemed so frisky Wednesday morning, Carley decided to gallop him slowly. . . . "He came back without a trace of soreness," said Carley. . . . "I couldn't believe it. Neither could the vet. He'll run again before the meet is out." . . .

Jockey Charley Ulrich took off his mounts after the fourth race—he didn't "feel well," said presiding stewart Wilson Dunn. . . . First dead heat of the meeting occurred in the fourth when Baby Joe and Foxy Price put their snozzolas together for third place. . . . The mutuel handle was $53,970, up $3,967 over the same day last year. . . . Form chart is on Page 14.

Gary Slices Lead In Aussie Tourney

MELBOURNE (AP)—South African Gary Player picked up three more strokes on Australian Peter Thomson in the seventh round of the international golf tournament today.

With two rounds to be played, Thomson leads with 126-hole total of 492. Player has 495, Stan Leonard of Vancouver 499 and Mike Souchak of the United States 407.

Elliott at It Again

LONDON (AP)—Olympic champion Herb Elliott of Australia Wednesday night ran his fourth sub-four-minute mile within two weeks in winning an international race in 3.59.8 at White City Stadium, beating the four-minute mark for the 17th time in his career. He holds the world record of 3.54.5 for the mile.

Title Flight Final Sunday

Gordon Pellow and Bob Morrison will meet in the 36-hole championship flight final of the Uplands Golf Club Championship Sunday.

Morrison defeated Claude Heggie, 4 and 3, and Pellow downed Dave Humphries, 2 and 1, to earn the berths.

PLANS PLACE BET

Shudda Goes Back To Cautious Style

"Enough is enough," said Shudda Haddim this morning.

Shudda, who makes one play each day during the 14-day race meeting at Sandown Park, knows he was getting too ambitious. So today he decided to get back to more cautious tactics after watching his betting stake shrink to $25.90 when Pegs Lady Jess, packing two bucks belonging to Mr. Haddim on her nose, ran out of the money Wednesday.

That left him with only 90 cents surplus on his starting stake of $25 and he has a deuce of that going on a Dusty George-La Viscaina quinella today.

Friday he's going to try a place bet on Smoggy in the third.

Two Hunters Fined After Island Raid

A joint RCMP-fish and game branch raid in the Gulf Islands over the weekend resulted in fines for two Richmond men.

Robert James Evgington of the gillnetter Gore Bay was fined $25 in Ganges police court for possession of two untagged deer and a further $25 for removing all evidences of sex from a deer.

John Owen Tufnail of the gillnetter Amigo was fined $15 for having an untagged deer in his possession.

Both men were picked up Saturday, Evgington at 1 a.m. and Tufnail in the afternoon.

The raid was carried out after complaints from residents about marauding fishermen and game warden Jack Lenfesty said it was only the first of several planned for this year.

Bucks Begin Training Toil

From CP Reports

Portland Buckaroos of the Western Hockey League opened training at Estevan, Sask., Wednesday—the first training camp of a professional hockey team from Portland since 1950.

Portland withdrew from the former Pacific Coast Hockey League in the summer of 1951 and the league name was changed to the Western Hockey League in 1952.

Portland has the franchise formerly held by the New Westminster Royals. Most of the players and coach Hal Laycoe were with Victoria last year.

In the National League exhibitions, a three-goal attack by Henri Richard gave champion Montreal Canadiens a 6-5 edge over Cleveland Barons of the American League Wednesday night and avenged a year-old insult.

The Barons handed Montreal a 5-3 defeat in an exhibition game last season.

In Edmonton, the NHL's Detroit Red Wings won their ninth straight exhibition game with a 6-2 victory over Edmonton Flyers, Detroit farmhands in the Western League.

At Sudbury, Toronto Maple Leafs had to come from behind to salvage a 4-4 tie with the Wolves before a crowd of 2,816. Leafs lent Wolves four players.

New York Rangers of the National Hockey League and Quebec Aces of the American Hockey League played to a 2-2 tie.

Earl Ingerfield pulled the Rangers out of a 2-1 deficit with a goal past the half-way mark of the third period.

WILLEY TURNING PRO . . . TIRED OF ICE BUCKETS

Ron's Hope Chest Full

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ron Willey, one of Canada's leading amateur golfers, is leaving the "silverware trail" and turning pro after taking some cuts at amateur golf, particularly in British Columbia.

"I don't want to be slapped in the face with any more silverware," the 25-year-old Willingdon Cup golfer said Wednesday.

He said he now is employed by a sporting goods firm as "salesman-professional" and the minute he gives a golf lesson he automatically forfeits his amateur status. He would like to be a club or touring professional some day.

This year the B.C. Golf Association restricted its prizes to silverware instead of golf equipment, cash and gift certificates.

"I'm fed up with B.C. amateur golf and its $30 silver ice buckets," Willey said.

"I don't want to play amateur golf anymore. Not when it costs me so much money and all I get in return is silverware. It's only good for making a pitch to girl friends. You can say 'look at the hope chest I've got'."

He said an out-of-town four-day tournament costs the amateur at least $150 plus the loss of wages.

"Amateurs don't want to play for prestige any more. They want to win a prize, but not silverware."

Willey is a former Alberta junior champion, was B.C. champion last year and this year won the Pacific Northwest title for the second straight year. He was a member of B.C.'s Willingdon Cup team three times and played for Canada in last year's Commonwealth team matches in South Africa.

Toe Hopes Billy Hicke Can Fill Rocket's Spot

TOE BLAKE
. . . no rookies

By TOE BLAKE
Coach, Montreal Canadians
(Written for UPI)

MONTREAL (UPI)—Well, we've won the Stanley Cup five straight years, and I don't hear anybody hollering: "Break up the Canadiens", so it seems we'll start the National Hockey League season without a rookie on the team.

Actually, we have quite a few rookies in the wings. But for them, the training camp seemed awfully dull. Some of my veterans came in too heavy, too lethargic. If things don't change with the season's start, you'll see quite a few rookies in Canadian uniforms.

But before I get to them, let me bid a fond farewell to Rocket Richard the player. After 18 great years, he is sure to be missed. Everybody else on the team looked up to him and counted on him for the important goals.

I made a statement on the day of his retirement that the National Hockey League president, Clarence Campbell, should change the rules to permit us to use two players in his position. It still goes.

But of course we can't. And the lad I'm asking to succeed to his position is Billy Hicke, who is in his second year with us and who spent most of last year on the bench.

Hicke will play on a line with the Rocket's brother, Henri, and with Dickie Moore. If Hicke doesn't make it, there is always the reliable Don Marshall, who has had experience in that spot.

The other two lines are set. It's Jean Beliveau with "Boom Boom" Geoffrion and Marcel Bonin. And Phil Goyette between Andre Pronovost and Claude Provost. That latter trio is a good two-way line and I expect them to pick up in their goal scoring.

That leaves Marshall and Ralph Backstrom as spares. Last year we carried 13 forwards instead of 11, but it meant too much inactivity for some. Ab McDonald was one and he was sold to Chicago.

DEFENCE UNCHANGED

I'd rather have my rookies playing, which is why we sent the Tremblay boys, J. C. and Gilles, to Ottawa-Hull Canadiens, as well as Bob Rousseau. Some of the other good rookies were Wayne Connelly and Terry Harper, up from juniors.

My defence will be the same and I'll take another chance on Jacques Plante in goal. After all, he has won the Vezina trophy five straight years.

I think Chicago will be the team to beat. Last year we went a stretch of 18 straight games without losing. That put us up there. I just hope our guys don't think they can win it again on their press clippings.

Nicklaus Fires 66; U.S. Far in Front

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP)—Power-hitting Jack Nicklaus ripped the Merion East course apart for a record 66 Wednesday and sent the United States into a huge lead in the first round of the second world amateur team golf championships.

Canada tied for 12th among the field of 32 nations, with a score of 76-78-76—230.

Individual Canadian rounds were: Keith Alexander, Calgary, 37-39—76; John Johnston, Vancouver, 38-38—76; Gary Cowan, Toronto, 42-36—78, and Bob Wylie, Calgary, 37-42—79.

Wylie's score did not count in Wednesday's tally for Canada, since only the best three scores of each country's four-man team are taken. He had a 65 in practice Tuesday.

Nicklaus' 66 clipped one stroke off Merion's amateur record set in 1924 by Ducky Corkran. The U.S. team had a first-round total of 208.

No other team among the 32 entered in this world-wide competition was even close.

New Season to Start For City Rugby Clubs

While seven of their number are trying out for another crack at the Yawata Japanese rugby team Victoria rugger players will start the new season this weekend.

They will compete in a trial match Saturday to select a B.C. representative side that will meet the touring Japanese Oct. 8 in Empire Stadium.

Peter Clarke, Sonny Vickery, Lin Paterson, Maurice Preese, Don Burgess, Ray Calton and Paul Beck all played for Victoria Crimson Tide in a 13-11 loss to Yawata last week.

The regular Victoria Rugby Union season will start Saturday with three matches at 2.30 p.m. Oak Bay Wanderers Red and White teams play at Windsor, Victoria "A" meets JBAA at lower Macdonald Park and the "B" squad takes on Royal Roads at Gordon Head Campus.

Naval Technical Apprentices and Venture play Wednesday at Naden. Each team will play 10 matches before Christmas.

FIGHT RESULTS

CHICAGO—Eddie Perkins, 140, Chicago, outpointed Gene Gresham, 137½, Detroit, 10.

OLD FAVORITE of Canadian match fans, Whipper Billy Watson will meet an old rival, huge Gene Kiniski, in feature bout on pro wrestling card at Memorial Arena next Tuesday. Kit Fox is slated to meet "The Outlaw" in semi-main event of four-bout card.

CURRIE WITH STARS

WHL All-Stars Aim at Canucks

SEATTLE (CP) — Players from Edmonton, Calgary, Victoria and Spokane have been named to spots on the Western Hockey League team which meets Vancouver Canucks in the league all-star game in Vancouver Oct. 7, league president Al Leader announced Wednesday.

They will fill positions to which four members of the league-champion Canucks were named in the all-star selections — goalie Hank Bassen, now with Detroit of the National League, and defencemen Brent Macnab, Larry Cahan and Ralph Keller.

Dennis Riggin of the Edmonton Flyers will fill the all-star goal-tending spot. On defence, the stars will have Bill Folk from Spokane, Fred Hucul from Calgary and Hugh Currie from Victoria.

Canucks will have to fill four positions due to changes from last spring. Bassen, defenceman Sandy Hucul, who has retired, and forwards Gordon Vejprava and Danny Belisle are not with Canucks but an effort will be made to bring Bassen to Vancouver for the game.

The all-star lineup, Leader said, will include Riggin in goal, Fred Hucul, Currie, Folk and Gordie Sinclair of Seattle on defence; Guyle Fielder and Rudy Filion of Seattle and Art Jones of Portland at centre; Lou Jankowski of Calgary, Bill MacFarland of Seattle and Roger Dejordy of Edmonton on left wing; and Marc Boileau of Seattle, Arnie Schmautz of Portland and Chuck Holmes of Edmonton on right wing.

The format has been changed from the three previous all-star games which pitted the Prairie division all-stars against those from the coast division.

In future, the all-star team will play against the league champions, with proceeds going to the players benefit fund.

Leader said league directors will meet in Vancouver Oct. 7 in conjunction with the game. The league schedule opens Oct. 10.

Looks Better, well out of the running for three-eighths, started to pick up leaders going down back stretch, gained gradually, came on outside turning for home and got to front approaching finish. Mad Spirit forced early pace then went to front on far side, held on gamely when headed again turning into stretch and managed to get second place in run to wire. Milady Pleases went to front when break came, raced gamely all the way, but had to be satisfied with third money. Prince Alfred made strong bid coming off back stretch on outside of leaders, got up on even terms turning for home, but could not keep up in final sixteenth. Eddie J. lost no time in taking over from Val Read, opened up clear lead on field, was challenged turning for home, but had enough left to hold short margin at wire. Helmer Strom made his bid through final quarter on outside, gained steadily, but could not make winner give way in time. Double Show, in good position back of leaders, tried to take over turning into stretch, but was unable to make winner stop and was outrun for second place. Merrica went evenly back of pace. Colonels March Ahead In 'Little World Series'

TORONTO (CP) — Mack Jones, 21-year-old centre fielder, drove in all the runs with an inside-the-park homer — to lead Louisville Colonels to a 4-1 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs Wednesday night in the opener of the best-of-seven little world series.

Righthander Don Nottebart turned in a sparkling pitching performance for the Colonels, who won the American Association playoffs after finishing second to the pennant-winning Denver Bears, but needed fine relief help from Canadian southpaw Ken MacKenzie to post the victory, his fourth in five playoff decisions.

Nottebart, 13-5 during the regular schedule, had thrown only 95 pitches and limited Leafs to three hits during the first eight innings. The first two men to face him in the ninth singled and the Colonels called on MacKenzie, a native of Gore Bay, Ont., and a graduate of Yale University, to put out the fire.

MacKenzie posted the game's final three outs on 15 pitches but left the 9,615 fans sitting on the edges of their seats after he hit Herb Plews with a pitch to load the bases. However he struck out shortstop Billy Moran to end the game. It was his second strikeout.

The next two games will be played here today and Friday before the series shifts to Louisville for the necessary remaining contests.

"Das Milk-Bone giffs der bone-chewen mitout der bone-splinteren" says Ch. Siegfried's Hans of Munich

Champions agree that a dog needs chewing, for teeth and gums. But he doesn't need the splinters or upset digestion a real bone can give. That's why Milk-Bone, with its firm bone-shape, is just the ticket. Milk-Bone gives a dog all the nourishment of milk, meat, bone-meal and vegetables.

Whatever else your dog eats, he needs Milk-Bone to satisfy his bone-hunger. Get Milk-Bone in the size that suits the size of your dog—regular or large.

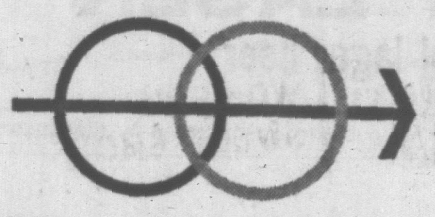
YOU'LL SEE IT SOON!

The new special size BUICKSPECIAL



It took combined GM and Buick ingenuity to work the near miracle which made this car possible.

The best of both worlds

This special-size Buick Special brings you FULL-SIZE LIVING WITH NEW-SIZE CONVENIENCE. Because it's so roomy, so powerful, and rides so smoothly—you won't call it a small-size car. And yet, because it's so savingful to buy, so savingful on gas, so easy to slip into the tiniest places—you won't call it a big-size car. In truth, it's a right-size car which brings you the best of both size worlds.

COMFORT? STRETCH OUT!

Like the new full-size Buicks, the SPECIAL will introduce the new Comfort Zone. This new Comfort Zone has:

more headroom than most new-size cars more legroom than most new-size cars more shoulder room than most new-size cars more total room for comfort

It will have all the interior beauty of the costliest cars. And those soft wide seats will rival your favorite living room chair.

GO? IT'S THE GITTINEST!

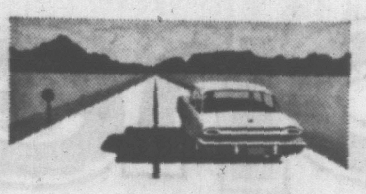
At times, you'll think the other cars have shifted into reverse. The SPECIAL is so much livelier, even livelier than many models in the higher-price fields. And here's the secret behind this new zip:

A NEW ALUMINUM V8!

puts the power in the SPECIAL. It develops astonishing power per pound. The Special got this power without adding weight. And there you have the start of a great gas saving story.

MOST COMPACT, MOST SIMPLIFIED AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION MADE

Not another new-size car has it. Going to aluminum in the Special, car engineers did not have to compromise their car around existing transmission ideas. Instead they could design the liveliest automatic in any car, new Dual Path Turbine Drive which gives you the smoothness of two separate paths of power. It's like having two transmissions continually working as a team—one with an oil connection for infinite smoothness, the other with a direct mechanical connection for greater go and greater gas savings.



RIDE? AN ALL-DAY RIDE!

Here again two car worlds meet. For the Special is a long-trip car in every respect. It's every bit as much at home on the superhighway as it is at the supermarket. As explained above, its COMFORT ZONE gives you surprisingly spacious full-size living. And the way it silences and smooths even beat-up roads is sheer magic. The secret here is The Special's NEW CONTROL ARM SUSPENSION. It's the freshest, most refined suspension idea in a decade. The minutest vibrations of your ride never get past the chassis because new rubber "donuts" sop them up before they can reach the body and its COMFORT ZONE.

NEW HIDE-AWAY DRIVE SHAFT

Buick found a special way to get the drive shaft down lower this year. The technical name, a "constant velocity" universal joint. The simple explanation, a new angle which lowers the drive line. The result, flatter floors and the softer seating, greater foot room and greater headroom of the new COMFORT ZONE.

* * *

All the above—the look, the go, the room, the ride—sound like we're talking about a full-size luxury car. And in those respects the Special is one. But let's look at the other side of the coin—the new-size car world in which the Special is also a celebrity.

SAVINGS? TERRIFIC!

The Special gives you the gas savings of a compact without giving up go-power. It sells in a price area you'll like without giving up looks. The miracle explained: the smartest engineering in years plus the new wonder materials.

EASY PARKING AND STEERING? THE EASIEST!

The Special gives you trimmer size without giving up room. It gives you toe-touch braking without the need for power-brakes. It gives you feather-touch steering without giving up a heavy-car feel.

* * *

So bring two hats when you come see . . . your luxury hat and your compact hat. You'll find you can wear both in the

Dundee Clips Canucks

DUNDEE (Reuters) — The touring Canadian all-star soccer team was beaten 9-1 by Dundee, a Scottish first-division club, in an exhibition game Wednesday night. Dundee led 4-1 at half-time.

The Canadians, travel-weary after arriving from Moscow only six hours before kick-off, were completely outclassed and it was mainly due to their goalkeeper that the score was kept down in the first half.

The Canadian defenders could not cope with Dundee's fast-raiding wingers and hard-shooting inside forwards. The all-stars' attackers were rarely seen in action and they caused their opponents' defence only the slightest trouble.

Canada scored after 10 minutes when a mix-up between the Dundee centre-half and goalkeeper left the net open.

Yale CCFer Asks Ballot Recheck

Times News Service

BOSTON BAR—CCF candidate Evan MacDougall, who trailed Social Crediter Irvine Corbett by 25 votes after Monday's absentee ballot count in Yale riding, will ask for a recheck of ballots.

This is likely to take place Monday, since the returning officer is away on business and will not be back until Friday night.

Mr. MacDougall said he will decide after the recheck of ballots—made by the returning officer—whether he will request a judicial recount, made by a county court judge.

FIRE UNDER CONTROL

NANAIMO — A fire that raced through timber ahead of a strong wind Wednesday now is under control.

The fire had jumped guards at the McKay Lake operation of the Mayo Lumber Company and was headed toward MacMillan and Bloedel and Powell River Company timber in the Nanaimo River area.

HOTEL PLANNED

VANANDA — A $250,000 development, including a 61-room hotel and four or five adjacent stores, is planned for this Texada Island community. M. G. Zorkin and Company of Nanaimo, builders of several shopping centres on central Vancouver Island, said the first phase of the development would cost $150,000.

WANT "RED LINE" RULE

VANCOUVER (CP) — Spokesmen for 2,000 bus drivers in B.C. have asked the Public Utilities Commission to impose a "red line" rule to prevent passengers obstructing the vision of drivers.

Officials of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America (CLC), and the Vancouver Labor Council made the request to Henry Angus, chairman of the PUC.

PARK WORK URGED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Directors of the 76,000-member B.C. Automobile Association have voted to redouble their efforts to have Garibaldi Park developed by one or both of the senior governments.

Harry Duker, chairman of the BCAA's Garibaldi committee, said: "Garibaldi Park is the most important recreational scheme in B.C. and the delaying has got to stop. We're not concerned about the Olympics—we just want the park opened to the people."

HOSPITAL FOR UBC

PENTICTON (CP)—A 500-bed $15,000,000 hospital is planned for the University of B.C. campus, says a member of the UBC medical faculty.

Dr. W. C. Gibson, chairman of UBC's neurological research department, told the Canadian Club the hospital would serve as a training centre for doctors and as a clinic for referral of cases by doctors all over the province.

BOYCOTT NEWSPAPER

VANCOUVER (CP)—A resolution requesting a boycott of The Province, Vancouver morning newspaper, was referred to the resolutions committee at the IWA western district convention here.

The resolution requests the 130,000-member B.C. Federation of Labor to boycott the newspaper. It declares that during the B.C. election campaign The Province "perpetrated a political brain-washing hoax on the people of B.C."

PHILOSOPHER URGES CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE

LONDON (AP)—Bertrand Russell, 88-year-old philosopher, called Wednesday night for a large-scale non-violent civil disobedience campaign in Britain against nuclear weapons. He announced plans to organize a "committee of 100" to run the disarmament drive.

Breakthrough in Cancer Research

NEW YORK (AP) — A newly-found virus associated with human cancers has been reported, but there is no evidence yet whether it may actually cause cancers.

The discovery marks the first time that a virus found in human cancer has produced a new and characteristic disease in laboratory animals.

The discovery was described Wednesday in the September proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

The report was by Drs. Helen Toolan, Gilbert Dalldorf, Marion Barclay, Satish Chandra and Alice Moore of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research, of New York City.

The new virus produces unusual deformities when injected into newborn hamsters. The rodents grow smaller, get flattened foreheads or domed heads, protruding eyes and tongues, fragile bones, abnormal or no teeth. The animals, however, do not become more susceptible to cancer.

The virus is not found in cancer cells growing in the human body. But it does appear when such human cancers are transplanted into animals. The virus is possibly masked or neutralized in the cancer cells growing in the original human host, the researchers said.

COLUMBIA HYDRO PROJECT

Many Details Unsettled

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian-U.S. development of the Columbia River, which now may begin next year, actually consists of a series of projects.

The Columbia presents numerous hydro-generating possibilities along its mountain-rimmed course.

The Kootenay River, rising near the Columbia source, is the main second river involved.

A key factor in development principles completed here Wednesday by the Canadian-U.S. negotiating team will be how much emphasis was put on a preliminary International Joint Commission proposal that most economically-feasible sites be developed first.

For example, some U.S. interests are committed politically to the building of a dam at Libby, Mont., on the U.S. part of the Kootenay River. The project has congressional approval.

But this would back water far into Canada and the economic returns would be marginal by Canadian standards.

It would also remove the later possibility of diverting Kootenay River water into the Columbia to swell hydro production on the Canadian site—part of Canada's plan years ago when Canada and the U.S. were far from seeing eye to eye on the Columbia question.

It has been indicated generally that Canada initially may be more interested in providing storage facilities.

CANADA, U.S. AGREE TO AIRCRAFT TRADE

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada and the United States have agreed to a plane-swap deal under which Canada will purchase 66 Voodoo jet fighters from the United States and the U.S. Air Force will buy 32 Canadian-built CL-44 transport aircraft, an informant said today.

However, other aspects of the deal, aimed at re-equipping Canadian-based CF-100 fighter squadrons, still are under negotiation.

U.K. ABANDONS TRY TO HARNESS H-BOMB

LONDON (AP)—Britain's second big attempt to harness the power of the hydrogen bomb has been abandonded because it costs too much money and manpower.

The Atomic Energy Authority announced Wednesday night that plans to build a revolutionary research machine code-named ICSE have been scrapped.

ICSE—Intermediate Current Stability Experiment—was to have succeeded ZETA, the doughnut-shaped British device which first raised hopes of a breakthrough to the goal of thermo-nuclear energy harnessed in the service of man.

ZETA was hailed as a major scientific experiment—until British scientists finally admitted 15 months ago that it had failed to work.

N.S. Mine on Fire

NEW WATERFORD, N.S. (CP)—Fire deep in the Dominion Coal Company's No. 12 colliery was reported Tuesday to have destroyed several timber roof supports, causing heavy coal falls. An informed source said the fire was believed to have started when a train of coal cars broke loose and struck an electric cable. There were no injuries.

REPRESENTATION 'NOT THE BEST'

U.S. at UN Criticized

United States representation at the United Nations was criticized by Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, former director-general of UN technical assistance administration, Wednesday night.

"It is not what might have been expected from the most powerful country in the world," he said. "On the other hand the Russians have sent their best people to the UN general assembly.

"The quality of Russian participation in assembly debate has until last week been uniformly high."

Dr. Keenleyside told a meeting of the English Speaking Union that Canada has been given a measure of influence and prestige out of proportion to its population.

"This may be attributed to the fine leadership of which Mr. Lester Pearson (Liberal leader) is an example."

He said in some cases Canada had shown "greater influence" in the UN than the United Kingdom.

Search Fails To Find Pair

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—An air and ground search launched last week for a missing priest and his companion has been unsuccessful so far.

Rev. Paul Linsen of Chifornak and Bernard Nurak left Bethel Sept. 16 to return to the village of Chifornak.

They were travelling in a 40-foot open boat and were carrying a cargo of lumber, fuel oil and gasoline. Last Friday, their overturned boat was found at the mouth of the Kuskokwim River, with the cargo missing.

TIGHT RAIL PROBE SCHEDULE SET

A Quagmire of Mathematics

OTTAWA (CP)—The transportation royal commission has issued a tight schedule for hearings into November aimed at hitting its self-imposed Christmas deadline on completing public hearings.

But still to be resolved is the tricky and confusing issue of how to figure out what it costs Canada's railways to move Western Canada's massive grain crop from the Prairies to export terminals at the Lakehead, the Pacific Coast and Churchill, Man.

"I hope that we don't get bogged down in the quagmire of mathematical calculations that many of us don't understand," said commission chairman M. A. MacPherson of Regina.

The schedule set out the sequence of briefs and cross-examination for two three-week sessions—one from Oct. 11 to about Oct. 28, followed by a Nov. 7-25 session.

ALBERTA STARTS IT

Alberta will start Oct. 11 with its submissions on railway and freight rate problems "other than the costing of grain."

After Alberta's case has been cross-examined by railway and other counsel at the hearings, the commission will turn to briefs from the CPR and CNR on railway operations other than the grain trafffic. The railway briefs will also face cross-examination.

The November session is to be devoted to Western submissions on the costing question—a joint brief from Manitoba and Alberta, followed by a joint submission from the three Western wheat pools and the United Grain Growers.

The grain trade, however, first of all will wrap up its submission on general railway problems which was halted Tuesday after the commission supported a CPR objection against any references to costing matters.

QUESTION OF COSTS

After cleaning up this submission the wheat pools are to present their second brief on the cost question itself, followed by cross-examination.

Prairie interests and the railways are at odds over the cost issue. The railways, using abstruse equations, electronic computers and highly-complex statistical procedures to figure out the costs, claim that they are losing about $70,000,000 a year in handling export grain traffic at freight rates pegged by law at the level first set in 1899.

The Prairies dispute the cost calculations and conclusions and oppose a CPR-CNR proposal for a federal subsidy on export grain shipments to offset their alleged losses.

BIG TALKER — The Vienna Fair boasts a guide, Rudolf Ifkovics, who can talk almost anyone's language. This sort of a one-man United Nations boasts signs on his uniform listing the various tongues he speaks.

Atom Inspection Plan Adopted

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A Western-sponsored nuclear inspection plan was adopted 46 to 8 Wednesday in the legal committee of the International Atomic Energy Agency's general conference.

The plan, presented by the United States, Britain, Canada and a bloc of 43 European, Latin-American and Asian nations, provides for a system of controls of agency-supplied nuclear fuels and reactors to prevent their use for military purposes.

The plan was heatedly opposed by the Communist bloc.

INDEPENDENCE DAY SATURDAY

Africa Leadership Role for Nigeria?

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Somehow, Nigeria seems almost too good to be true.

Here it is on the verge of independence, and hardly anybody predicts disaster. Here the white man's conscience bears small reproach. Compared with the Congo, Nigeria gleams as a shaft of hope amid the dark cloud of turmoil in Africa.

Independence day dawns Saturday. It is a tremendous moment, eagerly awaited. The teeming territory that once supplied slave traders with their raw material now constitutes perhaps the first test case of "thought-out freedom," carefully prepared through seven years of negotiation with Britain.

Potentially rich, conservative in outlook and endowed with surprising political sophistication — at least at the upper levels—Nigeria is an awakening young giant that could be a pacemaker in African evolution.

"The chaos in the Congo has no chance of repeating itself in our country," says Dr. Nnamdi Zik Azikiwe, the tall and genial governor-general designate who has worked in North America as dishwasher, miner and elevator boy.

Larger Than B.C.

With its 372,000 square miles, tucked into the armpit of British West Africa, the newest member of the freedom club is a shade larger than British Columbia. Some Canadian visitors have come back comparing its future possibilities with those of their own land.

"It's an unknown, unexploited world of fantastic potential wealth," one tourist told a reporter. "They've even found oil out there."

Nigeria has 36,000,000 people, about one-sixth of the total population of the continent of Africa. It dwarfs Ghana, the first Negro African member of the commonwealth, and it may put Kwame Nkrumah's nose out of joint. It is the most populous Negro state in the world.

There is no large alien community to disturb Nigeria's first steps along freedom road. All but some 20,000 of the population are Africans, representing 250 tribal groups. The main ones are the Hausas in the northern region, the Yorubas in the west and the Iboos in the east.

Major Problem

In temperament and character, they can be as different as Swedes and Sicilians. The difficulty of fusing such diversity in a tropical country where passions sometimes run high is an acknowledged problem.

"We have more to gain by sticking together than by falling apart," says Alhaji Abdulmaliki, high commissioner in London.

But his exuberance and the infectious enthusiasm of other Nigerian leaders, should perhaps be viewed with some reserve.

Most British officials — possibly because of pride in the way the United Kingdom government has nursed Nigeria to independence—predict at least short-term stability in this happy, dynamic country.

Those who see possible trouble ahead stress two points —tribal rivalries and the transference of power to a Negro "establishment," or entrenched elite, which may not be representative of the emerging middle classes.

But a British government official who has been in touch recently with European professors and economists says that all his reports are optimistic.

Shun Power Politics

Many of the old British civil servants are resigning, partly because of dissatisfaction about future prospects in the new regime. This may be offset by the fact that Nigeria is far ahead of the Congo in training its own administrators.

With their federal system and the need for the three regions to run in harness, the new leaders are likely to steer clear of power politics at first. Chief Obafemi Awolowo, leader of the federal opposition, says the choice is between butter and bullets, or between external and internal politics.

All leaders pay tribute to Britain's tutelage, though sometimes unable to resist an oblique reference to past "errors" by colonial rulers. Nigeria is strongly for a Commonwealth link.

Intriguing Land

Friendship does not mean blind approval of all British acts.

"Britain has no closer friend in the world than Canada," Chief Awolowo has written in his autobiography. "But when Sir Anthony Eden bungled the Suez Canal issue, Mr. Lester Pearson, Canada's then foreign affairs spokesman, did not hesitate to castigate him."

Nigeria is a country of tang, color and excitement, as intriguing to outsiders as the indigo-hued robes of its people. On state occasions in the feudal north, they even press into service a kind of public relations man known as the "praise singer," whose function is to precede the Emir in a procession, advertising the boss man to the crowd as a lion or bull elephant or some other powerful animal.

The way Nigerians are feeling on the eve of independence, the praise singer will have to be in full hyperbole to match their mood.

14 Negroes Killed In Rioting

LAGOS (AP) — Police headquarters here today reported that 14 Negroes were killed and 87 injured in tribal rioting in Nigeria's northern region.

Six African police were among the injured.

Serious disorders in the Tiv division of the northern region caused the regional government to cancel Princess Alexandra's visit to the town of Makurdi in the area.

Police say most of the trouble resulted from the Tiv tribesmen's dissatisfaction with the native administration. Its authority has been temporarily suspended by the regional government which has ordered an official inquiry into the disorders.

Meanwhile, a tropical deluge here Wednesday night failed to put the damper on Princess Alexandra at the garden party she gave as part of Nigeria's Independence Week celebrations.

Some of the 1,000 guests ran for cover but the 23-year-old princess, representing her cousin, Queen Elizabeth, smiled all the while as she moved among the crowd, an umbrella over her head.

U.S. Gold Policy Hurts Speculators

JOHANNESBRG (AP) — U.S. Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson's statement that there would be no change in the American price of gold drove gold price speculators out of the Johannesburg stock market today. Prices of gold and financial shares here retreated on a broad front.

SAFE CARTED AWAY BY DARING THIEVES

EDMONTON (CP)—Three daring thieves stole a safe containing $57,000 from the offices of the Civil Service Savings and Credit Union on the fifth floor of the provincial legislature building early today.

A janitor and a night watchman were tied with towels by the masked men, who boldly carted the safe in an elevator to the ground floor of the building and wheeled it out a side door.

PROBATION OFFICER BUSY

New Court Called Success

City welfare administrator William Hooson Wednesday said the four-month-old joint family and juvenile court is showing good results.

"We are pleased with the setup," he said. "I think the court is going to be highly successful. But I think the probation officer is going to find himself overworked soon."

Other city officials also indicated they felt a second probation officer would be needed soon to help handle the volume of cases going through the court which serves Victoria, Saanich and Oak Bay.

TEAMSTERS SPEND $300,000 IN CANADA

More If Needed—Hoffa

VANCOUVER (CP)—Teamster boss James Hoffa said Wednesday night his union is spending $300,000 a year to expand its influence in Canada, "and there will be more if it's needed."

The head of the 1,600,000-member International Brotherhood of Teamsters (Ind.) arrived here Wednesday night by air for talks with local teamster officials and an address to union members.

He told a press conference: "We are continually organizing in Canada. We are pouring $300,000 a year into this great country and there will be more if it's needed.

"We do intend to organize unorganized labor—specifically the transportation industry and the industries closely related to it—merchandisers, grocery stores, all industries which are in any way affiliated with transportation."

Hoffa also indicated a get-tough attitude with the Canadian Labor Congress, which expelled the teamsters for raiding.

Asked about the possibility of the teamsters returning to CLC affiliation, he replied:

"The CLC has approved the teamsters twice in this regard. We have never approached them, and we will never return until teamsters jurisdiction is fully recognized.

WON'T COMPROMISE

"I will not compromise. I will not see 54 years of Teamsters Union activity go down the drain."

Briefed quickly by aides on British Columbia's controversial Trade Union Act—which limits picketing under certain circumstances—Hoffa said: "It will eventually be removed."

He also heaped scorn on Senator John Kennedy, Democratic presidential candidate.

"He's trying to use the Teamsters Union as a stepping-stone to his buying the White House," he said of Senator Kennedy's attacks on the teamsters.

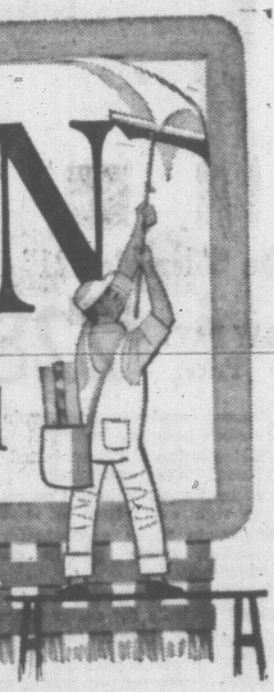
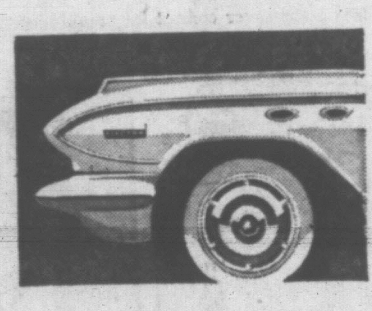
"THE CLEAN LOOK OF ACTION"—BUICK '61



IT TOOK GM AND BUICK TO BUILD A CAR SO BEAUTIFULLY NEW—SO BEAUTIFULLY TRIM ON THE OUTSIDE, YET SO BIG AND ROOMY INSIDE. AND IN TRUTH GM AND BUICK BUILT A COMPLETELY NEW CAR TO DO IT.

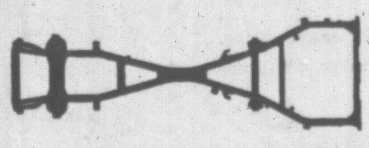


The flow-through horizontal lines of this '61 Buick Electra are part of the new CLEAN LOOK of action found in all 1961 Buicks.

For 1961 you'll find Buick has scored a clean sweep over every car in every price class. A trimmer, lower, lither car that's new clean through. And in basic design Buick was able to start right down on the ground! Thus, its K-type frame became an X-type frame, conventional suspension gave way to Control-Arm Suspension, its Wildcat V8 developed more power, Turbine Drive gave way to a new Super Turbine Drive, far smoother, far more responsive.

It started with an ALL-NEW FRAME

Buick's engineers started with a real open mind. Find a finer frame, they were told. So the K-frame gave way to the X-frame. The result: lower door sills, a smoother, quieter ride, easier handling and better insulation from road shock. New donut-like rubber separations hush out road noise.



The new frame allowed a NEW CONTROL-ARM SUSPENSION

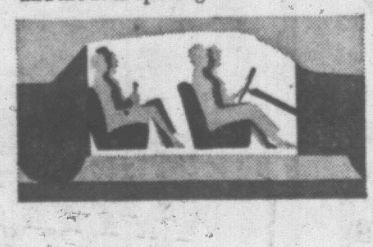
Find finer springing, they were told. So conventional suspension arms gave way to '61 Buick's Control-Arm Suspension. From this came flatter cornering and mirror-smooth going over the bumps as well as the super highways. Buick has a new semi-floating rear axle, too! This combines what engineers call Torque-Tube Drive and Hotchkiss Drive—giving you the finest features of both.

The new axle allowed a NEW HIDE-AWAY DRIVE SHAFT

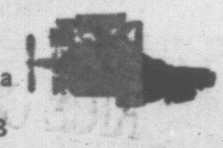
Lower the driveshaft tunnel (the cause of that big hump in the middle of the floor of most cars) was another order. So Buick put a new kind of double-joint into a 2-piece drive shaft. This let it bend down under where your feet rest. And down went the hump to give you far more flat floor space than before.

The new drive shaft allowed a NEW COMFORT ZONE

In addition to flattening out the floor, the Hide-Away drive shaft allowed more headroom, better seat height and more cushioning for all passengers. The new frame allowed lower door sills. And, as for the doorway itself, the dog leg was smoothed away and the door opening made even wider.



And the Clean Look called for the clean getaways of a NEW WILDCAT V8



The cleaner lines alone spelled more power per drop of gas. But the order came down for streamlining within the engine itself. As parts lost friction, power rose. And so did gas savings. Refinement after refinement right down to new calibration for the carburetor and distributors. And what a wildcat this Wildcat V8 became!

This new Wildcat power called for a NEW TURBINE DRIVE

First Buick ingenuity found a way to unload 20 more pounds from this wonder transmission. Then through an ever-so-slight turn in the angle of the turbine blades a whole new source of power and gas savings was brought to life. The Wildcat and this new Super Turbine Drive spell Wow!

'61 IS BUICK'S YEAR

24 New Citizens in Agreement: It's Good to Be a Canadian

It's good to be a Canadian. That was the general view among 24 new citizens from 11 different countries who took the oath of allegiance to Canada today.

It was the largest swearing-in ceremony to be held in Victoria Courthouse for nearly two years. Two more could have been sworn in, having been accepted as Canadian citizens, but did not attend.

Non-British immigrants to Canada have to live here five years before they can qualify for citizenship—unless they are wives of Canadian citizens in which case the required period of residence is one year.

"It is good to become part of this fine land," said Miloslav Havalasek from Czechoslovakia. "I now feel I belong to Canada."

Mrs. Claire Hegar from Switzerland nodded and smiled but made no comment.

A generally subdued atmosphere prevailed in the courtroom as the new citizens awaited the arrival of Judge J. B. Clearihue, who conducted the swearing-in ceremony.

Most of them sat quietly in their places and there was little conversation. Some gave the impression they had been accustomed to regimentation.

VERY FORMAL

"This is a very formal ceremony," said Mrs. H. L. Smith, president of the Greater Victoria Citizenship Council, which always welcomes New Canadians to the city.

"That is why we have a coffee party afterwards. It enables them to loosen up and get to know one another."

UNITED NATIONS

"In this courtroom today we have a miniature United Nations in which 11 different countries are represented. You are living proof that the peoples of many nations can live peaceably together," he said.

Each of the New Canadians took the oath in turn, holding the Bible in one hand while pledging loyalty to Queen Elizabeth and the British Commonwealth.

Admitted to Canadian citizenship were:

NEW CITIZENS

TWO ABSENT

Absent were Waldemar Iltshishin from the Ukraine, who is now a sailor in the Royal Canadian Navy, and Mrs. Janna Hendrika Stephenson from Holland.

They will be given an opportunity to take the oath later.

Work Plans Ready for Jubilee Wing

Working drawings on four floors of the new Royal Jubilee Hospital wing have been completed, board president Courtenay Haddock announced in a progress report today.

Final consultations on the basement are going forward and should be completed shortly. This is a major job as it involves plumbing, heating and all services.

"We expect test holes for footings to be undertaken in the next few weeks," Mr. Haddock told The Times.

"It is too early to set a target date for construction of the new wing, but we are moving along satisfactorily.

NEW EXCHANGE

"The new telephone exchange, which was a big and complicated problem, went into operation at 9 p.m. Wednesday and is a decided improvement.

"The work on kitchens should be finished in about three weeks."

Mr. Haddock said that architect Fred Towney will be in Victoria next week for consultation with directors and consultants.

Mill Foreman Hit by Timber Dies Instantly

No Witness To Accident

Sawmill night foreman Harvey Chadwick, 26, of Ladysmith, was killed instantly Wednesday at the Mayo Lumber Co. mill, near Nanaimo, when hit on the head by a piece of timber.

An inquest will be held.

There were no witnesses to the accident which took place shortly after 10 p.m.

However, a company spokesman said it is believed the victim was straightening a piece of timber at the bottom of a conveyor chain moving upwards, when a timber further up the chain worked loose and dropped on him.

The piece measured 20 feet in length, 12 inches wide and six inches thick.

Chadwick was wearing a safety hat at the time but it was not sufficient protection against the blow.

He had been an employee of Mayo seven years and had lived in the Nanaimo district all his life.

Survivors include the widow and four children.

DELICATE AND POTENTIALLY DEADLY operation was carried out by these B.C. Electric linemen Wednesday, who used long-armed tongs to handle live 60,000-volt wires. It was the first time that such high voltage had been handled live and each move by Harry Marcus and Doug Fulcher was carefully directed from a supervisor on the ground. Tongs were used to tie-in a substation unit to the "hot pole" near Malahat summit without interrupting power service in the Malahat, Shawnigan Lake and Bamberton areas. The team made several "dry run" practices on dead wires before attempting the hazardous feat.

Two Men Jailed For Driving While Licence Suspended

Two city men were given jail terms in city police court today on charges of driving while under suspension.

Allan Curtis, 1137 Johnson Street, was jailed by Magistrate William Ostler for 45 days after admitting he drove a car on Aug. 10 although his licence had been indefinitely suspended since July, 1958.

In addition he was fined $15 for failing to obey a stop sign.

Gordon Freer, 3801 Quadra, was jailed for 15 days after pleading guilty to driving a car on Cook Street Wednesday night while under suspension.

City Contractor Dies Aged 77

David Walter Burnett, president of Island Building Supply Co. for 26 years and well-known local contractor, died today in St. Joseph's Hospital aged 77.

Born in Winnipeg, he had lived in Victoria since 1909.

The residence here was 620 Hampshire.

Survivors include one son, Harry, Victoria; two daughters, Mrs. G. R. Laird, Victoria, and Mrs. R. F. Hood, North Vancouver; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; also two brothers, Herbert and Hugh of Vancouver.

Funeral will be in McCall's chapel Saturday at 3.30 p.m.

Cafe Scene Of Morning Scuffle

Accused was remanded to appear again Friday, when a date will be set for the preliminary hearing.

Magistrate William Ostler set bail at $7,000.

Cameron laid a complaint with police that he was struck on the arm by a man wielding an axe at 5.45 a.m. last Thursday, in the Melrose Cafe on Yates Street.

When questioned by police, Altorjai, a Hungarian, claimed he had been attacked by three men in a cafe.

He told police he did not have an axe with him.

'REUNION' COMING

Old Chest To Return To Family

A massive black oak chest originally built for Edward Winslow in 1654 will eventually be returned to his descendants in Victoria, it was learned today.

A. Douglas Ford, 88-year-old Victoria resident, bought the chest from a dealer in England around the turn of the century and brought it to Victoria in 1913.

It has stood on the landing of his home at 1012 Terrace since 1915.

Today Mr. Ford revealed that he is making plans whereby the chest will ultimately be returned to the family of F. E. Winslow of 1044 Craigdarroch.

"I cannot say any more than that at present," Mr. Ford said.

Mr. Winslow, former manager of the Royal Trust Co. in Victoria, has been in poor health for some time.

He spent years trying to trace the family chest in different parts of England, but did not discover it until he visited Mr. Ford's home a few years ago.

Mr. Winslow is a direct descendant of the Edward Winslow who crossed the Atlantic with the Pilgrim Fathers in the Mayflower in 1620.

Conciliation Chief Dies in Hotel Here

The man who led B.C.'s conciliating team in thousands of labor disputes was found dead in his room at the Empress Hotel Wednesday.

It is understood he suffered a heart seizure.

He was in Victoria to attend a conference of labor administrators.

His art was that of breaking labor and management deadlocks and bringing disputing parties together.

Although he was past retirement age, the government had granted a special extension for this year because he was so valuable to the department.

"He always did a magnificent job," said a government colleague today.

BIG DISPUTES

He served many times as mediator in big disputes, including recent ones involving the International Woodworkers of America, one of B.C.'s biggest unions.

Born in Falkirk, Scotland, Mr. Fraser served in the Canadian Expeditionary Force in the First World War.

He was an electrician in Vancouver before joining the labor department in 1944 as a conciliation officer.

He was appointed chief conciliation officer in 1953.

Mr. Fraser is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charles Peevor, of Invermere, and Mrs. Norman Pringle of North Vancouver, and a son, William Brett Fraser of Chilliwack.

Funeral services will be held Saturday in Vancouver.

$1,300 In Legion Awards Won By Island Students

Four students at the University of Victoria will share $1,300 in scholarships awarded by the B.C. and Northwestern States Command of the Canadian Legion, it was announced today.

A $400 scholarship has been awarded to Ross Maconachie of Victoria, and $300 scholarships have gone to Margaret Austin and Patrick Warrington of Victoria and Lynn Meredith of Comox.

The university scholarships were among 20 awarded by the Canadian Legion in B.C.

In addition, six scholarships were given to B.C. high school and nursing students, including a $300 award to Audrey L. Stasuik of Nanaimo.

ASK The TIMES

Q — What exactly is ambergris? M.C.

A — It's a waxy substance found floating on the sea or in the stomachs of sperm whales. It has a fragrant musky odor when warmed and is used as a highly valuable fixitive in fine perfumes. It seems to be associated with the digestive process on beaks of squid the whales consume, although this is not authenticated.

A—Actress Bankhead is 57.

Toddler Sets From Holland Both Washable and Smart

By PENNY SAVER

I've found coat and legging sets for tiny toddlers that are imported from Holland. Easy to care for they are made in an all-cotton fabric called Heek suede that has all the luxurious look of suede yet can be washed over and over again.

Ones I saw this week would fit a child anywhere up to two years of age. They come in rose, pink, turquoise, sand, deep blue or baby blue. All are priced at $9.95. Ones for little boys have matching caps, complete with peak and ear flaps, while little girls' outfits are complemented with a dainty bonnet.

Leggings are complete with snaps on inner seams, to make dressing baby an easy matter. Tiny teddy bears, polar bears and other animals are embroidered on the smart coats.

Double-breasted coats have Peter Pan collars, are elasticized at waists and have a centre back panel with flap and button treatment.

Have you been invited to a shower for a "lady-in-waiting"? If so, you'll be interesteed in special on flannelette diapers that's now on in one downtown children's store. Package of a dozen diapers, bearing a well-known brand name, are selling at $2.98. Regular price is $3.98.

Little girls and older sisters love to snuggle down in cosy ski pyjamas on chilly fall evenings. Brand new shipment just received by another downtown store is certainly going to prove popular with feminine members of the family.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

Uniforms of the RCMP Worn for Evening Vows

Wearing the scarlet uniform of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Const. Kenneth Norman Gale, RCMP, exchanged marriage vows with Miss Margaret Ann Warren in St. Mary's Anglican Church, Oak Bay. Canon Hywel Jones conducted the double-ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Warren of Victoria and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gale of Calgary. Red and white gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the altar and chancel.

For her marriage, the dark-haired bride chose a gown of white taffeta. Scoop neckline was outlined with Alencon lace studded with iridescent sequins. Sleeves were lily point. Full, sweeping skirt ended in a graceful cathedral train. Her silk illusion veil cascaded from a sequins and pearl coronet and she carried a bouquet of off-white roses. She was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Winton Gale, matron of honor, wore a turquoise taffeta and chiffon dress. Her accessories were en tone and she carried a bouquet of red and white carnations. Bridesmaid Miss Joyce Elliott wore a similar outfit in beige.

Best man, Const. Winton Gale, RCMP, and usher, Const. Peter Church, RCMP, wore their scarlet uniforms.

At reception in the Golden Slipper Supper Club, newly-weds cut a three-tier wedding cake. It was topped with white doves holding silver rings. Bride's brother, Peter Warren, looked after guest book. Cedric Kearley, her uncle, proposed the toast.

Leaving on a wedding trip to California, the bride donned a beige silk dress, matching coat and hat and green accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

The Perky Continental Touch Adds Zest to Any Meal Menu

Visitors to Europe are invariably delighted by the wonderful, "home-baked" quality of the bread and rolls served along with the meals in every restaurant. A big basket of bread is usually placed on every table, and there is a decided temptation to fill-up on the bread before the actual meal is served.

Today's recipe for continental rolls will bring back fond memories for many returned travellers. These delicious, crusty rolls are actually made from a simple recipe similar to French bread. It contains no fat, very little sugar, and uses water as the liquid ingredient. They have a moist, open texture and attractively glazed crusts sporting four little peaks on top.

This is a tasty way of perking up a simple cold cuts and salad luncheon, or an omelette plus cheese and fruit meal.

CONTINENTAL ROLLS

Half cup lukewarm water, 1 teaspoon granulated sugar, 1 envelope active dry yeast, 1½ cups lukewarm water, 1 tablespoon granulated sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 5 cups (about) once-sifted all-purpose flour, 1 slightly-beaten egg white and 1 tablespoon cold water.

Measure the ½ cup lukewarm water into a large bowl; stir in the 1 teaspoon sugar. Sprinkle with yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, then stir well. Stir in the 1½ cups lukewarm water, 1 tablespoon sugar, salt and 2½ cups of the flour. Beat until smooth and elastic. Work in sufficient additional flour to make a soft dough—about 2½ cups more. Turn out dough onto floured board or canvas and knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Grease top. Cover.

Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 1¼ hours. Punch down dough. Turn out onto a lightly-floured board or canvas and knead until smooth. Divide dough into 3 equal portions; shape into balls. Cover with a tea towel and let rest 5 minutes.

Form each ball of dough into a roll 8 inches long. Cut each roll into eight 1-inch pieces. Form each piece into a small ball. Arrange balls about 3 inches apart on greased cookie sheets. With scissors, make a cross ½ inch deep in the top of each roll. Cover with a tea towel.

Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 15 to 20 minutes.

Remove from oven and brush the rolls with slightly-beaten egg white mixed with the 1 tablespoon cold water. Return to oven and bake 2 minutes longer. Remove from cookie sheets at once. Yield 2 dozen rolls.

DEAR ABBY

Short and Snappy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I just received a letter from my sister telling me her son is marrying a high-class girl in November and a formal wedding invitation will follow.

We have a brother, Charlie, who lives on a farm. Charlie's wife works the soil and runs the tractor like a man. She is a good woman but she doesn't go to beauty parlors and keep herself up like some women who have more time.

My sister said she was counting on me to see to it that Charlie gets a haircut for the wedding and his wife washes herself up real good and dresses right. I am no good at getting so personal with people. How can I handle this?

CITY SISTER.

DEAR CITY SISTER: Write your sister and tell her if she wants to be sure all the relatives clean up for her wedding she should do her own dirty work.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter went to a dance with a girl friend, but they didn't come home together. They each met a boy at the dance and hooked rides home that way. My daughter got home at 1.30 a.m., as she said she would. Her girl friend got home at 5.30 a.m. She lied to her mother and said she was with my daughter all that time. Should I tell the girl's mother? My daughter is 19 and her girl friend is 18. CONCERNED.

DEAR CONCERNED: If your daughter had stayed out until 5.30 a.m. with a fellow she met at a dance, wouldn't you want to know? "Do unto others . . ."

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Before my wife and I were married she was the most affectionate little thing in the world. We have been married only two years and now every time I go to kiss her she tells me I need a shave. What do you think is the matter with her? NEEDS LOVE.

DEAR NEEDS: The matter with her? Maybe you just need a shave.

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter in your column from the mother who was tired of picking up after her 18-year-old daughter who kept her room in a mess. You told her to quit nagging the girl about it, to close the door to her bedroom and let her wade around in the mess until it became so the girl would decide to clean it up herself. Having the identical problem myself, I followed your advice. Abby, I could kiss you! After living in complete disorder for six weeks, my daughter "lost" two shoes (unrelated), four belts, three sweaters, a book and her good evening purse. I went into my room and laughed until I cried because she spent all day Saturday cleaning up her room. Thanks a million.

GRATEFUL MOTHER.

BETWEEN OURSELVES

European Custom of Serving Fruit Intrigues City Woman

By Elizabeth Forbes

My friend Jean, only recently returned from a three-month visit to Europe, is filled with enthusiasm for some of the customs she found on that continent. Among them is the habit of serving fruit as a final course with practically every meal.

Forbes

"It wasn't only in homes we visited," my friend Jean says, "it was in the inns and pensions, too, where meals were being served to paying guests."

With expressive gestures, she goes on to explain: "The fruit comes to the table in a basket, or perhaps on a large serving tray. Sometimes there is a gay bow of ribbon on the basket, or on the edge of the tray.

"The basket is set in the centre of the table and it stays there. It's yours. At all the other tables in the room there will also be baskets or trays of fruit."

With a wave of her hand Jean explains that at each place there's a small plate, a fruit knife, fork and spoon and beside the plate, a bowl of water.

Ritual goes something like this. You select your fruit from the basket or platter, then you wash it in the bowl of water in front of you.

"That's the last time you touch it with your fingers," Jean says. "Once it is on your plate, you work with the knife, the fork and the spoon.

"You can peel, slice, quarter and spoon the fruit, but you keep your fingers away from it."

Her brown eyes sparkle as she adds: "It's a lovely custom. Once you get used to it, you wouldn't get up from the table until you have had your fruit, any more than you would leave without a beverage."

My friend Jean liked the custom so much she has adopted it since she came home. Meals in her home now invariably end with the bowl of fresh fruit on the table. And, believe it or not, her friends are beginning to like the idea as much as she does.

Some Do It In Canada, Too!

Mind you, there are those in Victoria who would tell you this is a good old Canadian custom, too. That our grandparents used the same gracious way of ending a meal and that many of their descendants still carry on the custom.

In fact, I know a hostess in Victoria, Mrs. C. C. Wyatt, who, as long as I have known her, has never been without a bowl of fruit on her dining room table—whether it's mealtime or not. Her husband says the custom goes back right to the first days of their married life.

Where did Lottie Wyatt get the idea? Her mother did the same sort of thing in her home and she also remembers that her grandmother did it, too.

Friends together in Scotland recently were Miss I. M. (Peggy) Jackson, right, of this city, and Miss Williams, formerly of Victoria and now living in Edinburgh. They were pictured on the ramparts during a visit to Edinburgh Castle where they learned some of the building's turbulent history from the Cameron Highlanders. Miss Jackson is expected to return to her home on Currie Road in Victoria at the end of this month. (British Travel Association Photo.)

Washington and B.C. Interior Honeymoon Taken by Newlyweds

A honeymoon motoring to Lake Chelan, Wash., then on to Okanagan Falls to attend the marriage of the bride's brother, and returning to Victoria via Kamloops and the Fraser Canyon, followed the marriage of Jean Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ross, and Dennis Allan Whysker, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Whysker, all of Victoria.

First United Church was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums, gladioli and golden rod for the ceremony conducted by Dr. W. G. Wilson assisted by Rev. A. L. Higgins. Dr. Wilson also married the bride's parents.

Organist was Mrs. Roberto Wood and soloist was Mrs. David McMorran.

The attractive bride entered the church on her father's arm. Her gown of white lace over satin was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and lily point sleeves. A headdress of matching lace medallion appliques and stiff lace held her fingertip veil. White gardenias, yellow rosebuds and stephanotis were in the bridal bouquet.

As attendants Miss Linda Ross and Miss Jane Ward, wore identical dresses in turquoise sheer over printed taffeta. Their velvet bow bandeaux were trimmed with tiny veils and they carried yellow chrysanthemums and leaves. Junior bridesmaid, Miss Helen Taylor, wore a yellow sheer frock and carried a bouquet of turquoise chrysanthemums. Her headband was of matching flowers.

Best man was R. Whysker Jr., and ushers were Ian Ross, Kelowna, and Harley Dahl, Edmonds, Wash.

The church Fellowship Hall was decorated with yellow roesbuds and sweet peas for a reception arranged by the Pas-a-Pas Group, of which the bride's mother is a member. A three-tier cake centred the bridal table. Jack Chapman proposed the toast.

A brown wool basic dress topped with a peach toned shortie coat was worn by the new Mrs. Whysker for her going-away ensemble. Her hat was of feathers and accessories were in brown. An orchid corsage completed the ensemble.

Couple will make their home in Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Andrew, 2544 Dunlevy, who celebrated a 50th wedding day recently have been on a second honeymoon trip to the U.S. They left Victoria immediately after an anniversary dinner arranged for them by friends, at the Princess Mary Restaurant. Their marriage took place in Calgary on Sept. 21, 1910, and they came to Victoria to live 10 years ago.

Women Step Away From Assuming Managerial Positions Club Says

Only a relatively small proportion of working women are acting in a managerial capacity, it was decided at a workshop arranged for last Monday evening's meeting of Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club.

This condition is due in part to unwillingness of women to accept full responsibility and, in some cases, to a lack of opportunity.

Program was arranged to follow a similar workshop on employment conditions for women, held at biennial convention of Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, in Winnipeg in the summer.

Findings at Monday's meeting showed grave concern for mounting unemployment statistics as they affect the whole economy. Seasonal unemployment was pinpointed as one cause, and it was felt greater effort should be made to spread the employment period over the full year.

Every woman should have the right to work, whether married or single, it was decided, but a married woman with young children should not work unless she is the breadwinner of a family. Retirement age of both men and women should be 65, with provision made for either men or women to retire at 60 if they wish.

Other conclusions were a belief that greater planning for retirement should be made by women; that practical assistance should be given the older woman who wishes training or re-training in order to find gainful employment. A counselling service would be invaluable, it was felt.

In this modern age, education does not meet the requirements demanded by available work, it was argued, and curriculums should be changed to give youth a greater awareness of its responsibilities and a higher standard of achievement.

Two National Film Board presentations on employment were shown by Miss McKee. Workshop was thanked by Margaret Harvey.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Life Is Great! And There's So Much More of It Now

Wouldn't it be terrible to realize as a baby that your life expectancy is only 18 years? That's what it was in ancient times. The only consolation would be that at such a tender age you would not know what you were going to miss!

Josephine

Horrible thought! I'm holding onto my connective tissue, hoping they will make it 100 for me!

Life expectancy at birth in this country 200 years ago was only 36 years. Today, based on current mortality figures, it is 73.7 for females and 67.2 for males.

Today a young man in North America at the age of 18 has a life expectancy of 51.6 years, and a young woman an expectancy of 57 more years. At 30 years of age he has an expectancy of 40.5, and she of 46.2 years. At 60 the figure is 15.9 years for the man, and 19 years for the woman. It seems that the longer you can take it the more you get.

Reflected in these statistics is the tremendous victory of medicine over infant mortality and many diseases such as smallpox and diphtheria.

Much more is now known about nutrition and the effect of emotions on the body. Polio has been conquered and sooner or later cancer and heart diseases and all of the vascular troubles will fall under the axe of medical research.

This is such an exciting time in which to be living. So many wonderful things have happened in just the last few years and so many more miracles are just over the horizon. Of course, to me, radio and television still are miracles.

I myself would settle for living on this little old earth about a thousand years and never visiting the moon, because I have not had nearly enough time to explore all of the wonders of this small orb or the people who live on it.

Why not take advantage of all the knowledge now available about longevity and especially about prolonging the youthful years of life? And why not enjoy every day as it comes up with the sun?

BEAUTY HINTS

Exercise Trims Flabby Upper Arm

The forearm quite often stays slim and nicely rounded. The reason for this, of course, is that your forearm, either in housework or office work, gets much more use.

But if you like to wear formal evening gowns or if you're fond of sleeveless late-day dresses, don't give up the ship. Tackle problem with exercise.

One of the best is the backstroke used by swimmers. This you can do standing on the rug in your bedroom just as well as you can do it in water. To make sure that you are doing it correctly, ask a friend who swims (if you do not) to show you just how it's done.

You'll be able to feel the pull on the muscles of the upper arm as you exercise. About thirty strokes is right for the first day. Gradually work up to fifty after that.

FUZZ ON LIP

If you have a dark fuzz on your upper lip which must be removed every two weeks or so, be careful about using a chemical remover over a long period of time. You're almost certain to have an unpleasant skin reaction sooner or later.

It's better and safer to use a peroxide bleach (ask your druggist to make it up for you) on this fuzz. Bleach will render it invisible and sooner or later, because it turns the hair brittle, may reduce the amount of fuzz.

Instructions at Tea Party—Mrs. Ed Savannah, centre, was hostess at a tea earlier this week at her Cook Street home where members of the Women's Committee to Victoria Symphony Society, went over plans for serving those invited to a reception in Oak Bay Beach Hotel, Monday evening, following the symphony concert in Royal Theatre. Successful drive for season ticket-holders was also a topic of conversation. Serviteurs for the reception include, from the left, Mrs. G. A. Neely, Mrs. G. A. Gray, Mrs. Savannah, who is in charge of arrangements; Mrs. W. B. Anders and Mrs. B. A. Camp.

Britain's Woollens for Autumn Light in Colors and Washable

LONDON, Eng. — In the fashion field many wholesale houses in Britain have surprised the trade by showing many light colored woollens in their autumn collections. The reason for this apparently "impractical" trend is the striking recent developments in the wear and wash qualities of woollen goods, especially in overcoming wool's habit of shrinking. The wool materials shown have been treated with a new shrink-resistance process which has been undergoing careful and prolonged tests. It has obviously now been widely accepted in the wool industry.

Susan Small showed several of her "casuals" in this new "miracle" wool, which will not shrink, as did other wholesale houses who export to Canada. These garments will be the first of their kind to appear in Canada.

Realizing the inherent shrinkage of woollen goods when laundered was a serious sales deterrent in the day of modern, easy-care fibres, the British wool industry has been working hard to overcome it. Shrinking now seems to be effectively counteracted.

The new process, which has brought wool into line with the man-made fibres in wash-and-wear characteristics, is known as Dylan.

It is already in use in many countries, over a wide range of knitted and woven wool garments which require regular washing.

In the past, washing of wool outer garments has not been recommended, but it is claimed these can all be safely washed. It also improves whiteness of wool, and pale colors retain their brilliance.

All knitted garments have a strong point of sales value when they can be laundered at home — including double knit jersey. Several of the garments in the London autumn collections are of jersey. They can now be handwashed. Dylan is also the reason they are now being made in the U.K. in the lighter "impractical shades."

Children's wear, woollen lingerie and sweaters will soon be confidently bought in Canada in the correct size, as well as socks and woollen stockings, without any fear of shrinkage.

Give Up Bridge, Use Influence In Wider Field

MONTREAL (CP)—Women can no longer afford to engage only "in rattling teacups and playing bridge," Mrs. Lee Ozbirn, international president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, said Tuesday.

Mrs. Ozbirn, of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Washington, said in an interview women have an opportunity and responsibility "to influence the international climate."

"Women's organizations must direct their great power toward helping solve the problems of today."

She is in Montreal to attend a joint meeting of the federation and the National Council of Women in Canada which starts Friday.

"Women are so tired of going to meetings and being talked to and never having a chance to say anything," she said.

Clubwomen's News

Sunshine Guild — Dr. Norah Hughes was a new member at meeting of Guild of Sunshine at Ganges, Salt Spring Island. Mrs. George Lowe presided and Mrs. W. Byers reported on visits to Dr. Francis Convalescent Home at Ganges. Plans were made for the annual fall sale and tea in mid-November.

That Fish Has Prestige

TORONTO (CP) — Canada's department of fisheries would like to see more Canadians eat more fish.

"It's as good for you as a serving of meat, eggs or poultry," says Margaret Myer, chief of the home economics section.

Canadians are turning from their "fish on Friday" attitude, she says, and are serving fish every day of the week.

"Fish now can be looked upon as a prestige food." This she attributes partly to the many seafood specialty restaurants which have sprung up across the country.

Miss Myer, during a recent visit to Toronto, explained that Canadian consumption of fish now is 13½ pounds per capita each year. This includes only fish sold in stores.

Fish is good for low calorie diets, Miss Myer said. Cod, haddock, sole, pickerel, black bass and all shell fish are low in fat.

"Of course it depends on what you do with the fish. Lobster is not rich by itself but if each bite is dripping in butter it certainly is," she said.

Fish is cooked by thickness, not according to weight. She recommends 10 minutes baking time for each one-inch of thickness and 20 minutes for each inch if the fish is froze. Preheat the oven to 450 degrees.

Years of Beauty

Your favorite sweaters and other knitted garments will stay good as new for years of beautiful life when you wash them with ZERO. Specially made to wash wool, Orlon and Ban-Lon in cool, tepid or lukewarm water, new ZERO will give your knitted garments the finest possible care with no danger of shrinking or matting. They'll stay soft and color bright for only a cent a garment . . . even less with the large size ZERO. Look for the package with big red "Z".

TRANSFUSION REFUSED BY LOGGER

NANAIMO — Logger Kenneth Pollock, a Jehovah's Witness, would not have died if he had not refused a blood transfusion on religious grounds, a coroner's jury heard here Wednesday.

Two doctors testified that the 54-year-old logger had been in good condition at Nanaimo General Hospital after a log rolled and crushed his leg in a Nanaimo River logging operation.

Both the medical men, Dr. H. A. Philcox and Dr. Eric Cooper, asked Pollock's wife to confer with him on the transfusion, but she agreed with her husband.

FROM SHOCK

The doctors testified the injured man was suffering from shock which could have been overcome by the transfusion. No vital organs were injured.

The jury's verdict was accidental death.

DUNCAN DOG WINS PRIZE AT LADNER

With more than 10 dogs competing, this was an outstanding win and was accomplished in rainy weather on a 20-acre field.

Second places were tied with both dogs coming from Salt Spring Island, belonging to Norman Mowat and William Evans. The event is scheduled for Matsqui next year.

Sewer Program Explained To Ratepayers

COURTENAY — A public meeting will be held here to answer questions on the proposed new $760,000 sewer program. It will be held in the lower Native Sons Hall at 8 p.m., Oct. 12.

Mayor W. C. Moore and aldermen will explain the scheme to ratepayers, scheduled to vote on the project Oct. 14.

If approved, the money by-law would provide sanitary sewers throughout the city over a two-year construction period.

TRAFFIC FINES

DUNCAN — Traffic fines in Duncan court this week:

James Thomas, Nanaimo, $25 and $5.50 costs for driving without a licence.

Francis D. Cotton, Duncan, $45 for speeding.

Desmond S. Johnston, Duncan, $40 for speeding.

Ernest MacDonald, Parksville, $45 for speeding.

Leslie Readman, Comox, $45 for speeding.

William Pearce, Victoria, $45 for speeding.

Robert Wilson, Nanaimo, $45 for speeding.

John Wormald, Victoria, $35 for speeding.

M. J. Sims, Victoria, $35 for speeding.

Austin Willis

One of Canada's best-known stage, screen and television personalities—Austin Willis—is now being presented to the local radio audience in a refreshingly-different type of five-minute daily program. It is called "Stories to Remember" and it features Mr. Willis narrating intriguing vignettes of life picked up in his travels through many lands. These stories are unusual, often poignant, frequently humorous, sometimes ironic—always deeply interesting. "Stories to Remember" is brought to you by MATINEE, the cigarette that tastes right all day . . . and is heard each day Monday through Friday on CKDA at 9.25-9.30 a.m.

WAR VETS VISIT GANGES HARBOR

GANGES — Fifty-one war veterans from Victoria recently visited Salt Spring Island, guests of the Salt Spring branch of the Canadian Legion during a two-hour stopover while on a cruise aboard the MV Motor Princess.

They included six patients from the Veterans' Hospital in Victoria, and among the ranks were four men who had served in the South African war and three women veterans. Heading the party was R. B. Shaw, first vice-president of the Britannia branch, Canadian Legion.

They were met on arrival at the Ganges wharf by a color party from the local Legion, while marching tunes of the First World War were played over a loud-speaker. The veterans were greeted by John R. Sturdy, president of the Salt Spring Island branch.

VANCOUVER ISLAND NOTES

Seven-Digit Dial System

SOOKE—Dial telephone system here, now completed and undergoing tests prior to being made operative Oct. 15 at 11.01 p.m., will be the first on Vancouver Island to have seven-digit numbers.

All numbers will begin with the figures 472, instead of the customary two letters and a figure, then will have individual variation in the last four digits.

An interim directory will be mailed to subscribers.

PORT ALBERNI—Sum of $12,500 has been voted by city council as the city's share of direct payroll costs of the forthcoming winter work program here.

When federal and provincial allotments are considered, it will mean about $50,000 will be available for the program.

★ ★ ★

GANGES — Extra accommodation offered by Mouat Bros. in their store here has made it possible to extend Salt Spring Island Centennial Library into two rooms instead of one.

The library now has 2,800 books, including 200 on loan from the provincial library commission, and 400 members.

SAANICHTON — Elk Lake-Patricia Bay pipeline, built during the Second World War to serve Patricia Bay Airport, will be taken over by Central Saanich municipality Oct. 15.

Purchase from the federal government has been completed and plans are being made for construction of a reservoir.

Reeve H. Rupert Brown said several requests for the cost of supplying water to small areas have been received at the municipal hall.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to D'Anne Sudeman, age 9 of Wichita, Kan., for her question:

What Is Rose Quartz?

This lovely mineral is named for the pale pink petals of the tenderest rose. It is rated as a semi-precious stone. In color, it is quite as beautiful as the sapphires, emeralds and rubies. However, it is far from rare and therefore not as valuable as the so-called precious stones. Once in a great while, we find a nodule of rose quartz in which the light dances and sparkles like the star in a star sapphire. Then it is not hard to imagine that we are gazing at a delicate rose, frozen forever inside a glassy stone.

Quartz mineral is a compound of the elements silicon and oxygen. These are the two most plentiful elements present in the rocks of the earth's crust. We are not surprised, then, to learn that quartz itself is the most plentiful of all minerals. In one form or another, it makes up 12 per cent of the rocks of the earth's crust. Of these vast mountains of quartz, however, only a very small proportion is rose quartz.

Most of the sand on the sea shores is made from common quartz. Those milky white, egg-shaped pebbles are also made of quartz. Jet black flint, hard and shiny, is also made of quartz. The most beautiful quartz, however, forms in glassy crystals. When this mineral is glassy clear it is called rock crystal. It is cut and made into jewelry and sometimes sold as imitation diamond. True diamond, however, is harder and more fiery than rock crystal. It rates in class one on the scale of mineral hardness. Quartz is in class seven, which makes it a little less hard and durable than the precious stones.

Colored by Hydrocarbons

Smoky quartz crystal may be brown but is more often some shade of smoky grey. It gets its color from hydrocarbon chemicals which come from decaying animal or vegetable material. False topaz, or yellow quartz crystal, is also colored by hydrocarbon chemicals.

Some of the loveliest quartz crystal looks like frozen pansy petals. This is the beautiful amethyst. We often find clusters of amethyst hidden inside a pebble of milky white quartz. Cat's eye, glowing and striped with buried colors of brown, green and yellow-grey, is also quartz crystal. As this mineral formed, a few silken threads of asbestos were trapped inside the glassy crystal.

Rose quartz is a member of this glamorous family of mineals. In the making of it, a trace of manganese or titanium was added to the recipe. Lumps and chunks of the rosy stone are found in many parts of the world. But the best places to search for rose quartz are among the Black Hills of South Dakota and near Paris, Maine. There the stones are plentiful and most beautiful.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"I didn't work for 10 years—I couldn't get myself arrested!" thundered Pat O'Brien—and he cocked his cigar at an Irish angle that said, "But I'm workin' now, Pal."

PAT O'BRIEN
... I'm workin' now

"Your Broadway friends never suspected it," I said.

"I never peeped and I never got bitter. And the girl on my right"—Pat flicked a cigar ash in the direction of his wife Eloise — "never complained. People thought I was living on residuals. What residuals?"

As the star of a whopping big new TV series, "Harrigan and Son," all about a law firm, Pat's about to stage an All-American comeback. He freely confessed his comparative unemployment at dinner at the Malmaison. He was in his early 50s when he discovered that in Hollywood he was retired — involuntarily.

"Jolly Jack Warner, our neighbor, never came up with anything," Pat remembered. "I never made one picture at Warner's after 'Rockne.' Why? I made a few million dollars for that studio!

"I never stayed at that telephone waiting to be called. I lectured, I worked saloons. But the celluloids—nothin'!"

Pat finished his Dover sole, relit his cigar, and corrected the statement. Actually, Spencer Tracy, John Ford and Billy Wilder did summon him for movies—three in 10 years — and then recently, Cy Howard of "My-Friend Irma" fame confessed to him, "All my life I wanted to write comedy for you."

"So start writin'," commanded Pat.

SO MODEST

Young Roger Perry plays his Harvard-trained lawyer son in the series: "He's so modest and he's not a method actor — I hate method actors!" he snapped.

"I only say that as an observation. Because I wouldn't have 'em around me. This boy is so great—we've shot eight shows and the so-and-so is beginning to look like me!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Red Skelton (here for his big CBS TV show) said the picture of the bald Khrushchev and bearded Castro suggested an egg in a nest . . . Ernest Hemingway hopes to be duck-shooting in Idaho in mid-October . . . Kim Novak's entitled to a raise; gets a mere $110,000 a year.

Paulette Goddard's Swiss villa was flooded, and her expensive art collection was rushed to the attic . . . Veronica Lake said at the Embers her bio'll be published by Doubleday.

The Sat. Eve. Post'll publish part of Bernard Baruch's memoirs . . . Sir Laurence Olivier and Anthony Quinn gave up $500,000 in movie contracts to star in the Broadway show, "Becket."

EARL'S PEARLS: Children hold a marriage together, while they're tearing the house apart.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A couple of burglars broke into a Village beatnik apartment and left a CARE package.

$1.1 Million For Alcohol Research

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—Delegates at the 11th annual meeting of the North American Association of Alcoholic Programs were told Tuesday of plans to spend $1,100,000 on a "major inventory" of alcoholism research.

Retiring president David Archibald told 111 delegates from most U.S. states and seven provinces the main job of a commission making the study would be to make alcohol research "fashionable" among scientists just as research into cancer and tuberculosis now is fashionable.

The 24-man body, with representatives from Canada and the U.S., will be headed by Dr. Nevitt Sanford, professor of psychology of the University of California. The money is a gift from the U.S. government's institute of mental health.

Mr. Archibald said a clearing house is necessary for the many organizations attempting to cope with social and medical problems of alcoholism.

The commission would attempt to clarify just what was the "alcohol problem," evaluate relevant literature and institutions which deal with the problem, study the use of alcohol by the general population and study the "economics and politics" of its sale.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED OFFICIALLY

Junior Chamber Supports 'Follow Birds' Slogan

After a lengthy and often heated discussion Wednesday night, Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce decided to support a recommendation by its Tourist Promotion Committee to pass a resolution calling for retention of Victoria's "Follow the Birds" slogan.

The motion, incorporated in a brief, issued by Ted Bird, director of the committee, read: "That the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce go on record as opposing the use of the slogan "Victoria—Gateway to Canada's Treasure Island," and that we favor retention and expanded use of the slogan "Follow the Birds to Victoria."

The brief went on to state, however, the committee felt they did not want Jaycees to work in different directions from the publicity bureau.

"Our goals are the same, and the means perhaps slightly different," the committee stated.

WELL KNOWN

"We feel that the slogan 'Follow the Birds to Victoria' is one that during the past 39 years has become to be synonymous with the tourist industry in Victoria and it has become known throughout North America and many foreign countries.

"This slogan epitomizes the impact that is required in mass media appeal. It is a catchy phrase. It draws the attention. It is very workable as a central theme. It is direct, simple, short and in all a most effective slogan.

"We do not feel that we should pre-empt a long existing, front-running slogan such as this; certainly we should not make a change for the sake of a change.

"The slogan 'Victoria—Gateway to Canada's Treasure Island' does not give a true or concise picture to become Victoria's number one slogan.

GATEWAYS

"There are already several gateways to the world: 'Gateway to the North,' 'Gateway to the Orient,' 'Gateway to the New World,' etc. There are several Treasure Islands, the most notable being in San Francisco, one of our greatest sources of tourists.

"If tourist groups here and on the Island feel they require a secondary slogan they should promote one — but not at the sacrifice of our major appeal 'Follow the Birds to Victoria.'

"It should not be overlooked that Victoria is recognized as the major tourist centre and the major attraction to tourists on Vancouver Island, therefore what is good for Victoria is good for our Island. Tourists, who are drawn here, in a great many instances carry on to other Island points thus benefitting the citizens of the whole of Vancouver Island."

One by one a regiment of speakers fell solidly in line with the brief, commenting: "Victoria is not a dormitory; we want tourists to stay here, not pass through a gateway . . . Up-Island centres don't contribute a red cent towards Victoria's $72,000 publicity budget . . . Unlike the old, the new slogan is far from original . . . The tourist bureau is taking a defeatist attitude . . ."

AGAINST CONCEPT

Support for the motion, however, was not unanimous.

"I think the bureau's theme is to get the whole Island to encourage tourists," he said. "What have we got here to attract tourists apart from Butchart's Gardens? All attractions are up-Island.

"Why keep up a slogan just because we have had it for the past 39 years? he asked.

ONE COMMUNITY

He was backed by Joe Kampman, house committee director.

"We are only one community on the Island," he said. "What about all the others? I can't possibly see where the new slogan takes anything away from Victoria."

A second motion proposing the annual Jaycee fair be extended to take in the Victoria Day holiday was defeated decisively.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES MEET

Education's Future Convention Topic

B.C. School Trustees Association's 56th annual convention will be held in Vancouver Oct. 10-12 with the program revolving around the theme, "Education Shapes Our Future."

Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, chairman of B.C. Hydro and former diplomat, will deliver the keynote address. His topic will be "A Layman's Notes on Education."

Education Minister L. R. Peterson also will address the convention, probably on future government policy in the field.

One of the convention highlights will be a panel discussion on "Educational Needs for Tomorrow" which is expected to produce a battle between proponents of the "progressive" and "traditional" philosophies on teaching methods.

Participating in the panel will be Dr. Julius Sumner Miller, of El Camino College, Calif., who has been extremely critical of modern education.

Presenting the Canadian viewpoint will be Dean Geoffrey Andrew, assistant to the president of University of B.C., Dr. B. E. Wales, director of adult education in Vancouver, and Jack Webster, radio commentator.

78 SCREAMING SIRENS TO ALERT MAINLANDERS

VANCOUVER (CP)—The screaming sound of 78 sirens blasting out simultaneously, for three minutes will be heard throughout Greater Vancouver at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The sound test, conducted by the Canadian Army, is to check the sound coverage of the sirens in the Greater Vancouver warning system.

It will be the first major attack warning system ever staged here and the second in all Canada. Only Halifax has previously run the test.

Indians Guard Islands

Discovery, Chatham and Seabird Islands have been declared "off limits" to the palefaces by angry Songhees Indians who own the islands off Oak Bay.

A six-man patrol began 24-hour guard duty today on the islands on orders of Chief John Albany of the Songhees Indian Band.

All trespassers, whether campers or picnickers, will be turned over to RCMP and prosecuted under the Indian Act which provides for a $50 fine, up to a month in jail or both for anyone convicted of trespassing on a reserve.

The retaliatory step was taken after Chief Albany blamed visitors for at least two fires that ran out of control this summer and a theft this week.

Mr. Williams, who tends sheep on Discovery Island and fishes nearby waters, lost his home and possessions to one of the fires that raced over Discovery Island last July.

Currently re-building the house, he lost a dugout canoe, fishing equipment, tools and personal belongings to thieves this week.

"It is heart-breaking to see a family just getting back on their feet and somebody comes along and steals all they've got," said Chief Albany.

Dentists Too Few

OTTAWA (CP) — Dental authorities said Wednesday "dentistry must catch up with the world around" if Canadians are to be provided with adequate service in the next 20 years.

At the Canadian Dental Association convention, Dr. R. G. Ellis of the University of Toronto said Canada needed three more dental schools by 1964 if it is to have the desired dentist-to-population ratio of one to 2,500 by 1980.

In the case of dental technicians, Dr. J. W. Neilson of the University of Manitoba said too many of the medically unqualified personnel were encroaching on dentists' duties and operating unchecked by their associations in spite of the law.

8 CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation and thanks to friends and relatives for their many cards and beautiful floral tributes, also for the kindness of the Sisters and Nurses of St. Joseph's Hospital and Mount St. Mary Private Hospital in their care of our mother and grandmother, the late Mrs. Adeline Bannister. Thanks also to Dr. J. H. Moore. —Mrs. Adeline Anderson; Mrs. Mabel Pike and families.

9 IN MEMORIAM

DOLPHIN — In loving memory of Dad, William Dolphin, who passed away Sept. 29, 1958.

The sudden way you had to die,
We shall always remember and wonder why.
To know we never said good-bye
Will always bring regret,
But the hearts that loved you dearly
Are the ones that don't forget.
—Ever remembered, Eva and Ted.

DOLPHIN — In loving memory of my dear husband, William Dolphin, who passed away suddenly Sept. 29, 1958.

I have lost my soul's companion,
A life linked with my own;
And day by day I miss him more
As I walk through life alone.
—Always in remembrance, Dora.

Western RED CEDAR Bevel SIDING

"Keystone" clear kiln dried siding is the finest available—a quality material for all applications where perfection is required.

With its "grow-in" workability, weather resistance and lasting good looks, "Keystone" clear Western Red Cedar Siding has long been recognized as the standard of quality home construction.

It has a distinctive "shadow line" which enhances any architectural style in any setting, and is used to create a variety of interesting decorative effects on indoor surfaces as well as exterior.

5 GRADES TO CHOOSE FROM!

"FOREST" CEDAR SIDING

WHAT IS FOREST SIDING?

Made of dry 1¼" stock in 10 and 12-inch widths, "FOREST" siding is a new type of siding obtained from specially selected cedar logs sawn to show the beauty and character of knots, burls, etc.

APPEARANCE?

For homes and buildings where a distinctive and pleasing appearance is desired, enhanced by heavy shadow lines, sound intergrown knots ranging in size from 3-inch in 6-inch widths to 4-inch in 12-inch widths add to the rustic appearance of this grade.

WHAT ARE ITS QUALITIES?

"FOREST" siding, with its substantial thickness and greater wood volume, adds to the structural STRENGTH and solidity of the building.

The design of "FOREST" siding ensures a tight weather seal at the lap which together with its thickness and flush-to-base principle, makes excellent material from the INSULATION standpoint.

"FOREST" siding represents an ECONOMY to home-builders. Costing less than most other types of siding the lap design ensures easy fitting and speedy application at less labor cost.

HOW IS IT APPLIED?

HOW CAN IT BE FINISHED?

If a natural finish is desired, use equal proportions of raw linseed oil and any well-known brand of waterproof sealer. This not only protects the wood surface but also brings out the natural beauty of the knots and the grain. If a colored finish is desired "FOREST" siding can easily be painted. It is recommended that a sharp instrument be used to score the finished product underneath the butt (where it will not show) to stop formation of a vapor barrier.

Four New Shows Start Tonight, Three Series Commence Afresh

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

HAIL, SKELTON—emancipator of the world!

In a brilliant demonstration before 600 invited guests from the United Nations, Tuesday night, Red proved beyond a doubt how to do away forever with the greatest single barrier to world understanding and peace. Speech.

Within his half-hour he essayed the roles of a man playing tennis slow-motion, a fool and his feather, a husband being nagged into climbing the 2,000-odd steps to the top of the Eiffel Tower, an old man playing golf and an old man seeing his past and future before him while watching a parade.

Possibly the greatest living pantominist in the world today, Skelton spoke nary a word because no one needed them. And because there were no words nobody required an interpreter either.

Whether your skin was black, white or yellow, whether you dressed in toga, tunic, suit or turban you understood Red. What he "spoke" everyone understood. The ready and spontaneous laughter from his heterogenerous audience provided the period to the thought.

If this were adopted, and, pantomime was taught in school so that one sign meant the same in every corner of the world, think how simple it would be at the UN and for tourists.

For instance, a fist struck into a palm would signify to another nation or another person that you intended to wage bellum of the first causa if they didn't mend their ways. Peace would be indicated by hands folded across the breast.

Believe me, it would be mighty difficult to indicate peace overtures while banging your fist into your palm.

AND ANOTHER THING—Can you imagine what Fidel Castro would look and feel like after pantomiming his recent four-hour speech before the UN? Or what would happen to Nikita Khrushchev after castigating the U.S. in sign language over the U-2 incident? Why they'd never make it. They would fall down exhausted before they were fairly along with their original thought and another crisis would have been eased over before it was even known to be a crisis.

Yes, our world leaders would have serious second thoughts before launching a blistering offensive against anyone. And second thoughts are usually better than the first ones as everyone knows.

Want to kiss a girl? Just open your arms and pucker up your lips. If she does the same the kiss is on. But if she doubles up with pretended laughter you'll know that you can take your kisser into another quarter of the globe where it may be more appreciated.

What, and waste the beauty of the voice? Not on your tintype. The law in each country will demand that the voice be used as often as possible—but only for happy singing and laughter. Which, come to think of it, isn't too bad a lot for anyone. For if you can't sing you can always go around laughing.

All fooling aside, Red was in tremendous form. A true artist.

NEW NHA
$2939 DOWN OR LESS

A beautiful home, 1,205 sq. ft., with one of the choicest building sites in Victoria. It backs on a treed park. It has a high location and an unobstructed view. To blend with the trees behind, it has been finished in vertical and horizontal cedar siding. It has a through hall, large living room with a picture window and an interesting fireplace and bookshelves. The dining room is also on the view side —it's separate with easy access to one of the best functional kitchens you have ever seen. The equipment includes a G.E. built-in range and oven. Another extra is the separate breakfast nook looking out on the porch. The bathroom has colored fixtures. This is a "custom" designed home so much better than the so-called "NHA strawberry box." All electors must be British Subjects of the full age of twenty-one years.
In addition,
(a) a "Resident-elector" must be a resident in the Municipality who has resided continuously for not less than six months within the Municipality immediately prior to the taking of his Declaration of qualification; and
(b) a "Tenant-elector," whether a person or corporation, must be and have been continuously for not less than six months immediately prior to the taking of the Declaration of qualification, a tenant in occupation of real property within the Municipality.
(c) a "Corporation" must file written authorization under the seal of the corporation naming some person to be its agent to vote on behalf of such corporation.
E. H. HART,
Municipal Clerk.
Declaration forms are available at the Municipal Hall.

Road Charges Commission Report Soon
The report of the royal commission on road user charges will be submitted to Premier Bennett within a matter of weeks, chairman Dr. H. F. Angus said today.
Dr. Angus said the commission now has completed taking evidence throughout the province.
The commission has been studying the apportioning of responsibility for road upkeep by commercial and passenger vehicle operators.
New weight regulations for heavy carriers and some changes in fees charged to the transport industry are expected to follow receipt of the report.

Appeal to Khrushchev Planned By Canadian
REGINA (CP)—Paul Engel left here early today on the first leg of a trip he hopes will reunite him with his mother.
Mr. Engel, 30-year-old Ukranian-born auto-body worker, is flying to New York to make a personal appeal to Soviet Premier Khrushchev in an effort to get his mother out of Russia.

APATHETIC ATTITUDE BLAMED

Many More Canvassers Red Feather's Main Need

By HAL JONES

This year's Greater Victoria Community Chest Campaign is already face to face with its greatest enemy—apathy.

The recent pilot campaign conducted in local business firms indicated a certain amount of success but the present shortage of canvassers in the residential campaign could easily offset this.

To date only one-third of the minimum of 1,200 residential canvassers has been recruited. Residential campaign opens Oct. 19.

Mrs. J. Beattie McLean, residential division chairman, today put the blame squarely on general apathy towards the campaign.

"People just don't seem willing to give up the one or two evenings a week required," she said.

"I know everybody is extremely busy, most people take an interest in some outside organization, but some of the excuses put up are just feeble."

Mrs. McLean said no volunteers at all had come forward in the Langford area, while a further three team captains and more volunteers were needed in the east Saanich-Ten Mile Point area.

In fact, she said, more team captains and canvassers could be used over the entire city.

Volunteers are asked to contact Mrs. McLean at EV 6-1695.

Win Republic, Party's Stand

MOSSELBAY, South Africa (AP)—Justice Minister Francois Erasmus declared Wednesday night that if South Africa's Nationalist government should lose the referendum Oct. 5 to create a republic, "our party will continue to fight on until the issue is won."

Erasmus told a republican rally "it might not be considered necessary to hold another referendum . . . The republic could be achieved by other means such as a general election or merely by an act of Parliament."

600 SEAMEN START STRIKE

MONTREAL (CP) — Some 550 to 600 seamen in the 36-ship N. M. Paterson and Sons, Limited, fleet went on strike today.

The men, members of the Seafarers' International Union (Ind.) walked off their jobs in the wake of failed union-company negotiations.

Teacher Slashed by Hooded Attacker

TILBURY, Ont. (CP) — A 23-year-old teacher, married three months ago, was shot and beaten Wednesday by a youth who entered the one-room school where she was working alone after class.

Mrs. Beverley Richardson was reported in fair condition today in Chatham Hospital suffering a bullet wound in her left thigh and severe cuts and bruises to her head and chest.

Police said the attack "looks like a sadistic venture of some sort." Robbery was ruled out.

NOTICE

. . . is hereby given that an application will be made to the Parliament of Canada, at the next or the next thereafter ensuing session thereof, for a private bill incorporating a company under the name of Aurora Pipe Line Company, for the purpose of constructing and operating inter-provincial, extra-provincial and/or international pipe lines for the transportation of gas, oil and other liquid and gaseous hydrocarbons and products thereof within Canada in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia and in the Yukon and Northwest Territories, and outside Canada, subject to the provisions of the National Energy Board Act, Chapter 46 of the Statutes of Canada, 1959, and of any other general legislation of the Parliament of Canada relating to pipe lines.

The applicants will request such other powers and corporate provisions as may be deemed necessary for the carrying out of the objects of the Company.

Fine way to carry on a telephone conversation!

It's a new kind of telephoning — with a hands-free, feet-on-the-desk kind of convenience. The combination of two telephone services, the Dialaphone and Speakerphone, makes this three-way telephone conversation possible.

No need to rummage through directories to ferret out telephone numbers—the Dialaphone remembers them for you. This mechanical memory lists up to 800 names and telephone numbers. You can add to or change any numbers on your original list. To phone, you simply turn to a name, press a key and presto, your call is dialed — automatically!

The Speakerphone takes over where the Dialaphone leaves off. When the Dialaphone has done its job, you just sit back and carry on your conversation. Your voice goes through a tiny microphone in the base of this modern desk telephone. The voice of the person you're calling comes through a small speaker (usually hidden). The volume can be adjusted to any level. It's made to order for conferences; great for jotting down notes while you talk.

The Dialaphone and Speakerphone can be used separately or together. Both are compact, attractive, easy on the budget. They're rented. No maintenance or depreciation.

Why not try this new way to telephone? And while you're at it — how about letting our representative give your office communications the once-over? He's got a kit-full of ideas on how to make your communications more efficient and economical. He'll be seeing you soon . . . sooner if you make an appointment through our new Marketing and Sales Department now.

Want to know more about our Speakerphone or Dialaphone? Have your secretary phone us. In Vancouver it's MU 3-5511. Outside Vancouver, ask the Operator for Zenith 7000. (No charge for the call.) We'll send your brochures straightaway.

LONG SERVICE

Retired Executive Dies Here

Ralph Barton Mathews, a former B.C. Electric executive who gave long service to community activities in Victoria, died here Wednesday aged 58.

Funeral services to be held in Hayward's Chapel Saturday at 1.30 p.m. will be conducted by Canon George Biddle and followed by cremation.

Mr. Mathews lived at 3280 Weald. In 1958 he retired from the post of executive assistant to the vice-president of B.C. Electric's Vancouver Island organization after 26 years' service with the company.

The same year he topped the polls in the Oak Bay municipal elections but was forced to resign through ill health a few months later.

A native of Regina, he attended University School and Victoria College before it became University of Victoria. He was class president of his UBC graduating class in 1925 and editor-in-chief of university publications while studying law at the University of Saskatchewan.

He was a member of the Law Society of B.C. and the Dominion Bar Association and joined the B.C. Electric legal department in 1932.

He was a former director of the Armed Services Centre, Silver Threads Society, Kiwanis Village Society and the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria, a past president and honorary member of Uplands Golf Club and a member of the Union Club.

Mr. Mathews is survived by the widow Alice, and a sister, Mrs. J. D. Ferguson of Victoria.

Lauren Bacall Named

NEW YORK (AP) — The wife of actor Jason Robards, Jr., filed a divorce suit Wednesday, naming Lauren Bacall. Mrs. Rachel Robards, also an actress, asked alimony and lawyer's fees in the suit, which seeks a divorce or separation. Robards is the star of the Broadway play Toys in the Attic. Miss Bacall is the widow of Humphrey Bogart.

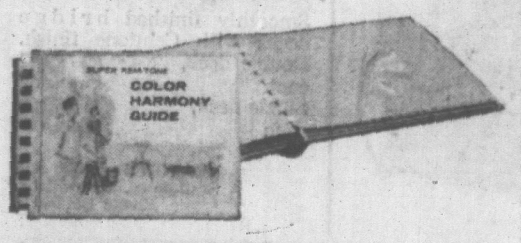
SUPER KEM-TONE

COLOR HARMONY GUIDE"

BORROW IT FREE FROM YOUR KEM DEALER



Here's how this wonderful book works for you...

At last you have the ultimate in easy-to-follow color selection systems. The Super Kem-Tone "Color Harmony Guide" tells you what goes with what at a glance... supplies over 1500 perfect color harmonies for paint, furnishings and accessories. It's full of excitingly beautiful ideas to follow for rooms with present furnishings, or rooms to be completely redecorated. First, you turn to the color index. You'll find scores of colors arranged in "families". Select your new color or one which matches your carpet, linoleum or furniture. Then turn to the page indicated and you'll find this color harmonizes with others showing through the cut-out section. Keep on turning the pages for more lovely harmonies to go with the color of your choice.

Nikita Leads Angry Heckling

'Let's Be Calm' Mac Advises UN

Show Reason On Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Prime Minister Macmillan urged the United Nations today to make a calm, reasoned approach to disarmament.

His speech was interrupted by angry heckling from Premier Khrushchev and the Communist bloc.

At one point the Soviet premier leaped to his feet, scowling, and shouted in Russian at the British leader as Macmillan was presenting a major statement of Western objectives.

"I would like to have a translation of those words."

It was learned later that Khrushchev said: "We are always in favor of controls for a disarmament program." Macmillan had described his plan as "not in any sense a proposal to institute control without disarmament"—a frequent Soviet objection to Western schemes for reducing arms.

When Macmillan raised a point about the breakup of the Paris summit conference last May, Khrushchev wiggled a finger at him and shouted in Russian:

Biggest Ovation to Date

Macmillan received the biggest ovation so far in this historic 15th assembly session. Khrushchev and the Soviet bloc sat glumly and silently throughout the stormy applause. Then the Soviet premier strode out of the assembly hall.

Khrushchev and Macmillan were to meet later today in a private conference.

It was the first time the head of any delegation—let alone the head of a government—ever had risen to his feet in the General Assembly during a fellow leader's address to heckle or protest. Assembly delegates seemed shocked.

Stalking out of the hall after the Macmillan address, Khrushchev brusquely brushed reporters aside, snapping: "I will give my comment when the time comes."

MacMillan was presenting a three-stage program designed to prepare the way for gradual political action toward resumed arms negotiation and agreement.

The British leader also raised the suggestion that the world's people hoped the break at Paris would be just temporary and there might be another try at a summit meeting of the heads of state.

The prime minister said Britain "will gladly allow" any form of inspection and control that is acceptable to the Soviet Union.

Macmillan praised UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's "energy and resourcefulness and, above all, his integrity" and said the Soviet bloc's proposals to replace the secretary-general by a three-man committee would be unacceptable to most members.

He won an ovation from the delegates, including Prime Minister Diefenbaker, with his defence of Hammarskjold, who is under Soviet attack.

Communists Thump Desks

The Communist bloc greeted this in the same way it had responded previously to a Hammarskjold speech—thumping their desks in a gesture of protest. Khrushchev joined lustily in the table pounding.

Macmillan asked the assembly to set up a board of technical experts—scientific, military and administrative — to prepare a report within a reasonably brief period to provide the basis for a calm approach to the arms problem.

"This practical procedure is not in any sense a proposal to institute control without disarmament," Macmillan said, hitting at Khrushchev's principal objections to Western approaches to the arms problem.

"No country would be committed to implementing any of the measures which the technical experts might suggest in the various fields until there was subsequent agreement about the disarmament measures related to the system of control. Of course, if confidence is to be maintained it is obvious that control must be concurrent with disarmament and that it must be effective."

Cover Three Major Points

Macmillan's proposal on armaments contained three major points for getting negotiations started. The first stage would be the appointment of the board of experts.

First is the problem of preventing "extension of armaments, of preventing the situation from becoming worse." He referred specifically to the use of space for military purposes and the need to halt manufacture of nuclear materials for military purposes.

Second, he said, is the problem of guarding against surprise attack.

"This is what all governments are afraid of," he said. "It would be an immense relief if people all over the world, including the admirals and the generals, could sleep more soundly in their beds."

Third, he said, is the task of gradually "reducing to a minimum all forms of armaments."

He said this problem is complicated but technical experts should be able to tell what measures of inspection and control would be effective for all countries.

K Shows No Sign Of Leaving

Meets Macmillan In 'Little Summit'

NEW YORK (CP) — Nikita Khrushchev meets today with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan amid signs he intends to stay on another week as leader of the Soviet delegation at the United Nations.

His talk with Macmillan marks the first summit level East-West discussions since mid-May when the Paris summit parley blew up in an angry dispute over the U-2 plane incident.

Macmillan is reported ready to concentrate on the West's disarmament deadlock with Russia. But there appears to be scant hope he can budge Khrushchev into renewing negotiations on this without new Western concessions.

STILL TALKING

In between trips to the UN to lead the Soviet delegation, Khrushchev has conferred privately with 10 neutral-minded foreign leaders, zipped through half-a-dozen night-time receptions and kept up a steady drum-fire of comment to reporters.

All the time, Khrushchev has tried to keep everyone guessing about how long he will stay in New York.

THROWING BIG PARTY

There was a report today that he intends to throw a big reception next Tuesday at the Soviet UN headquarters on Park Avenue.

Some 300 guests are reported to be on the invitation list, including all the 20-odd heads of government who will be in town then.

Soviet informants, who initially whispered that Khrushchev would stay 10 days to two weeks, now are offering a "guess" he may stick around for three weeks.

Nikita Woos Ghana Leader

Nkrumah said afterwards they discussed the Congo, disarmament and colonialism. These have been Khrushchev's favorite themes in his round of talks with foreign leaders he hopes to win over in support of his policy.

Nkrumah made clear in talking to reporters, as Khrushchev stood beside him, that no sweeping decisions were reached.

"It is so difficult to come to conclusions yet," he said.

Dief Back at UN

Elson Gets New Post

NEW YORK (CP) — Robert T. Elson, general manager of Life Magazine, has been appointed chief of the London news bureau of Time Incorporated, which published Time magazine and Life. He assumes his new post in December.

ACUTE NERVOUS DEPRESSION

Brigitte Recovering From Suicide Attempt

MENTON, France (AP)—Film star Brigitte Bardot, found in a coma after attempting suicide on her 26th birthday, was recovering today in a fashionable nerve hospital.

BRIGITTE BARDOT
. . . with son

The St. Francis Neurological Clinic in Nice said she slashed her wrists with a razor blade and took an overdose of sleeping tablets. It described her condition as "rather alarming" when she was brought in.

"Now she is much better and I think should make a fairly rapid recovery," said the clinic director, Dr. Jacques Namin. "But she is suffering from a very acute nervous depression and we have had to isolate her completely."

He has been on a separate hunting vacation in southwest France and left there this morning, presumably to hurry to Brigitte's bedside.

Brigitte and Charrier were married last year. They have one son, Nicholas, now eight months old.

Two days ago Brigitte was reported to have told friends she had definitely decided to divorce Charrier.

Charrier said: "I believe she still loves me."

MARTIN BORMANN

Ex-Nazi Criminal Suspect Grilled

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — A one-armed man suspected of being Martin Bormann, Hitler's long-missing deputy, was being questioned by Argentine police here today. The suspect gave the name of Walter Flegel.

Interior Minister Alfredo Vitolo told a TV audience Wednesday night that the suspect obviously was a German and had most of the missing Nazi's physical characteristics.

There were two big differences. The captured man appeared to be about 48 years old, whereas Bormann would be 60. The Martin Bormann of Hitler's day had both arms, while the man held here has had an arm amputated.

Bormann has been one of the most sought of the Nazi hierarchy. During the Nuernberg trials in 1946, Hitler's chauffeur, Rich Kempka, testified that he fled with Bormann from the bunker where Hitler died.

Kempka said a bazooka hit a tank they were walking beside and before he fell unconscious he saw Bormann collapse in the flames.

Bormann was chief of Hitler's chancellery and was directly linked with the operation of the concentration camps.

Bormann was tried in abstentia as a major war criminal in 1946 and sentenced to be hanged.

RAIL UNIONS SET U.K. STRIKE FOR OCT. 17

LONDON (Reuters)—Union leaders today called for a nation-wide railroad strike Oct. 17 following rejection of a pay demand.

About 450,000 men on the state-run lines are involved.

The strike call to all affiliated unions was by leaders of the National Union of Railwaymen and the Railway Shopmen's Council of the Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions.

The British Transport Commission refused Wednesday to go beyond its offer of a three per cent increase for 110,000 workers in railroad workshops, backdated to January. The unions asked for another two per cent for the workshops' 50,000 skilled workers.

U.S. Advises Citizens To Quit Cuba

NEW YORK (UPI) — The United States has started advising its nationals to leave Cuba, it was reported today.

Teams from the U.S. embassy in Havana have visited American residents privately to counsel them to ship their dependents out immediately, and to leave themselves unless vital business requires them to stay.

The advisory would apply to an estimated 2,000 American civilians living in Greater Havana.

However, it was not known whether it applied to the six thousand American families living on the great U.S. naval base at Guantanamo, in eastern Oriente Province.

The embassy advice was understood to be based on the rapidly deteriorating diplomatic and internal political situation in Cuba.

The Cuban government has expelled four embassy attaches in as many weeks and arrested and harassed at least three others, ignoring their diplomatic status.

Repeated U.S. protests have either been ignored or received and filed by minor Cuban diplomatic functionaries without reply.

Mobutu Wins Recognition

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — President Joseph Kasavubu today formally recognized Col. Joseph Mobutu's council of government commissioners as the provisional government.

Kasavubu officially installed the group of 27 college-graduate technicians set up by Mobutu, the army chief of staff, after his bloodless coup d'etat two weeks ago against the infant African republic's warring politicians.

Hearing Postponed

Cold War Explodes At 50-Nation Parley

TOKYO (AP) — The Inter-Parliamentary Union opened its 49th annual conference here today and immediately erupted into cold war.

Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako inaugurated the nine-day session of legislators from 50 nations, including a six-man delegation from Canada.

President Eisenhower sent routine greetings but the Soviet message was an attack on the United States.

Eisenhower said "better understanding is essential if the nations of the world are to live in peace and freedom." He said the United States fully backs the IPU because it believes in "a free and democratic nation where human values are held in highest regard."

A message from Premier Khrushchev charged that the U.S. government, by sending atomic and hydrogen bombers through the world's air space, creates an appalling danger for everyone.

Soviet delegate Justas Paleckis, who read the message, added that the American bases overseas are "nothing but bleeding wounds on earth which may cause war."

Missile Falls Short

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) —An air force attempt to fire a Titan missile 10,000 miles fell far short of its goal today when the second stage engines shut down too soon. The air force said the missile's dummy warhead flew more than 6,000 statute miles down the Atlantic missile range but landed far off target.

Power Agreement Means 'Delay or Death' to Peace

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ray Perrault, British Columbia Liberal leader, forecast today that United States-Canada agreement on development of the Columbia River will mean either "delay or death" for the proposed private development of the Peace River.

He said the domestic power market isn't big enough to take huge amounts of electricity from both projects. Low-cost power from the publicly-developed Columbia would take precedence and the Peace River Power Development Company would have to export to survive.

"But there doesn't seem to be any indication from Ottawa that the federal government has changed its traditional opposition to power exports," he said.

NEED BOTH SCHEMES

An official connected with the Peace development didn't agree.

"We have consistently advocated that both the Columbia River and Peace River power would be required to meet the demand for electrical energy in B.C. and the Pacific Northwest during the next 20 to 25 years," said W. C. Mainwaring, president of Peace River Power.

Meanwhile community leaders in the Arrow Lake Valley in southeastern B.C. said they will continue to fight construction of a proposed dam at Castlegar on High Arrow Lake, a section of the Columbia.

This dam and another at Mica Creek are reported to have top priority when hydro-electric development of the river on the Canadian side begins.

"The High Arrow dam will result in flooding the Arrow Lake Valley and destroy all our arable land," said Mayor Walter Hardman of Revelstoke. "We can't grow anything on mountains."

Gov't Troops Recapture Laos Town

VIENTIANE (Reuters) — Laotian government troops, backed by pro-Communist guerrillas, have recaptured the Northern Laotian town of Sam Neua from right-wing rebels opposed to the new neutralist government of this strategic Indochinese kingdom.

The capture of the town came as army leaders met in the royal capital of Luang Prabang for talks aimed at ending the three-cornered civil war in Laos.

EQUALITY OF RIGHTS, BUT . . .

Pants Still Belong to Dad

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The equal rights of women don't include the right to wear the pants in the family, the Vatican City magazine, Osservatore Della Domenica, said today.

"Equality of rights" does not mean "equality of functions," the magazine answered a reader who said feminine equality violated the Bible teaching that "the head of every man is Christ, and the head of the woman is the man."

"This teaching does not all rule out the just affirmation of moral, juridical and spiritual equality between the woman and the man," the magazine said.

"(But) it certainly opposes matriarchy, which appears to be trying to slip itself insensibly into the customs of some circles.

"Generally, when husband and wife are in agreement," it said, "it is possible to ignore the question of who has the right to be the head of the family.

"But when this is not so . . . The Christian spirit tells us that the responsibility and authority of a family head rest with the man."

Outboard Fuel Cost Down

One builder has indicated that certain of its 1961 models will, under certain conditions of speed, have a specific fuel consumption (pounds per horsepower-hour), equal to some four-cycle engines.

When outboard motors were essentially low-horsepower units, fuel economy meant little. But with motors of 80 horsepower, the difference between the customary consumption of .8 pounds of fuel per horsepower hour and the hoped-for objection of .635 pounds is more than 1½ gallons of gasoline-oil mixture.

Because of its light weight, lower production cost, simplicity, and ease of maintenance, all outboard engine builders are making every effort to keep the two-cycle motor in the running.

Poor fuel economy, and the need to burn lubricating oil with the fuel, have been obstacles hard to overcome without sacrificing other desirable features. Much effort is being given to the development of lubricating systems similar to those used in four-cycle engines. However, such lubricating systems increase the motor complexity and cost of manufacture.

Lubricating Oil Under Study

On another front, a study is being made of lubricating oils to reduce the quantity needed per gallon of fuel. One outboard maker is announcing an oil that will go twice as far as oils now in general use.

The resistance or drag of the lower unit as the boat moves through the water also has been a matter of much concern. One manufacturer now offers a choice of three types of lower units, depending on the service to which the motor is to be put.

The important factor in any marine propulsion unit is, of course, the amount of horsepower that is actually converted into thrust by the propeller. This factor is called the propulsion coefficient.

Because of the high speed at which the average outboard propeller rotates, and factors limiting propeller diameter, most outboard motors develop their best propulsion coefficient at relatively high boat speeds.

TORPEDO CAN CATCH NUCLEAR SUBS

WASHINGTON (AP) — A possible break-through in developing a torpedo capable of tracking and destroying nuclear-powered submarines was disclosed Wednesday by the U.S. Navy.

The navy declined to give details, but indicated the new torpedo will solve one of the big headaches in how to combat nuclear subs — going fast enough and deep enough to catch them.

Rites Saturday For Retired Police Officer

Stanley Herbert Kistruck, 70, retired policeman and Victoria and Prospect Lake resident for 32 years, died Tuesday night at his home, 808 Russell Street.

Born in Colchester, England, he served for many years with the RCMP in Saskatchewan and Alberta, and with the B.C. Police, prior to joining the security guard at VMD. At the time of his death he was a watchman at Sooke Lake Lumber Ltd., a post he had held for almost three years.

Surviving are the widow, Louise, at home; three stepchildren, and a brother and sister.

Funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at McCalls with members of the RCMP acting as pallbearers, and interment will be at Royal Oak.

EDMONTON (CP) — Hugh Robert Tomlinson, arrested in Edmonton shortly after he arrived from Vancouver Sept. 20, pleaded guilty Wednesday to unlawful possession of narcotics and was remanded to Oct. 3 for sentence.

Ballot Recheck Yale CCFer Asks

Times News Service

BOSTON BAR—CCF candidate Evan MacDougall, who trailed Social Crediter Irvine Corbett by 25 votes after Monday's absentee ballot count in Yale riding, will ask for a recheck of ballots.

This is likely to take place Monday, since the returning officer is away on business and will not be back until Friday night.

Mr. MacDougall said he will decide after the recheck of ballots—made by the returning officer—whether he will request a judicial recount, made by a county court judge.

FIRE UNDER CONTROL

NANAIMO — A fire that raced through timber ahead of a strong wind Wednesday now is under control.

The fire had jumped guards at the McKay Lake operation of the Mayo Lumber Company and was headed toward MacMillan and Bloedel and Powell River Company timber in the Nanaimo River area.

HOTEL PLANNED

VANANDA — A $250,000 development, including a 61-room hotel and four or five adjacent stores, is planned for this Texada Island community. M. G. Zorkin and Company of Nanaimo, builders of several shopping centres on central Vancouver Island, said the first phase of the development would cost $150,000.

WANT "RED LINE" RULE

VANCOUVER (CP) — Spokesmen for 2,000 bus drivers in B.C. have asked the Public Utilities Commission to impose a "red line" rule to prevent passengers obstructing the vision of drivers.

Officials of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America (CLC), and the Vancouver Labor Council made the request to Henry Angus, chairman of the PUC.

PARK WORK URGED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Directors of the 76,000-member B.C. Automobile Association have voted to redouble their efforts to have Garibaldi Park developed by one or both of the senior governments.

Harry Duker, chairman of the BCAA's Garibaldi committee, said: "Garibaldi Park is the most important recreational scheme in B.C. and the delaying has got to stop. We're not concerned about the Olympics—we just want the park opened to the people."

HOSPITAL FOR UBC

PENTICTON (CP)—A 500-bed $15,000,000 hospital is planned for the University of B.C. campus, says a member of the UBC medical faculty.

Dr. W. C. Gibson, chairman of UBC's neurological research department, told the Canadian Club the hospital would serve as a training centre for doctors and as a clinic for referral of cases by doctors all over the province.

BOYCOTT NEWSPAPER

VANCOUVER (CP)—A resolution requesting a boycott of The Province, Vancouver morning newspaper, was referred to the resolutions committee at the IWA western district convention here.

The resolution requests the 130,000-member B.C. Federation of Labor to boycott the newspaper. It declares that during the B.C. election campaign The Province "perpetrated a political brain-washing hoax on the people of B.C."

PHILOSOPHER URGES CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE

LONDON (AP)—Bertrand Russell, 88-year-old philosopher, called Wednesday night for a large-scale nonviolent civil disobedience campaign in Britain against nuclear weapons. He announced plans to organize a "committee of 100" to run the disarmament drive.

Breakthrough in Cancer Research

NEW YORK (AP)—A newly-found virus associated with human cancers has been reported, but there is no evidence yet whether it may actually cause cancers.

The discovery marks the first time that a virus found in human cancer has produced a new and characteristic disease in laboratory animals.

The report was by Drs. Helen Toolan, Gilbert Dalldorf, Marion Barclay, Satish Chandra and Alice Moore of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research, of New York City.

The new virus produces unusual deformities when injected into newborn hamsters. The rodents grow smaller, get flattened foreheads or domed heads, protruding eyes and tongues, fragile bones, abnormal or no teeth. The animals, however, do not become more susceptible to cancer.

The virus is not found in cancer cells growing in the human body. But it does appear when such human cancers are transplanted into animals. The virus is possibly masked or neutralized in the cancer cells growing in the original human host, the researchers said.

24 New Citizens in Agreement: It's Good to Be a Canadian

It's good to be a Canadian. That was the general view among 24 new citizens from 11 different countries who took the oath of allegiance to Canada today.

It was the largest swearing-in ceremony to be held in Victoria Courthouse for nearly two years. Two more could have been sworn in, having been accepted as Canadian citizens, but did not attend.

Non-British immigrants to Canada have to live here five years before they can qualify for citizenship—unless they are wives of Canadian citizens in which case the required period of residence is one year.

"It is good to become part of this fine land," said Milos-lav Havalasek from Czechoslovakia. "I now feel I belong to Canada."

Mrs. Claire Hegar from Switzerland nodded and smiled but made no comment.

A generally subdued atmosphere prevailed in the courtroom as the new citizens awaited the arrival of Judge J. B. Clerihue, who conducted the swearing-in ceremony.

Most of them sat quietly in their places and there was little conversation. Some gave the impression they had been accustomed to regimentation.

VERY FORMAL

"This is a very formal ceremony," said Mrs. H. L. Smith, president of the Greater Victoria Citizenship Council, which always welcomes New Canadians to the city.

"That is why we have a coffee party afterwards. It enables them to loosen up and get to know one another."

UNITED NATIONS

"In this courtroom today we have a miniature United Nations in which 11 different countries are represented. You are living proof that the peoples of many nations can live peaceably together," he said.

Each of the New Canadians took the oath in turn, holding the Bible in one hand while pledging loyalty to Queen Elizabeth and the British Commonwealth.

Admitted to Canadian citizenship were:

NEW CITIZENS

TWO ABSENT

Absent were Waldemar Iltshishin from the Ukraine, who is now a sailor in the Royal Canadian Navy, and Mrs. Janna Hendrika Stephenson from Holland.

They will be given an opportunity to take the oath later.

Sam picked up the first prize of $40 with a 14-pound 8-ounce salmon. Roy Ellis of the highways department collared second award of $30 with a 13-pound 1-ouncer.

★ ★ ★

We have just received a letter from New York addressed to 976 Maddison Avenue, British Columbia. It has been all over the province and I think the post office deserves a vote of thanks for tracing us to Victoria.

★ ★ ★

A distinguished ex-employee of the Canadian Bank of Commerce — Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross — attended a dinner given here by R. G. Miller, regional superintendent of the bank in B.C..

Back in 1910, when he first came to Canada from Scotland, Mr. Ross worked for the bank in Montreal.

Many other old employees were there, too—among them breezy James Thow who retired recently after 30 qears as managed of the Victoria branch.

Work Plans Ready for Jubilee Wing

Working drawings on four floors of the new Royal Jubilee Hospital wing have been completed, board president Courtenay Haddock announced in a progress report today.

Final consultations on the basement are going forward and should be completed shortly. This is a major job as it involves plumbing, heating and all services.

"We expect test holes for footings to be undertaken in the next few weeks," Mr. Haddock told The Times.

"It is too early to set a target date for construction of the new wing, but we are moving along satisfactorily."

NEW EXCHANGE

"The new telephone exchange, which was a big and complicated problem, went into operation at 9 p.m. Wednesday and is a decided improvement.

"The work on kitchens should be finished in about three weeks."

Mr. Haddock said that architect Fred Towney will be in Victoria next week for consultation with directors and consultants.

Axe Murder Attempt Charge in Court Here

Mill Foreman Hit by Timber Dies Instantly

No Witness To Accident

Sawmill night foreman Harvey Chadwick, 26, of Ladysmith, was killed instantly Wednesday at the Mayor Lumber Co. mill, near Nanaimo, when hit on the head by a piece of timber.

An inquest will be held.

There were no witnesses to the accident which took place shortly after 10 p.m.

However, a company spokesman said it is believed the victim was straightening a piece of timber at the bottom of a conveyor chain moving upwards, when a timber further up the chain worked loose and dropped on him.

The piece measured 20 feet in length, 12 inches wide and six inches thick.

Chadwick was wearing a safety hat at the time but it was not sufficient protection against the blow.

He had been an employee of Mayo seven years and had lived in the Nanaimo district all his life.

Two Men Jailed For Driving While Licence Suspended

Two city men were given jail terms in city police court today on charges of driving while under suspension.

Allan Curtis, 1137 Johnson Street, was jailed by Magistrate William Ostler for 45 days after admitting he drove a car on Aug. 10 although his licence had been indefinitely suspended since July, 1958.

In addition he was fined $15 for failing to obey a stop sign.

Gordon Freer, 3801 Quadra, was jailed for 15 days after pleading guilty to driving a car on Cook Street Wednesday night while under suspension.

City Contractor Dies Aged 77

David Walter Burnett, president of Island Building Supply Co. for 26 years and well-known local contractor, died today in St. Joseph's Hospital aged 77.

Born in Winnipeg, he had lived in Victoria since 1909.

The residence here was 620 Hampshire.

Survivors include one son, Harry, Victoria; two daughters, Mrs. G. R. Laird, Victoria, and Mrs. R. F. Hood, North Vancouver; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; also two brothers, Herbert and Hugh of Vancouver.

Funeral will be in McCall's chapel Saturday at 3.30 p.m.

DELICATE AND POTENTIALLY DEADLY operation was carried out by these B.C. Electric linemen Wednesday, who used long-armed tongs to handle live 60,000-volt wires. It was the first time that such high voltage had been handled live and each move by Harry Marcus and Doug Fulcher was carefully directed from a supervisor on the ground. Tongs were used to tie-in a substation unit to the "hot pole" near Malahat summit without interrupting power service in the Malahat, Shawnigan Lake and Bamberton areas. The team made several "dry run" practices on dead wires before attempting the hazardous feat.

Cafe Scene Of Morning Scuffle

Accused was remanded to appear again Friday, when a date will be set for the preliminary hearing.

Magistrate William Ostler set bail at $7,000.

Cameron laid a complaint with police that he was struck on the arm by a man wielding an axe at 5.45 a.m. last Thursday, in the Melrose Cafe on Yates Street.

When questioned by police, Altorjai, a Hungarian, claimed he had been attacked by three men in a cafe.

He told police he did not have an axe with him.

'REUNION' COMING

Old Chest To Return To Family

A massive black oak chest originally built for Edward Winslow in 1654 will eventually be returned to his descendants in Victoria, it was learned today.

A. Douglas Ford, 88-year-old Victoria resident, bought the chest from a dealer in England around the turn of the century and brought it to Victoria in 1913.

It has stood on the landing of his home at 1012 Terrace since 1915.

Today Mr. Ford revealed that he is making plans whereby the chest will ultimately be returned to the family of F. E. Winslow of 1044 Craigdarroch.

"I cannot say any more than that at present," Mr. Ford said.

Mr. Winslow, former manager of the Royal Trust Co. in Victoria, has been in poor health for some time.

He spent years trying to trace the family chest in different parts of England, but did not discover it until he visited Mr. Ford's home a few years ago.

Conciliation Chief Dies in Hotel Here

The man who led B.C.'s conciliating team in thousands of labor disputes was found dead in his room at the Empress Hotel Wednesday.

It is understood he suffered a heart seizure.

He was in Victoria to attend a conference of labor administrators.

His art was that of breaking labor and management deadlocks and bringing disputing parties together.

"He always did a magnificent job," said a government colleague today.

BIG DISPUTES

He served many times as mediator in big disputes, including recent ones involving the International Woodworkers of America, one of B.C.'s biggest unions.

Born in Falkirk, Scotland, Mr. Fraser served in the Canadian Expeditionary Force in the First World War.

He was an electrician in Vancouver before joining the labor department in 1944 as a conciliation officer.

He was appointed chief conciliation officer in 1953.

Mr. Fraser is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charles Peevor, of Invermere, and Mrs. Norman Pringle of North Vancouver, and a son, William Brett Fraser of Chilliwack.

Funeral services will be held Saturday in Vancouver.

ASK The TIMES

Q — What exactly is ambergris? M.C.

A — It's a waxy substance found floating on the sea or in the stomachs of sperm whales. It has a fragrant musky odor when warmed and is used as a highly valuable fixitive in fine perfumes. It seems to be associated with the digestive process on beaks of squid the whales consume, although this is not authenticated.

A—Actress Bankhead is 57.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

$1,300 In Legion Awards Won By Island Students

Four students at the University of Victoria will share $1,300 in scholarships awarded by the B.C. and Northwestern States Command of the Canadian Legion, it was announced today.

A $400 scholarship has been awarded to Ross Maconachie of Victoria, and $300 scholarships have gone to Margaret Austin and Patrick Warrington of Victoria and Lynn Meredith of Comox.

The university scholarships were among 20 awarded by the Canadian Legion in B.C.

In addition, six scholarships were given to B.C. high school and nursing students, including a $300 award to Audrey L. Stasuik of Nanaimo.

KHRUSHCHEV HECKLES MACMILLAN

Be Calm U.K. Leader Advises UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Prime Minister Macmillan urged the United Nations today to make a calm, reasoned approach to disarmament.

His speech was interrupted by angry heckling from Premier Khrushchev and the Communist bloc.

At one point the Soviet premier leaped to his feet, scowling, and shouted in Russian at the British leader as Macmillan was presenting a major statement of Western objectives.

"I would like to have a translation of those words."

It was learned later that Khrushchev said: "We are always in favor of controls for a disarmament program." Macmillan had described his plan as "not in any sense a proposal to institute control without disarmament"—a frequent Soviet objection to Western schemes for reducing arms.

When Macmillan raised a point about the breakup of the Paris summit conference last May, Khrushchev wiggled a finger at him and shouted in Russian:

Biggest Ovation to Date

Macmillan received the biggest ovation so far in this historic 15th assembly session. Khrushchev and the Soviet bloc sat glumly and silently throughout the stormy applause. Then the Soviet premier strode out of the assembly hall.

Khrushchev and Macmillan were to meet later today in a private conference.

It was the first time the head of any delegation—let alone the head of a government—ever had risen to his feet in the General Assembly during a fellow leader's address to heckle or protest. Assembly delegates seemed shocked.

Stalking out of the hall after the Macmillan address, Khrushchev brusquely brushed reporters aside, snapping: "I will give my comment when the time comes."

MacMillan was presenting a three-stage program designed to prepare the way for gradual political action toward resumed arms negotiation and agreement.

HOPES FOR SUMMIT

The British leader also raised the suggestion that the world's people hoped the break at Paris would be just temporary and there might be another try at a summit meeting of the heads of state.

The prime minister said Britain "will gladly allow" any form of inspection and control that is acceptable to the Soviet Union.

Macmillan praised UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's "energy and resourcefulness and, above all, his integrity" and said the Soviet bloc's proposals to replace the secretary-general by a three-man committee would be unacceptable to most members.

He won an ovation from the delegates, including Prime Minister Diefenbaker, with his defence of Hammarskjold, who is under Soviet attack.

The Communist bloc greeted this in the same way it had responded previously to a Hammarskjold speech—thumping their desks in a gesture of protest. Khrushchev joined lustily in the table pounding.

Macmillan asked the assembly to set up a board of technical experts—scientific, military and administrative — to prepare a report within a reasonably brief period to provide the basis for a calm approach to the arms problem.

"This practical procedure is not in any sense a proposal to institute control without disarmament," Macmillan said, hitting at Khrushchev's prin-

'Masterful' Says Dief

"It was a masterful speech delivered with all the power of his own experience in two world wars and his desire to do what he can to save mankind from itself."

Mac, Nikita Meet Tonight

NEW YORK (CP) — Nikita Khrushchev meets tonight with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan amid signs he intends to stay on another week as leader of the Soviet delegation at the United Nations.

His talk with Macmillan marks the first summit level East-West discussions since mid-May when the Paris summit parley blew up in an angry dispute over the U-2 plane incident.

Mobutu Wins Recognition

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — President Joseph Kasavubu today formally recognized Col. Joseph Mobutu's council of government commissioners as the provisional government.

Kasavubu officially installed the group of 27 college-graduate technicians set up by Mobutu, the army chief of staff, after his bloodless coup d'etat two weeks ago against the infant African republic's warring politicians.

French Actress Found in Coma

The St. Francis Neurological Clinic in Nice said she slashed her wrists with a razor blade and took an overdose of sleeping tablets. It described her condition as "rather alarming" when she was brought in.

"Now she is much better and I think should make a fairly rapid recovery," said the clinic director, Dr. Jacques Namin. "But she is suffering from a very acute nervous depression and we have had to isolate her completely."

He has been on a separate hunting vacation in southwest France and left there this morning, presumably to hurry to Brigitte's bedside.

Brigitte and Charrier were married last year. They have one son, Nicholas, now eight months old.

Two days ago Brigitte was reported to have told friends she had definitely decided to divorce Charrier.

Charrier said: "I believe she still loves me."

RAIL UNIONS SET U.K. STRIKE FOR OCT. 17

LONDON (Reuters)—Union leaders today called for a nation-wide railroad strike Oct. 17 following rejection of a pay demand.

About 450,000 men on the state-run lines are involved.

The strike call to all affiliated unions was by leaders of the National Union of Railwaymen and the Railway Shopmen's Council of the Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions.

The British Transport Commission refused Wednesday to go beyond its offer of a three per cent increase for 110,000 workers in railroad workshops, backdated to January.

The unions asked for another two per cent for the workshops' 50,000 skilled workers.

IWA Blasts Immigration

VANCOUVER (CP)—The International Woodworkers of America (CLC) has condemned the "luring" of new immigrants to Canada during a time of unemployment.

"Shipping companies are still advertising in other countries for immigrants to come to Canada on a pretext there are a lot of jobs available for all trades," delegates said in a resolution.

Murder Suspect at Essondale

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 19-year-old girl charged with the murder Sept. 21 of a Cariboo rancher has been committed to the Provincial Mental Hospital at nearby Essondale.

Columbia Hearings In About Two Months

First hearings on plans for Columbia River hydro development are expected in about two months, water comptroller A. F. Paget said today.

Mr. Paget flew home early from Ottawa to brief Lands and Forests Minister Ray Willis today on the agreement reached at the international talks held there this week.

This morning he had a session with the minister to give him details of a progress report to Ottawa and B.C. governments by the negotiators.

The agreement sets out a basis for sharing hydro benefits in the U.S. after Canada starts building a series of dams to control flow of the river.

First step, said Mr. Paget, is under the Water Act, to lift reserves placed on portions of the Columbia involved.

First area is expected to be the Arrow Lakes, where a $66-million storage dam will be built.

An application for a water licence by B.C. Hydro, which will develop the river, and a host of technical details still must be worked out before the project goes ahead, said Mr. Paget.

"There is a lot of work yet to be done," said Mr. Paget.

These would be dealt with at the public hearings.

Residents of the Kootenays have indicated they will probably be the main objectors—to building the Arrow Lakes Dam.

KHRUSHCHEV HECKLES MACMILLAN

Be Calm U.K. Leader Advises UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Prime Minister Macmillan urged the United Nations today to make a calm, reasoned approach to disarmament.

His speech was interrupted by angry heckling from Premier Khrushchev and the Communist bloc.

At one point the Soviet premier leaped to his feet, scowling, and shouted in Russian at the British leader as Macmillan was presenting a major statement of Western objectives.

"I would like to have a translation of those words."

It was learned later that Khrushchev said: "We are always in favor of controls for a disarmament program." Macmillan had described his plan as "not in any sense a proposal to institute control without disarmament"—a frequent Soviet objection to Western schemes for reducing arms.

When Macmillan raised a point about the breakup of the Paris summit conference last May, Khrushchev wiggled a finger at him and shouted in Russian:

Biggest Ovation to Date

Macmillan received the biggest ovation so far in this historic 15th assembly session. Khrushchev and the Soviet bloc sat glumly and silently throughout the stormy applause. Then the Soviet premier strode out of the assembly hall.

Khrushchev and Macmillan were to meet later today in a private conference.

It was the first time the head of any delegation—let alone the head of a government—ever had risen to his feet in the General Assembly during a fellow leader's address to heckle or protest. Assembly delegates seemed shocked.

Stalking out of the hall after the Macmillan address, Khrushchev brusquely brushed reporters aside, snapping: "I will give my comment when the time comes."

MacMillan was presenting a three-stage program designed to prepare the way for gradual political action toward resumed arms negotiation and agreement.

HOPES FOR SUMMIT

The British leader also raised the suggestion that the world's people hoped the break at Paris would be just temporary and there might be another try at a summit meeting of the heads of state.

The prime minister said Britain "will gladly allow" any form of inspection and control that is acceptable to the Soviet Union.

Macmillan praised UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's "energy and resourcefulness and, above all, his integrity" and said the Soviet bloc's proposals to replace the secretary-general by a three-man committee would be unacceptable to most members.

The Communist bloc greeted this in the same way it had responded previously to a Hammarskjold speech—thumping their desks in a gesture of protest. Khrushchev joined lustily in the table pounding.

Macmillan asked the assembly to set up a board of technical experts—scientific, military and administrative — to prepare a report within a reasonably brief period to provide the basis for a calm approach to the arms problem.

"This practical procedure is not in any sense a proposal to institute control without disarmament," Macmillan said, hitting at Khrushchev's prin-

'Masterful' Says Dief

Diefenbaker declared:

"It was a masterful speech delivered with all the power of his own experience in two world wars and his desire to do what he can to save mankind from itself."

Mac, Nikita Meet Tonight

NEW YORK (CP) — Nikita Khrushchev meets tonight with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan amid signs he intends to stay on another week as leader of the Soviet delegation at the United Nations.

His talk with Macmillan marks the first summit level East-West discussions since mid-May when the Paris summit parley blew up in an angry dispute over the U-2 plane incident.

Mobutu Wins Recognition

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — President Joseph Kasavubu today formally recognized Col. Joseph Mobutu's council of government commissioners as the provisional government.

Kasavubu officially installed the group of 27 college-graduate technicians set up by Mobutu, the army chief of staff, after his bloodless coup d'etat two weeks ago against the infant African republic's warring politicians.

French Actress Found in Coma

The St. Francis Neurological Clinic in Nice said she slashed her wrists with a razor blade and took an overdose of sleeping tablets. It described her condition as "rather alarming" when she was brought in.

"Now she is much better and I think should make a fairly rapid recovery," said the clinic director, Dr. Jacques Namin. "But she is suffering from a very acute nervous depression and we have had to isolate her completely."

He has been on a separate hunting vacation in southwest France and left there this morning, presumably to hurry to Brigitte's bedside.

Brigitte and Charrier were married last year. They have one son, Nicholas, now eight months old.

Two days ago Brigitte was reported to have told friends she had definitely decided to divorce Charrier.

Charrier said: "I believe she still loves me."

RAIL UNIONS SET U.K. STRIKE FOR OCT. 17

LONDON (Reuters)—Union leaders today called for a nation-wide railroad strike Oct. 17 following rejection of a pay demand.

About 450,000 men on the state-run lines are involved.

The strike call to all affiliated unions was by leaders of the National Union of Railwaymen and the Railway Shopmen's Council of the Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions.

The British Transport Commission refused Wednesday to go beyond its offer of a three per cent increase for 110,000 workers in railroad workshops, backdated to January.

The unions asked for another two per cent for the workshops' 50,000 skilled workers.

U.S. Advises Citizens To Quit Cuba

NEW YORK (UPI) — The United States has started advising its nationals to leave Cuba, it was reported today.

Teams from the U.S. embassy in Havana have visited American residents privately to counsel them to ship their dependents out immediately, and to leave themselves unless vital business requires them to stay.

The advisory would apply to an estimated 2,000 American civilians living in Greater Havana.

However, it was not known whether it applied to the six thousand American families living on the great U.S. naval base at Guantanamo, in eastern Oriente Province.

The embassy advice was understood to be based on the rapidly deteriorating diplomatic and internal political situation in Cuba.

The Cuban government has expelled four embassy attaches in as many weeks and arrested and harassed at least three others, ignoring their diplomatic status.

Repeated U.S. protests have either been ignored or received and filed by minor Cuban diplomatic functionaries without reply.

Power Agreement Means 'Delay or Death' to Peace

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ray Perrault, British Columbia Liberal leader, forecast today that United States-Canada agreement on development of the Columbia River will mean either "delay or death" for the proposed private development of the Peace River.

He said the domestic power market isn't big enough to take huge amounts of electricity from both projects. Low-cost power from the publicly-developed Columbia would take precedence and the Peace River Power Development Company would have to export to survive.

"But there doesn't seem to be any indication from Ottawa that the federal government has changed its traditional opposition to power exports," he said.

NEED BOTH SCHEMES

An official connected with the Peace development didn't agree.

"We have consistently advocated that both the Columbia River and Peace River power would be required to meet the demand for electrical energy in B.C. and the Pacific Northwest during the next 20 to 25 years," said W. C. Mainwaring, president of Peace River Power.

Meanwhile community leaders in the Arrow Lake Valley in southeastern B.C. said they will continue to fight construction of a proposed dam at Castlegar on High Arrow Lake, a section of the Columbia.

This dam and another at Mica Creek are reported to have top priority when hydro-electric development of the river on the Canadian side begins.

"The High Arrow dam will result in flooding the Arrow Lake Valley and destroy all our arable land," said Mayor Walter Hardman of Revelstoke. "We can't grow anything on mountains."

"No country would be committed to implementing any of the measures which the technical experts might suggest in the various fields until there was subsequent agreement about the disarmament measures related to the system of control. Of course, if confidence is to be maintained it is obvious that control must be concurrent with disarmament and that it must be effective."

Macmillan's proposal on armaments contained three major points for getting negotiations started. The first stage would be the appointment of the board of experts.

First is the problem of preventing "extension of armaments, of preventing the situation from becoming worse." He referred specifically to the use of space for military purposes and the need to halt manufacture of nuclear materials for military purposes.

Second, he said, is the problem of guarding against surprise attack.

"This is what all governments are afraid of," he said. "It would be an immense relief if people all over the world, including the admirals and the generals, could sleep more soundly in their beds."

Third, he said, is the task of gradually "reducing to a minimum all forms of armaments." He said this problem is complicated but technical experts should be able to tell what measures of inspection and control would be effective for all countries.

Gov't Troops Recapture Laos Town

VIENTIANE (Reuters) — Laotian government troops, backed by pro-Communist guerrillas, have recaptured the Northern Laotian town of Sam Neua from right-wing rebels opposed to the new neutralist government of this strategic Indochinese kingdom.

The capture of the town came as army leaders met in the royal capital of Luang Prabang for talks aimed at ending the three-cornered civil war in Laos.

SURPRISE TURNABOUT BY UN STEERING COMMITTEE

Debate on Congo Crisis Scheduled

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Africa was assured top billing in the UN General Assembly as the assembly steering committee moved to place 10 African issues on the session's bulging agenda.

The 21-nation committee voted in quick succession Wednesday night to schedule assembly debate on the Congo issue and rival proposals by the United States and Russia designed to win the friendship of the new African member states.

Earlier, the committee approved debate on such perennial items as the race situation in South Africa, Algerian independence and a number of trusteeship questions.

With 15 new African nations already taken into the UN fold and Nigeria due to become the 99th member, probably next week, 25 African members will have a voice in the debates.

A TURNABOUT

After a surprise turnabout by the West, the committee decided in 10 minutes Wednesday night to call for debate on the Congo question over which it had wrangled for more than an hour the previous night.

U.S. Ambassador James Wadsworth said he was not opposing the Congo's inclusion on the agenda since Russia had agreed to a suggestion by Ceylon to modify the title of the item to "the situation in the Republic of the Congo."

A new East-West clash was foreseen in the assembly when the rival U.S. and Soviet items on Africa reach the floor.

FIVE-POINT PROGRAM

The U.S. proposal puts before the assembly the five-point program for aid to the new countries of Africa outlined by President Eisenhower in his assembly speech last Thursday.

It would counter a Soviet item calling for granting of independence to colonial countries and peoples. Soviet Premier Khrushchev called for this in his speech before the assembly last Friday.

Ex-Nazi Criminal Suspect Grilled

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — A one-armed man suspected of being Martin Bormann, Hitler's long-missing deputy, was being questioned by Argentine police here today. The suspect gave the name of Walter Flegel.

Interior Minister Alfredo Vitolo told a TV audience Wednesday night that the suspect obviously was a German and had most of the missing Nazi's physical characteristics.

There were two big differences. The captured man appeared to be about 48 years old, whereas Bormann would be 60. The Martin Bormann of Hitler's day had both arms, while the man held here has had an arm amputated.

Bormann has been one of the most sought of the Nazi hierarchy. During the Nuernberg trials in 1946, Hitler's chauffeur, Rich Kempka, testified that he fled with Bormann from the bunker where Hitler died.

Kempka said a bazooka hit a tank they were walking beside and before he fell unconscious he saw Bormann collapse in the flames.

Bormann was chief of Hitler's chancellery and was directly linked with the operation of the concentration camps.

Bormann was tried in abstentia as a major war criminal in 1946 and sentenced to be hanged.

Missile Falls Short

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) —An air force attempt to fire a Titan missile 10,000 miles fell far short of its goal today when the second stage engines shut down too soon. The air force said the missile's dummy warhead flew more than 6,000 statute miles down the Atlantic missile range but landed far off target.

Elson Gets New Post

NEW YORK (CP) — Robert T. Elson, general manager of Life Magazine, has been appointed chief of the London news bureau of Time Incorporated, which published Time magazine and Life. He assumes his new post in December.

Lake Ships Collide

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) —The Great Lakes freighters Chicago Tribune and Chenango II collided in light fog in the St. Clair River today.

The U.S. Coast Guard said no one was injured but damage was suffered by both vessels.

Ex-Superintendent Of Royal Jubilee Dies

Funeral will be held in Vancouver Saturday for Dr. Edward Mountjoy Pearse, 87, former medical superintendent of Royal Jubilee Hospital here and former medical officer in charge of Rest Haven military convalescent hospital at Sidney after the First World War.

He died Tuesday in Shaughnessy Military Hospital.

Born in England, he received his medical degree from Bristol University and served as a surgeon in South Africa during the Boer War, moving to Victoria in 1912.

Dr. Pearse again went overseas as a war-time surgeon after a brief period of general practice. On his return, he was appointed medical officer in charge of Rest Haven until it closed in 1919.

RE-ESTABLISHMENT

He became unit medical director in charge of hospitals on Vancouver Island under the soldiers civil re-establishment, now the Veterans' Affairs Department. Three years later he was appointed medical superintendent at Royal Jubilee, a post he held for 12 years until his retirement.

Touring the Orient and Mediterranean with his wife, Edith, he was in Britain at the outbreak of the Second World War. Dr. Pearse took charge of a wing at St. Martin's Hospital in Bath and stayed in England until 1952.

He had lived with a daughter, Mrs. Herbert W. Riggs, since then. The widow, Edith, and a son, Allan, of Toronto, also survive.

Labor Staff Earns Praise Of Minister

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks—still in office after his election defeat — appeared Wednesday night in Victoria to chair a banquet for national labor officials.

Mr. Wicks did not attend opening sessions of the conference of the Canadian Association of Administrators of Labor Legislation.

Welcoming speech was given instead by Provincial Secretary Wesley Black.

Premier Bennett has not yet appointed Mr. Wicks' successor.

However, until he resigns, the defeated Dewdney MLA is still minister.

Mr. Wicks in addressing the banquet, paid tribute to "the fine staff which has been so much help to me" during his term of office.

Dentistry Budget Plan Possibility

A "drill now, pay later" dental budgeting plan expected in Vancouver probably will be extended to Victoria.

Dr. R. L. Horne, president of Victoria Dental Society, said considerable study of the budget plan has been given under chairmanship of Dr. T. W. James "and it's possible here if a non-profit organization is set up to administer it."

Most of the 350 dentists in the Vancouver area are expected to join a pilot scheme that has been operating there for 18 months with 50 dentists participating.

Under the plan, a prospective patient's credit rating is checked out by a bank. If satisfactory, the bank pays the dentist's bill and the patient repays the bank on an installment basis with the normal bank interest.

Dr. Sheppard Margolese, chairman of the Vancouver budget-plan committee, said the scheme is designed to offer patients high-class dental care on a finacial basis they can handle. He said many put off needed dental work because they are unable to make a lump-sum payment of bills which can reach $200.
